SENATOR McCORMICK IS DEAD

LIFELESS BODY FOUND WHEN HOTEL APARTMENT DOOR IS BROKEN DOWN

Attending Physician Announces Death of Illinois Republican Leader Was Due to "Gastric Hemorrhage," as News Proves Shock in Political and Social Circles of Capital.

SERVED AS MEMBER OF UPPER HOUSE SINCE 1918; DEFEATED LAST YEAR

Despite Failure to Win Re-nomination in Primaries, he had Not Intended to Retire to Private Life and Was Under Consideration for Appointment as Ambassador to Paris.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—United States Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, one of the Republican leaders of the senate, died suddenly today in his hotel here from what physicians described as a "gastric hemorrhage."

He was found dead in bed at 10 a. m. by hotel employes who went to his room and broke down the door after telephone rings for McCormick were unanswered.

McCormick was 47 years old and had served in the senate since 1918. He was born in Chicago, May 16, 1877, the son of Robert S. and Katherine Medill McCormick, and was graduated from Yale in 1900.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ruth McCormick, daughter of the late Mark Hanna, and three children.

Wife On Way to Capital.

Physicians said McCormick had been dead about an hour when the body was discovered at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. McCormick is enroute here from Chicago, having accompanied Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, there when the latter's baby was born.

Senator McCormick was up and around shortly after 8 o'clock this morning but after that he did not answer several phone calls which came for him. Unable to secure any answer, W. H. Barse, the hotel manager, went to McCormick's room about 9:45 o'clock and opening the door he found Senator McCormick undressed and in bed, apparently dead.

Barse immediately called in Dr. Noble Barnes who reported that Senator McCormick had died of a gastric hemmorrhage. Barse then notified McCormick's secretary and several of his friends and colleagues, including Representative Nicholas Longworth, who immediately came to the hotel.

Health Believed Good

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, one of McCormack's closest friends, was advised that the discovery of the body was brought about by William Hard, a newspaper correspondent who called at the hotel to keep an appointment with McCormick.

At the time of his death McCormick was generally believed to be in good health and the news of his death occasioned great surprise throughout political and social circles in the capital.

Formally advised of McCormick's death by his colleague, Senator Mc-

LABOR HONORS LATE LEADER

Homage Paid at Funeral of Late J. J. Weisend.

Labor, representatives of the Democratic party, lodgemen and friends joined with bereaved relatives in paying homage to the memory of the late J. J. Weisend, aged 70, veteran union and political leader, when funeral services were held at 9 o'clock this morning in St. Ann's Catholic church, East End. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. S. F. Cappe.

Seventy five members of the carpenters' union, with which Mr. Weisend had been identified for 37 years and of which he had served as president, were among the large crowd which taxed the capacity of the church.

Numerous floral emblems attested the popularity of the man who had been president of Trades and Labor council and had been honored with the city as well as the county chairmanship of the Democratic party, in which he had been active for 40 years.

Father Cappe, in the funeral sermon, lauded Mr. Weisend as "a good citizen, Christian and loving father, a man who practiced the golden rule."

Burial was made in St. Aloysius cemetery.

SEEKS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Robert McHenry, local auto dealer, has been made the defendant in a $10,000 damage suit, brought in common pleas court by George Christ, local Greek, as the result of an automobile accident at the corner of Broadway and Fifth stret, November 27th, 1924.

Christ, who was struck by a machine driven by McHenry as he was attempting to cross the street at the postoffice corner, alleges that he suffered a fractured leg which caused him to remain in the city hospital for five weeks.

His petition asserts that his hospital and medical bills amounted to $210.88 and that since the accident he has been left a cripple. The plaintiff is represented by the law firm, Lones, Hill and Davidson.

By the use of the thermonic valve it has been possible, they said, to overcome almost completely any atmospheric disturbances. They believe it will take no longer than five minutes to complete a trans-Atlantic connection when the system is perfected.

OHIO ASSEMBLY URGED TO PASS E. LIVERPOOL COURT MEASURE

Chamber of Commerce Committee Goes to Columbus.

EMMONS' PLAN

State Senate Approves Ashtabula and Canton Bills.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, headed by Attorney William S. Fouiks, left last evening for Columbus, where they will seek to hurry action by the code committee on the proposed bill, establishing a municipal court in East Liverpool.

The bill, introduced in the house of representatives about ten days ago by State Representative Ralph O. Emmons, has not yet been reported for a second reading. The committee will seek to have an early hearing on the bill in order to rush its passage.

The senate yesterday approved a bill providing for a municipal court for the city of Ashtabula. The bill is identical with the measure vetoed by the governor two years ago. It now goes to the governor for approval or rejection.

A measure looking toward the establishment of a municipal court in Canton has already passed the senate and been sent to the house.

Appell Arranges To Pay His Fine And is Released

Daum S. Appell, Liverpool township man, who was committed to the county jail early in January upon his failure to pay a $2,000 fine assessed against him by Mayor Charles Brown, of this city, for a liquor law violation, has been released.

Appell's friends paid $200 and the costs of the fine and an agreement was entered into whereby the balance will be paid in installments. The county commissioners consented to Appell's release upon the recommendation of Mayor Brown.

Appell was arrested after local police and special officers found a still and a large quantity of corn liquor, mash and other supplies at his home on the Camp ground road between East Liverpool and Wellsville.

ROAD PROBLEM TOPIC AT MEET

Meeting of a special committee, named to represent the Chamber of Commerce at a hearing before representatives of the state highway commission, at Lisbon, tomorrow, relative to the route of the East Liverpool-Youngstown inter-county highway was held in the Chamber's rooms in the Little building this afternoon.

The hearing will open at 10 o'clock. Four routes for the road between Clarkson and East Liverpool have been suggested. The Chamber of Commerce Committee will advocate the designation of one of the proposed Bell School House routes, either via Clarkson or via the Russell road and Cope Hollow.

Chicago Girl, 17, Kills Her Father In Defense of Honor

Unrepentent, She Tells Police She Fired Five Shots Into His Body When he Attempted to Attack Her.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Rose De Petro, 17, today shot and instantly killed her father, John De Perio, in their home here, when, she told police, her father for the second time within a week, attempted to attack her.

The girl fired five shots from a small caliber revolver into her father's body.

Dark-eyed and unrepentent, Rose told her story hysterically to police.

Her father, aged 45, and father of six children, she said, was a cement worker, employed at night.

Her Story of Attack.

"A week ago he returned home," Rose sobbed. "When mother was out of the room, he seized me. I fought and fought as hard as I could and finally I broke away from him.

"This morning he sat at the table while I was ironing. He was drinking wine and he kept watching me. Moth-

$750,000 BLAZE IS UNSOLVED DESPITE STATE AGENTS' PROBE

No Evidence of Incendiarism Found by Investigators.

CONTINUE QUIZ

"We are Still Working on Case," Declare Fire Marshals.

East Liverpool's $750,000 fire, which destroyed a section of the Fifth street business district early Sunday morning, will go down in municipal annals as unsolved, it was indicated today.

A 48-hour investigation by state and city officials has failed to reveal the origin of the blaze.

No Evidence of Incendiarism.

Although two deputy state fire marshals were still working on the case today, no evidence has been found up to the noon hour which would indicate that the blaze was of incendiary origin, it was announced. Several persons questioned have been unable to furnish any definite information.

Mrs. Samuel Breakstone, owner of the National Wholesale Millinery store, in the Milligan building, where Fire Chief Bryan says the blaze appears to have originated, complying with a request of Fire Marshals D. J. Connor, Youngstown, and T. Hayes White of Toronto, yesterday afternoon made her second visit to the Central fire station within 24 hours.

"We are still working on the case," Deputy White said shortly before noon today. "We have found no evidence which might implicate any one."

Raze Milligan Walls.

Records at Central fire station reveal that the Breakstone family has been unfortunate in fires. Four times within 10 years—thrice in their store and once in their home—they have suffered damage from fire. On June 5, 1915, when the company occupied a

Albert Kinney's Car Wrecked Near New Cumberland.

A five passenger Paige brougham, owned by Albert Kinney, 812 Division street, which was stolen last night while parked on Sixth street, was found in fire ruins at the foot of an 150-foot embankment near New Cumberland, W. Va., today.

The car, which was valued at $2,500, was stolen between 10 o'clock and midnight. It had been parked near the corner of Jackson and Sixth streets.

The theft was reported to the local police and a description of the machine was sent to adjoining cities. Belief was expressed today that the car was abandoned on the road side and then pushed over the embankment where it caught fire.

KING GEORGE IS MUCH IMPROVED

LONDON, Feb. 25—King George was so much improved today that physicians announced that he might be able to leave his room in Buckingham palace within a few days.

Orders have been issued for the Royal Yacht, Victoria and Albert, to be ready by March 9 for the cruise ordered by his majesty's physicians. Just how long the king will remain in Southern European waters is uncertain, but his physicians will not permit his return until the bronchial affection from which he is suffering has disappeared.

The Prince of Wales is keeping in touch daily with his father, but is absent from London. He is absorbed in hunting and spends most of his time at Melton and Mowbray.

GAYETIES AND INDISCRETIONS OF CAPITAL'S SOCIAL LIFE WILL BE REVEALED IN SCOTT DIVORCE SUIT

BY GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Working quietly, and with grim determination, Mrs. Edna Scott is in Washington today with two lawyers, getting dozens of depositions concerning the gayeties and indiscretions of the capital's social life. She will present them in broadside fashion to the Alpena, Mich., court on March 10, when it resumes hearing the divorce suit brought by her husband, Representative Frank Scott.

Even more startling evidence than that which rocked social circles of the capital some weeks ago has been quietly gathered here by Mrs. Scott, it was said today.

When the case is resumed, Mrs. Scott will be fortified with documents, it was said today, to substantiate her charges that congress is filled with dry voters and wet drinkers.

Mrs. Scott has been hidden here for two weeks, seeing only her lawyers, Ward H. Peck, of Detroit, and J. J. Wilson of Washington.

Evidence of Famous Junket.

Most of the evidence being gathered has to do with the now famous junket to Panama in the spring of 1921. Mrs. Scott testified at the opening of the trial that on this trip there was a general indulgence in liquors by dry Congressmen.

Mrs. Scott and Peck, following a conference with their most important Washington witness both affirmed their intention of continuing the legal fight along the line already developed.

"At the outset of this case," Peck declared, "there was no idea of bringing in outside personalities. Mr. Scott, however, sought to disparage Mrs. Scott's friends by comparison with his own, and further, those friends of his injected themselves into the case against us.

"The depositions we are now taking come purely as a defense against charges made by Mr. Scott relative to Mrs. Scott's conduct and her selection of friends. We have been forced into it, and we shall see it through."

At Alpena, Scott assailed his wife's army friends, most of whom were in the air service. Mrs. Scott replied, in effect, that congressmen were "higher fliers" than aviators.

The depositions taken bear upon the activities aboard the army transport Cristobal, which conveyed the 1921 junketeers to and from Panama. This vessel is said to have made the outgoing trip in a quiet decorous manner befitting the passenger list, but according to the charges, it returned in a comparative state of hilarity.

It was on the return trip of the Cristobal, Mrs. Scott said, that a Kansas congressman made a midnight tour of the ship's staterooms toting a pitcher containing the ingredients for a good nightcap.

Meanwhile, the congress, which so unwillingly has figured in the sensational Scott case, is preparing to adjourn.

New allegations and charges to be brought out on March 10 will have to be faced, not in official Washington with its convenient storm cellars, but at the home fireside, in the midst of constituents who endorse or veto at will the question of a congressman's continuance in Washington.

"He got up and went into the bedroom—the next room—to lie down.

"Then he called to me.

"'Come here a minute, Rose,' he said.

"'Come here and kiss me,' he said.

"I knew what that meant and I started to run away.

"He jumped and grabbed me and we fought about the bedroom. Soon we were near a dresser and I remembered there was a gun in the drawer. While he was holding me and trying to kiss me, I reached back and got hold of it. I put it close to him and shot. He fell back a little ways and I shot again and again and again.

Police Investigate.

"I don't know how many times I fired but when things cleared up, father was lying there at my feet, bleeding and very still.

"I stooped over and touched him and called to him, but he didn't answer. I wasn't sorry but I wanted to know if there was anything I could do for him. Finally, I decided he was dead and I left the room and closed the door.

"I went out of the house an walked. I must have gone quite a ways when I decided I'd have to tell police. So I came in here. And that's all, I guess."

The girl was booked on a temporary charge while police conducted an investigation.

BABY SLAYER URGES CHANCE FOR DAUGHTER

"I Don't Care What Becomes of Me," Says Blanche Tobias.

SCORES FAMILY

Attorneys Will Fight Proposed Commitment to Asylum.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 25.—"I don't care what becomes of me, but I want my little girl to have a fair chance—the chance I never had," Mrs. Blanche Tobias, girl wife, who goes on trial today on a manslaughter charge as a result of her self-confessed strangling of her baby son, declared at the county jail.

Mrs. Tobias confessed that she strangled the baby at the county infirmary October 25. Her daughter, for whom she expressed concern, is 19 months of age and an inmate of the county infirmary.

"Whatever happens I don't want the Tobias family to have my baby," she added.

While the mother expressed her unconcern, her attorneys were preparing to combat plans of the state to commit her to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

"We will fight to the last against this proposal," Judge W. E. Weygandt, one of the defense counsel, announced today. "Our investigation of the case has shown nothing to warrant committing Mrs. Tobias to the State hospital. Everything we have dug up has shown that Mrs. Tobias' past life has been normal, and we are going to introduce testimony to convince the jury that this is true."

Prosecutor J. O. Fritz declared today that he would ask that Mrs. Tobias be sent to the Lima institution, but that if his efforts failed, he would place evidence before the jury relating to the strangling of the child.

Mrs. Tobias, at the time of the baby's death, first told authorities that she strangled it because her husband denied he was the father of the baby, and she thought it "wouldn't have a chance."

Women's organizations throughout the state have interested themselves in providing for her defense.

store room in the Ikirt building, a blaze resulted. Another fire occurred on July 22, 1919, when the store was located in the Milligan building, but no damage resulted. The Breakstone dwelling 1606 Pennsylvania avenue, was slightly damaged on Oct. 30, 1920.

Razing of the ruined walls of the Milligan building and the clearing of the alleys in the fire area was under way today. The walls of the Wasbutzky building, occupied by the Moyer Brothers store, still stand, pending a report of insurance adjusters. None of the fire victims has made definite plans for rebuilding.

Sunday's blaze caused less damage to telephones in the business district than any other big fire of any importance in the history of the city, officials of the Ohio Bell Telephone company said. Except for the telephones, which were located in the ruined buildings, only about a dozen lines were put out of commission and these were restored early Monday morning.

Most of the telephones in the business district are connected with an underground cable which is laid through Diamond alley, and this was not damaged by the fire.

Wood's Valet Sails As Bankrupt Boss Awaits Trip Funds

PARIS, Feb. 25—Chang, for four years valet to Lieut. Osborne Butler Wood before Wood's abrupt departure from Paris after heavy losses at Biarritz gaming tables, departed today for Manila, alone and much broken up.

Tears streamed down the Chinese's wrinkled cheeks as he climbed into a third class compartment of a Marseilles train. He refused to eat before his departure.

"What I tell General?" he asked, plaintively, referring apparently to Major General Leonard Wood, father of Osborne Wood, and Governor-General of the Phillippines. "General say, 'Chang, you very bad servant. You no take care Osborne.' How I explain not my fault?"

Wood was reported today to be in Madrid, awaiting the arrival from friends of funds with which to pay his passage back to the United States.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—There was considerable unsettlement in the stock market in the early trading today. Further liquidations from outside points in the oil and industrial stocks resulted in heavy offerings of active stocks in these groups and price trends were lower. This outside selling was due in part to the effect of the five per cent. Call loan rate which was put into effect at the close of Tuesday's session. There were a few exceptions to the rule but mostly in the public utility stocks and specialties. Shifting out of the oils caused some heaviness in that section of the market.

Speculative attention turned again to the railroad stocks and good buying appeared all through this list. Chicago, Great Western common and preferred, Chicago and Alton, New Haven, and St. Paul were the leaders in the low priced rails, while Atchison, Lehigh Valley, Reading and Southern Railway led the dividend stocks. The Van Sweringen stocks were in good demand at top prices: Rock Island made a better showing than in the last two sessions and St. Paul preferred returned to 22½ up to 3 points from the low of last break. Buying of St. Paul was accompanied by rumors that a favorable statement relative to the roads refunding problem would be issued by Mr. Bryam this week and that it was unlikely that the road would be forced into receivership.

The equipment stocks were the next to resume theid forward movement. American Locomotive advancing 2 points to 132¼. American Car and Foundry up 2; Baldwin up 2 and Lima Locomotive fractionally higher.

Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent., compared with the five per cent rate in effect at Tuesday's close. Grain markets were reactionary at the start but cotton continued the improvement noted in yesterday's session. The midweek steel trade reviews reported fresh buying as spring approaches but a slight decline in operation of steel mills. Tthe steel corporation is running at 93½ per cent. of capacity compared with 95 per cent, two weeks ago, according to the Iron Trade Review.

Columbia Gas was the most active of the public utility stocks and reached a new high for the year above 50 on good buying. Radio corporation and Savage Arms continued their advance and corn products was active at slightly higher prices. United States Steel and the Independent steel stocks were reactionary and oil stocks lost further ground in the second hour.

Senator McCormick

Kinley, the senate adopted resolutions of regret and adjourned for the day.

Rumors that McCormick might have taken his own life was dispelled when it was announced that the district coroner was prepared to issue a certificate of death from natural causes.

Despite his defeat for renomination in the last Illinois primaries, McCormick had not intended to retire to private life and was under consideration for appointment as United States ambassador to Paris or some other important European post.

As a member of the senate foreign relations committee, McCormick came into prominence during the famous league of nations fight. He was enrolled among the irreconcillables, who opposed ratification of the Versailles treaty under any consideration.

Accused Poisoner Of Two Brothers Awaits Her Fate

MRS. BERNICE DAY, DYING, BLAMES MOTHER-IN-LAW FOR LOSS OF LOVE

Pretty Wife Who Disfigured Son of Chicago Millionaire Says Husband's Mother Shattered Their Romance.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Bernice Day, who swallowed a poison potion after throwing acid in the face of her husband, Darby Day Jr., son of the Chicago millionaire, was in a critical condition today. Physicians said her recovery was doubtful.

Caroline Lundstrom, the wife's sister, for whom a warrant was issued charging her with "aiding and abetting" the acid attack, surrendered and was released in the custody of her mother.

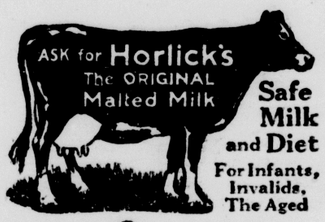

Young Day, who may lose the sight of one eye and suffer fearful facial diffigurements from acid burns, was under the care of specialists, employed at the instance of his wealthy father, reported hurrying to his son's bedside.

In a note to her husband written shortly before the alleged attack, Mrs. Day charged their romance had been shattered by "too much mother-in-law".

"Mothers-in-law should not live with young married people", the girl wrote.

Mrs. Day, Jr., said to be the daughter of a wealthy contractor now in Miami, Fla., told her sister Caroline, according to Mrs. Lindstrom's story to police, that her mother-in-law had "made things so unpleasant" for her she could not be happy.

BULLET WOUNDS PROVE FATAL

Mrs. Michael Desmo Dies; Three are Held by Police.

Mrs. Michael Desmo, 35 years old, who was shot down in the doorway of her home in Broadway Sunday night, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the East Liverpool hospital, her death marking the second fatality in the Sunday double shooting.

As a result of the woman's death, Tony Scarbino, who Monday was placed under a bond of $10,000 by Mayor J. S. Barnes, on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, was re-arrested last night and locked up. The charge will be changed to that of murder in the first degree, according to police authorities here.

Fred Long and Dominick Strathers, arrested in Lisbon by Patrolman Roy Lewton on information filed by local police, will also face charges of murder in the first degree, Chief of Police John Fultz announced today. They are in jail here as a result of Mrs. Desmo's death.

According to police information, an automobile drove into Broadway on Sunday night shortly after 9:30 o'clock. It stopped on the side of the street opposite the Desmo home. An occupant of the car stepped out, crossed the street and rapped on the door of the residence, it is reported. When Mrs. Desmo opened the door, the man discharged a revolver at her and then stepped back. A shotgun, it is believed, was fired from the automobile.

Authorities at first did not expect Mrs. Desmo's wounds to result fatally. Coroner J. M. VanFossan of East Palestine, will conduct an inquest over the body this afternoon at the D. N. McLean morgue here.

Funeral services for Rocco Venzetto, killed Sunday afternoon, were held from the Immaculate Conception church this morning.

Long, Strathers and Scarbino are expected to get hearings tomorrow before Mayor James S. Barnes.

Scarbino has retained Attorney W. A. O'Grady for his defense. Strathers and Long will be represented by Attorney James E. O'Grady.

NORMANDY FOUR TO GIVE CONCERT

The Normandy Singers and Bell Ringers, under the management of Colt-Aber Bureaus, of Cleveland, will give a concert on Monday evening, March 2, in the high school auditorium, school officials announced today.

The Normandy Singers are four young men, each of whom has acquired considerable vocal prominence. They are not only musical, but musically amusing as well, for there is fun on their program, neatly sandwiched in between their vocal and bell numbers.

In the bell ringing work the Normandy boys are at their best. They have perhaps the finest set of English hand-bells in existence. The peal of 100 bells was manufactured by John Taylor & Co., of Loughborough, Leicestershire, England, costing $2,500. They are said to be unequalled for constancy of tone, pitch, resonance and tonal quality. Their special number, "A Sunday Morning in London," is a feature of the program.

Pullman Surcharges

In the good old days the Pullman car business was quite simple, as far as passengers were concerned. The passenger paid his fare, at the current rate per mile for transportation, regardless of whether he was to be carried in a coach or a parlor or sleeping car. Then, if he wanted the more comfortable accommodation of the Pullman, he paid a set price for that, also based on distance. The Pullman people got the Pullman money and settled with the railroads for hauling their cars.

For several years now there has been a war-time "surcharge" of 50 per cent added by the railroads to the fare for transportation, in the case of passengers using Pullmans. This has been expensive to patrons and also somewhat confusing.

Congress wants to eliminate the surcharge, and will deserve well of the public and probably not deal the railroads any fatal blow if it succeeds. It is said that the roads which will lose most in losing this surcharge are making plenty of money anyway—far in excess of their 5½ per cent profit quotas. It seems reasonable that the charges for straight transportation should be simple and uniform. If Pullman charges are not high enough for a fair profit, that is another question. But there doesn't seem to be much of an argument about that.

The present system, too, hits long-distance travelers—the tourist and the man who does business on a broad scale. Both of these classes should be encouraged to make more use of the railroads.

Garden Plans

A flower garden contest is scheduled for the week that ends March and begins April, to be held at the Cleveland annual flower show. Persons entering the contest apply to the floor show headquarters for a miniature model of single, double or suburban home. With a little house for a beginning, every contestant is to plan suitable surrounding gardens, lawns and hedges. Of course, there are prizes for the loveliest models. Contestants are already beginning to work on their garden plans.

It would be hard to think of a pleasanter indoor occupation for the next few weeks than this one of planning lovely gardens and suitable trees and shrubbery decorations for one's yard. Garden clubs are becoming so popular that the yards of small homes will soon be as artistically designed and arranged as great estates which employ special landscape artists.

Everyone should have some sort of a garden, if only a potted plant or window box. Much can be learned from growing plants and practically limitless satisfaction and happiness can be attained through them.

Slowing-Up Too Soon

Charles G. D. Roberts, Canadian naturalist and author, whose works are much read in the United States, said recently in a public address, "No one should allow himself to be perfectly contented before 95." Perfect contentment he considers fatal to further growth or achievement.

Possibly he was taking liberties with the dictionary meaning of "content" and "contentment," but his meaning is quite clear and reasonable. Dissatisfaction with life in general, continual fault-finding, is not what he advocates at all. But he would keep himself always "on the job," ready to recognize and accept a new task when an old one is finished, ready to see and take up new interests when old ones are exhausted, never smugly satisfied to stop most of his activities and continue only eating and sleeping.

Contentment as he means it in the advice quoted is stagnant and decay. If more people felt as he does about avoiding perfect contentment before 95, perhaps fewer persons would be shelved in their sixties.

A California scientist holds that the first man lived where Santa Barbara now stands. And when you consider the climate, it seems likely that the last man will live there.

Europe is so mad at America for trying to collect loans that it keeps right on borrowing American money.

THE NEW NEAR EAST CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A new crisis has been precipitated in the Near East by the expulsion of the ecumenical patriarch of the Greek Orthodox church from Constantinople by the Turkish Nationalist government. News of this was broadcast just about the time it became evident that filibustering and pressure of business in the senate would probably defer until next session consideration by that body of the treaty between the United States and uTrkey.

Now it has become a matter of general interest with respect to its possible effect, also, upon the Lausanne treaty recently executed between Turkey and the allies, and numerous inquiries are being made as to just what the patriachate is, what it stands for in the minds of the Greek people, and what relationship it bears to the treaty of Lausanne.

The original patriarchs were the three fathers of the Hebrew race, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. The patriarchal form of government prevailed in a state of society in which the people were not yet organized into a nation, but consisted of independent tribes, clans or families under the government of the head of the family. Later the title of patriarch was assumed by the presidents of the sanhedrim, which exercised authority over the Jews of Syria and Persia after the fall of Jerusalem. The patriarchate of Tiberias for the western Jews lasted until the year 415, and that of Babylon for the eastern Jews until 1038.

From them the term was borrowed by the Christians, who applied it to the bishops of Rome, Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch and Jerusalem. These patriarchs consecrated and supervised the archbishops and bishops within their jurisdictions, which were great metropolitan sees of much wider jurisdiction than other metropolitans.

The three earliest instances seem to be connected with a tradition of the establishment of these sees by St. Peter. These are the three which the first council of Nicaea asserts to have been recognized by ancient custom—Rome, Alexandria and Antioch. After the translation of the seat of empire to Byzantium, thenceforward called Constantinople, that see was given first metropolitan and then patriarchal rank, being ranked second only to Rome.

DATES FROM FOURTH CENTURY

The council of Constantinople in the year 381 gave the bishop of that see prerogatives next after Rome, and the council of Chalceon in 451 confirmed this, decreeing that this canon actually conferred an equality of prerogatives with Rome, still leaving the latter, however, a higher rank. Since that time Constantinople has always stood at the head of the orthodox Oriental sees, and since the sixth century its bishop has borne the title of ecumenical patriarch.

From this it will be appreciatde readily that the expulsion of the ecumenical patriarch has precisely the same effect upon the Greek church that the expulsion of the Pope would have upon the Roman Catholic church. Indeed, the situation is said to be even more emphatic than this. The patriachate is almost the one existing vestige left to the Greek people to recall to them the ancient greatness of the Byzantine empire. The office and the holder of the office bridge the gap in a curious way between modern times and the old days when the name of Greece spelled power.

For centuries Greece was under the domination of Turkey, and when in 1831 that hold was broken the patriarchate came again into the prestige of which not even Turkish oppression had been able wholly to rob it. And it is by no means true that the patriarchate has merely a political or sentimental significance. To a people as intensely religious as the Greek the office is invested with a peculiar and a sacred dignity. To touch it, to strike at it, is to strike at the Greek people at the two points upon which all peoples are most susceptible—their national honor and their religion.

By the treaty of Lausanne, Turkey agreed that the office of patriarchate should remain in Constantinople undisturbed. Quite naturally it was taken for granted by Greece that the office of patriarch included the person of the holder of the title.

Now, however, Turkey has deftly evaded the issue by expelling the patriarch and yet maintaining that the office itself remains undisturbed.

NUMEROUS QUESTIONS ARISE

The situation admittedly is a peculiar one and gives rise to numerous questions that puzzle diplomats and religious authorities. What is to be the outcome? Is there to be a patriarchate without a patriarch? Must the patriarchate be removed from Constantinople, its ancient seat? It has been stipulated by the treaty of Lausanne that it be permitted to remain there unmolested. Shall another patriarch be appointed to fill the place of the one expelled? And is there any assurance that a new patriarch would not be removed in similar fashion?

It is generally recognized that above all things Greece needs and desires peace. For ten long years, from 1912 to 1923, she knew only war, and now she is fully occupied in coping with the aftermath of those wars. Perhaps the most serious problem that engages her is that of caring for the vast refugee population that has sought a haven on her shores.

Even as it stands, the situation with respect to this is an intensely difficult one, and where it not for the generosity of the American people, expressed through various relief movements, it would have been impossible of solution. Those who are in close touch with this work say that in the circumstances it seems peculiarly unfortunate that further and entirely unnecessary aggravations and complications should develop.

There are today, it is estimated, fully 1,500,000 refugees in Greece. Of this number at least one-third, or 500,000, are destitute, and of these unfortunates 80 per cent are women and children. To save and further to absorb this vast horde of people is a burden sufficient to tax the strength of almost any country, to say nothing of a country of Greece's limited population and resources. And, too, practically all these refugees have come from Asia Minor and to them the patriarchate has been for centuries the one concrete tie that bound them to the mother country. They cannot look unmoved at the expulsion of the patriarch.

There are various doctrinal differences between the Greek and the Roman Catholic churches, as well as differences in the ritual and liturgies. Marriage is permitted to priests of the eastern church, but bishops must be unmarried.

Because of the rule of celibacy for bishops, the latter are chosen from the members of the monastic orders. These are numerous and generally follow the ancient rule of Saint Basil.

Harold's Hard Luck With His Wide Pants— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Fifth avenue struggles bravely to preserve its aristocratic air. But the truth is that rigor mortis is setting in for the avenue's aristocracy. With two 5 and 10-cent stores and three eat and run cafes of white tile from Thirty-fourth street to the Plaza the end is near.

Ten years ago the avenue strung its amber lighted way in signless austerity. There was a howl of protest when a small brass sign reading "Delmonico's" was placed inconspicuously in front of that now dead and gone cafe.

While the avenue hasn't as yet any blinking electric signs its windows and facades are plastered with gilt and brass heralds of commerce. Outside of Tiffany's and Altman's every house of trade bears a conspicuous sign.

Helen Gould's home at the corner of Forty-seventh street is the only fine old mansion left in the steady northward march of trade. Even the window boxes blooming with flowers seem today out of place in the roar and confusion.

One of the largest department stores in town now occupies a block where limousines with liveried footmen awaited grand dames on afternoon calls. Cheap-john stores are blooming in basements. And across from the cathedral is a walk up one flight and save ten dollars tailor.

There is much speculation as to just what is New York's most aristocratic street. Madison avenue lays claim to the old Murray Hill section where the Morgans and other big bankers have prevented its spoilation by business.

Park avenue with its well terraced mall offers the best possibilities, but shops are springing up there rapidly. Millionaire's Row is a name only. A dozen of the fine home that graced this strip are being torn down for ornate apartment houses.

Yet Fifth avenue continues to strut at the 5 o'clock parade hour. The anaemic young man with the chrysanthemum; the arty young lady with the swagger stick, the movie star with young ideas; the tweedy youths with monocles, and now and then the lady with the coach and four are still to be seen.

On Tenth avenue there is a row of houses occupied by clairvoyants and seers who thrive on the gullibility of those seeking a tip-off from the Beyond. It is called Fortune Telling Row. The brisk trade is after the theater at night, when chorus girls and others of the stage go there to learn of the future and what it holds. Most of them, it may be said, patronize the places more in a spirit of adventure.

Joseph Hergesheimer, James Branch Cabell, Theodore Dreiser and George Jean Nathan have all written exhaustive and critical appreciations of Lillian Gish, the movie star. Yet at a theater next door Ben Turpin was playing and the box office receipts were higher than those where Miss Gish was displaying her subtle and elusive charms.

Chaplin, if any one cares, is my favorite of all the film folk. Yet I find myself not so red hot of late in my enthusiasm. He seems to me to be doing all the old tricks over again. In fact, none of the arts so needs a new face or new gestures as the motion picture. The most enterprising and enthralling thing about the movie today is the news picture reel. A theater offering an hour of them and nothing else, I venture, could be filled at each performance.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By CHARLES LEAVELLE.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 25.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, "discoverer" of the North Pole and Arctic explorer, confined here under sentence of 14 years in the federal prison for oil stock frauds, may write a book—or, rather, another book.

The prosposed volume would contain reminiscences of his past life, anecdotes of his travels and incidents of prison life—he has been in the Tarrant county jail a year for failure to make appeal bond—interspersed with dashes of his brand of philosophy.

Dr. Cook believes book writing will help occupy his mind. He now partially manages this detail by doing all manner of fancy work. Visit him at the jail, and he will show you a mass of doilies, centerpieces, and what not, completed during his period of residence there.

The "explorer" spends hours each day at his sewing, while other inmates of the jail cluster about his chair, either to be beguiled with stories of his adventures in the far north or to absorb his philosophy of life.

And Dr. Cook's fellow prisoners are his disciples, at least as far as the philosophy is concerned. They are always ready to hear more. The "explorer" never tells the same story twice, except on request, his jailers say. He is a good story teller, too, they say.

"The dramatic way he puts them over gets under your skin," the jailers declare.

Since being imprisoned Dr. Cook has lost his mustache and much of his expensive wardrobe, but none of his dignity. But, then, he is hardly a prisoner—in the accepted sense of the word—he is more of a demi-god, for the other prisoners idolize him.

He is judge of the "kangaroo" court, presides at the head of the prison dining table and acts as a sort of counselor to the other inmates.

Dr. Cook was intensely interested in the race to Nome of dog-teams bearing antitoxin to stay the diphtheria epidemic there. He says he has traveled most of the trail taken by the mushers.

"But it was nothing more than is going on there every day," he says. "More dramatic, perhaps, but not very unusual. It is a land of heroism."

Dr. Cook's attorneys are preparing an appeal of his case to the United States supreme court. His prison sentence and fine of $12,000 were recently confirmed by the circuit of appeals at New Orleans.

Texas scientists have become excited in the belief that a mastodon lies buried near McQueeny, in Guadalupe county. Funds to finance excavations are being raised. Pieces of bone and bits of a giant tooth led to the discovery, after digging, of a 15-pound tooth.

This is the first trace of a mastodon found in Texas, although the southern portion of the state has yielded fossils and petrified remains of sea monsters and prehistoric specimens of both animal and vegetable life of the sea.

Ever since the violins of the Amatis, particularly those of Nicolas and Stradivarius, won universal applause it has been the ambition of violin makers to produce an instrument combining the tone qualities seemingly lost since the death of these two great masters. The violins of Nicolas were noted for their clear, sweet tones, and those of Stradivarius were famous for their power and breadth of tone.

W. H. Wets, aged violin maker, of this city, has produced an instrument which, experts declare, is the nearest approach they have seen to the violins of the two old makers. Wets conducted a long and careful study of Stradivarius and Nicolas violins several years ago, and he has a valuable collection of rare old instruments.

DINNER STORIES

When the Earl of Bradford was brought before the lord chancellor to be examined on the application for a statute of lunacy against him, the question was asked him from the woolsack:

"How many feet has a sheep?"

"Does your lordship," answered Lord Bradford, "mean a live sheep, or a dead sheep?"

"Is it not the same thing?" said the chancellor.

"No, my lord," returned Lord Bradford. "There is much difference; a live sheep may have four legs, a dead sheep has only two; the two forelegs are shoulders, but there are only two legs of mutton!"

The negro minister was trying to impress his hearers with the shame and remorse felt by the prodigal son, and with his desire to cast away his wicked doings:

"Dis young man got to thinking about his meanness and his misery, and he tuk off his coat and frowed it away. nd den he tuk off his vest and frowed dat away. nd den he tuk off his shirt and frowed dat away, too. And den he come to hisself."

A SHAM BATTLE

Between now and March 12 there is to be a great naval sham battle off the coast of Lower California, and it is well named "sham" battle, since no such battle will occur in future wars, just as none occurred in the late war.

Involved in the sham battle will be 30 of the battleships—not our best, we sank those—and in addition to the battleships there will be 120 other war vessels, with crews in all totaling 40,000 men. Nice target for foreign flyers!

AND "SHAM" IS THE WORD

The investment represented will amount to a billion of dollars at least.

Please note that airplanes, costing less than one-tenth of one per cent of that amount, could sink the whole fleet and call it an easy day's work.

Also, that if there were real war, the first step would be to hide our battleships, camouflaging them inside safe harbors to keep them from aerial bombers. "Sham battle" is the right name.

There will be flying machines in the sham battle, of course, if they don't fall down and drown the pilots. "Twenty squadrons of airplanes," you are told, will take part. What is a squadron? It has been testified that we have just 20 planes in all to fight. Is one plane a squadron?

And what orders will be issued to the pilots to carry out the army and navy theory that airplanes do not count in war. Will the men be told to miss the ships carefully when they start dropping imitation bombs on them?

Something must be done to protect the profits of those that build $45,000,000 battleships.

Theodore Roosevelt's letters, just published, show that Senator Lodge wrote to him from Washington on July 6, 1898, after a visit to the war department:

"I was perfectly appalled by the utter lack of efficiency, organization or plan there displayed by the head of the department."

In the same letter Lodge wrote: "How we get on as well as we do, I cannot imagine," and he says, with the self confidence that was not lacking in him, "I was a rank outsider and have no military education or experience, but I could have taken those questions up which they are muddling over and settled them in an hour."

Muddling stupidity, a war department owned by the packers of embalmed beef, was not so dangerous then. The oceans east and west then meant real defense. When war did come, it came from Spain, providentially. Any attacking power would have had to land troops here, and fight here. Now troops would stay at home. Fliers would come. Dropping bombs; then flying on to land in Canada, on neutral soil, to be interned, and more fliers would come.

The danger to this country is very great. There is danger also to the peace of mind of those responsible for leaving the nation unprotected. The bombing of any big American city would mean an unpleasant quarter of an hour for them, if it lasted as long as 15 minutes.

IN DEADLY DANGER

While the richest country in the world, envied and deeply hated by at least 90 per cent of Europe and Asia, remains unprotected, it is in deadly danger.

And while the danger lasts the task of eliminating it is the chief duty of every citizen.

Write to your congressman and to your two senators your opinion of our army and navy departments that apparently don't know the flying machine has been invented. Write to the president. He is glad to hear from any citizen.

IT INTERESTS YOU

Don't be made bashful by the thought, "I am upholding my opinion against experts." No experts are involved. The head of the army knows about the stock brokerage business, but he knows as little about aviation as any child, and hasn't even the imagination to help him realize what war in the air will mean.

As a secretary of war he is a first-class stock broker.

The secretary of the navy, taken from the bench lately, knows as little about flying as about playing the harp. Brigadier General Mitchell says, "Give me one of your old discarded battleships for a target and I'll sink it for you in from one to four minutes from an airplane."

They refuse his request because they are afraid that he could do it. General Mitchell is an expert, and they threaten to demote and humiliate him for telling the truth and annoying the Strasburg geese in charge of national defense.

Hear from another brigadier general, the Rt. Hon. Lord Thomson, who was chief of Britain's flying service, writing in the Survey:

"The World war started in the British Isles on August 4, 1914. If at that time aviation had attained its present development the first bombing attack on London could have been made during the evening of that first day of mobilization.

"Moreover, if the German air force had been as powerful as the French air force is at the present time, it would have been able to drop anything up to 70 tons of bombs daily on London or other important centers in the British Isles."

Lord Thomson, a real expert, goes on to say that another great war might be settled once and for all by "a great aerial battle."

Here in America, when an expert like General Mitchell tells unpleasant truths about our lack of defense, we try to gag him with threats.

When that does not stop him the congressional committee abandons its investigation, like the three little Japanese monkeys with hands on their eyes, ears and mouths that they might see, hear and speak no evil.

Mrs. C. V. Beatty Entertains Friends At Bridge Party

Yesterday afternoon, in her home on Thompson avenue, Mrs. C. V. Beatty made a charming hostess to a group of friends. Progressive bridge and Mah Jongg formed the diversions of the social hours. Nine tables of bridge were in progress and one table of Mah Jongg. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Arthur Wells for the highest bridge score and Mrs. James S. Rinehart for the Mah Jongg.

The home was attractively decorated throughout with baskets of early spring flowers. The hostesses was aided by Mrs. Will Jack and Mrs. Henry Osterman. At the close of the playing a two-course luncheon was served.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. G. Mason of Lisbon, Mrs. J. M. King and Mrs. George Howe of Wellsville.

A four-course turkey dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by a committee of sixteen ladies, with Mrs. Thomas Leak as chairman. The long tables were very attractively decorated with the club colors of lavender and white, intermingled with which were roses and smilax.

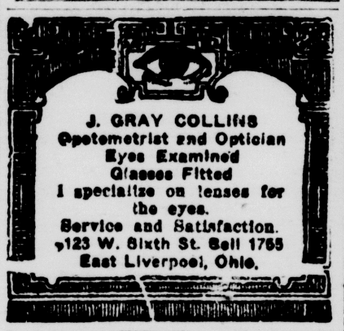

The social hours of the evening were spent with dancing and cards. Sayre's Syncopators orchestra was in charge of the musical program. Two hundred guests were present, many of whom were from nearby towns.

An evening party will be staged by the Elks' ladies Tuesday, March 3, with Mrs. Harry Anderson as hostess.

POEMS THAT LIVE

Mortlity.

We cannot kindle when we will
The fire which in the heart resides;
The spirit bloweth and is still,
In mystery our soul abides.
But tasks in hours of insight will'd
Can be through hours of gloom fulfill'd.

With aching hands and bleeding feet
We dig and heap, lay stone on stone;
We bear the burden and the heat
Of the long day and wish 'twere done.
Not till the hours of light return
All we have built do we discern.
—Mathew Arnold.

Up-Hill.

Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow dark hours begin.
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those who have gone before.
Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at that door.

Shall I find comfort, travel-sore and weak?
Of labor you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yea, beds for all who come.
—Christini Rossitti.

Soldiers Work and Fight.

Soldiers in the Province of Shansi in China, are being taught a useful occupation between battles or service. When fighting is no imminent the soldiers are detailed to factories where cloth, clothing, soap, candles, ribbons, tooth powder, iron and woodwork are manufactured and sold either directly to the trade or to the retailers. In one place the soldiers are being taught to manufacture their own rifles, and an excellent product has been produced, it is said.

STRENGTH TO FIGHT COLDS
FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE
OVER 69 YEARS OF SUCCESS

First Quiets—Then Ends A Cough

That terrible "hack", "hack", "hack", that almost drives you frantic and strains your whole body can be quieted in a jiffy by taking a swallow now and then of that fine old medicine, Kemp's Balsam. It cuts the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membrane and takes away that constant desire to cough, cough, cough. Only 30 cents at all stores.

For that Cough KEMP'S BALSAM

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Hot Water Bottle as an aid to health

The value of heat and cold in the treatment of many bodily ailments is inestimable. Heat, applied locally by means of the Hot Water Bottle, is the quickest, safest and surest pain reliever.

Cold, applied locally (cold water in a Hot Water Bottle), drives blood away from a congested part and assists in preventing formation of pus. It also serves as a powerful stimulant to circulation by the method of "shocking".

Most any physician will tell you that no home should be without a Hot Water Bottle.

There is absolutely nothing harmful in its use and it offers unquestionably an effective method of combating aches and pains of the most intense character.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead o serious lung trouble. You can stop them ow with Creomulsion, an emulsified creoote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion s a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Bread adds Carbohydrates

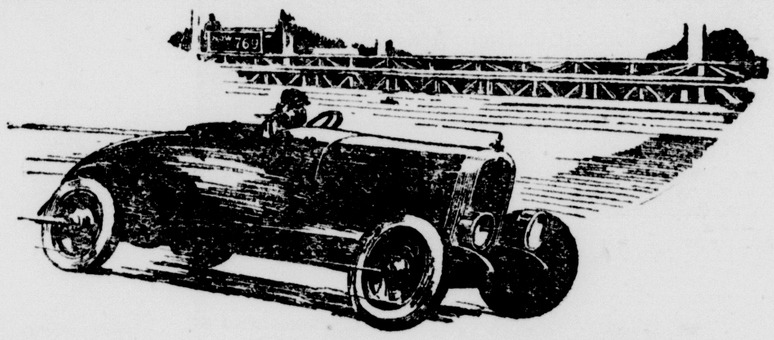

SCIENCE tells us that many foods are "light" in carbohydrates. Yet, in checking over the list of the foods mentioned, we find that it includes a great many foods eaten regularly and often.

We find many meats, eggs, fish and a large number of vegetables deficient in carbohydrates. When you serve these foods, serve more BETSY ROSS because a pound of this high-food-value loaf contains 38% of the carbohydrates, and 77% of the mineral salts needed by the body daily. It should be eaten in far greater quantities than is your custom.

Too, it adds to the flavor and appearance of many foods, and naturally their food-values. Breaded veal chops are an excellent example.

But, because "There's a difference in bread" be sure of the food-value when you purchase. Don't say bread say BETSY ROSS.

The Fastest 1000 Miles Ever Made on Wheels!

Stock Chandler Does Distance in 689 minutes, Averaging 86.96 Miles per Hour—a New World's Record

ON February 4th, at Culver City, Cal., a stock Chandler sped 1,000 miles in the elapsed time of 689 minutes, 54 seconds.

According to all available records, this stands as the fastest thousand miles ever made by any automobile—including racing cars.

From start to finish, there were no tire changes nor mechanical adjustments—the only stops being for fuel and oil replenishments.

At the end of its heroic exhibition, the car was turned over to Harry Miller, the noted racing car builder. He has certified it as being a stock model in every respect except for its higher gear ratio.

This electrifying feat—unequalled in all automobile history—represents the culmination of Chandler's notable series of performance victories. Built to master a mountain, the Pikes Peak Motor has now shown itself a master in every phase of performance.

You may never subject your Chandler to the gruelling, searching, heart-breaking test of answering the wide open throttle from dawn to dusk at such a speed.

But any car that can survive such a terrific test must be a marvel of engineering and construction—must carry an assurance of long life and low maintenance costs along with its dominant performance!

BILL LEGALIZES BOXING IN STATE

Boxing in West Virginia would be permitted under House bill No. 4, introduced by Delegate Harold Mathews, at the preliminary session of the legislature and referred to the committee on the judiciary.

The bill would create an athletic commission of three members, which would be appointed by the governor and with certain limitations, the commission would have the power to regulate boxing, sparring and wrestling matches in the state.

Under the bill, no more than two of the members of the commission may belong to the same political party. All of the expenses of the commission not to exceed $2,500 would be paid by it out of license fees collected.

The proposed law provides that the commission shall have sole direction of boxing, sparring and wrestling and may at its pleasure issue and revoke licenses to conduct a match. Every applicant to the commission for a permit to hold a match must be a bona fide resident of the state.

Each applicant for license must pay a tax of $500 for the year or a proportionate amount for a lesser period if the license is not granted at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Within 24 hours after the determination of any contest, the bill provides that the club, corporation or association staging it, shall make a detailed report to the secretary of the commission, showing the number of tickets sold and the gross proceeds thereof. A tax of 5 per cent will be levied by the commission on the receipts. Furthermore each person staging a contest must in advance of it provide a bond of $5,000 as security for the tax to be imposed.

CENSORSHIP BILL AIMED AT MOVIES

Vulgarities in slapstick screen comedies and burlesques of hospitals insane asylums, etc., and the materialization of the body of Christ, would be unlawful under the terms of a moving picture censorship bill introduced in the house of delegates by Delegate Eli Roberts of Calhoun county.

The measure is one of two censorship bills presented in the house of delegates. The Roberts measure is known as house bill No. 262, while the other measure, which was introduced by Delegate A. A. Dorsey of Tucker, is known as house bill No. 348.

The Roberts bill goes into more details than the other in defining and describing pictures which would be prohibited and it also has more "teeth" in it in respect to the enforcement of the law.

RULING IS GIVEN ON CHIROPRACTORS

Chiropractors must pass the examinations required for the practice of medicine and surgery, the supreme court of appeals held today in a decision affirming the conviction and fine of E. E. Morrison in Raleigh county on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

"One who opens an office and announces to the public in any way that he is ready to treat the sick and afflicted and has actually treated cases by adjustment of the segments of the spinal column according to the chiropractic method of treating human ailments and infirmities is practicing medicine and surgery as defined" by the code, the court ruled.

The provisions of the code, the syllabus continued, "requiring examination of and license to a person before he can lawfully practice.

Widower, 55, Bars Flapper in Ad For Young Bride

DANVILLE, Va., Feb.—"No flappers for me," says P. T. Harvell, 55-year-old widower, who is advertising for a bride of from 24 to 25 who wears her "hair long and knows how to cook."

His advertisement declares:

"I don't care how ugly her face is, so she has good character, long hair and wears a white waist and black skirt. She must wear long sleeves and high top shoes, not over 4 or 5 size. Must be able to read and write the English language and not be over 24 or 25 years of age and weigh not over 125 pounds."

Harvell admitted some discouragement when the day's mail revealed one post-card from an out-of-town concern offering to teach him how to play the piano through a correspondence course at bargain rates.

Common Household Medicines

Otherwise known as "simples" have for centuries been derived from medicinal roots and herbs. They are still used and recognized by many of our best physicians as unequalled for certain ailments. In many countries roots and herbs are cultivated purely for commercial purposes. It is said that the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., is the greatest user of crude herbs in this country. The success of their Vegetable Compound for ailments of women is now world-wide, and it will certainly pay any woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try it.

310 Pound Recruit Breaks Army Scales; Seeks Warm Climate

ELMIRA, N. Y., Feb.—"He was all right in his own way, but he weighed too much." Clarence L. Travis, of Dundee, came into Elmira, in the teeth of an icy gale and applied for enlistment in the army, with station in a warmer clime. He was accepted. His official weight, according to the scales, was 310 pounds.

When new recruits later lined up to be weighed none was found to weigh more than 3 pounds. Investigation showed the scales to be literally crashed.

Because of the competition offered by American tire makers, imports of French balloon automobile tires into this country have practically ceased.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD SESSION

Grading of Highway in Elkrun Township Now Assured.

Grading of the Kimbel Church road in Elkrun township, which will begin within a few weeks, means that ultimately there will be an improved highway between Lisbon and Rogers by the way of Signal. This also means that an improved highway will then be routed from the eastern to the western part of the county, with Lisbon as the central point.

The resurfacing of the Lisbon-Elkton road this year is assured, and the grading of the Kimble church road between Elkton and Signal means that only a short link will remain to be surfaced.

At a meeting of the county commissioners Tuesday final arrangements were made to place the new Erie shovel on this Elkrun township job. It was also declared by the commissioners that the shovel now working in Middleton township would be retained by the county, and that it might be kept in constant grading on the East Palestine-East Liverpool road in St. Clair township.

The county own another shovel that has been "parked" in Hanover township all winter, and this will be sold sooner or later, as the machine is past use.

People residing along the Kimble church road will contribute of their means, time and with horses and wagons when the new shovel is put to work on that job. In fact, the grading of this stretch of road will closely follow the program as adopted in Middleton township on the East Palestine-East Liverpool road.

A delegation of road boosters went before the commissioners Tuesday and told the board what they might expect from Elkrun township. Within a little while an agreement was entered into. The new steam shovel which is now at Elkton will be unloaded from the car within a few days, and it will be sent on the grading job as soon thereafter as possible.

Plans have been worked out in the office of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the grading and surfacing of this road.

Knox township trustees are anxious to have the road between Valley and North Georgetown surfaced, and a conference between commissioners and the trustees was held Tuesday with this end in view. The board members will go to Homeworth Friday for the purpose of reviewing the road situation in that part of the county. The Knox trustees and the commissioners are anxious to have an improved highway from Homeworth northeast to Salem.

"We want our people to travel over our own soil and do all the business they can with our county merchants," the trustees told the commissioners.

"And that is just what we want also," came from Chairman Conrad Berg. "We don't want to build roads that will take business out of our county into a neighboring county. We want to keep our business at home."

An estimate has been furnished the commissioners by Suveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the improvement of the Salineville-Summitville road, this following a recent conference between the commissioners, trustees of Franklin township and a delegation from Washington township, which included the trustees and also road boosters from Salineville.

The cost of this job has been estimated at $109,099 or at the rate of $34,200 per mile, the surface to be concrete. A small part of this road extends through the northeastern corner of Fox township, Carroll county, and the cost of the road in that township has been estimated at $15,500.

Ninety per cent of the grading that is to be done on the East Palestine-Negley road will be on Crum's Hill, according to data just given the county commissioners. This road is to be concrete surafced, and the grade reduced from 11 to 7 per cent. With a limestone aggregate the job has been estimated at $49,365 and with a gravel aggregate the work will cost $48,600.

This contract is expected to be awarded at an early date, as the road is declared to be one of the roughest in the eastern part of the county.

Delinquency Case Offenders Handed Fine, Jail Terms

Young men who are brought into court hereafter on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors will be given severe sentences, it was indicated at a hearing held in juvenile court Tuesday afternoon, Judge Lodge Riddle presiding.

"The situation has become alarming. The end has been reached. Lieniency has been passed by. From now on young men who have no respect for themselves or their parents will have to pay the penalty," the court declared following a hearing given three Salem young men, all charged with contributing.

William Landenberger, aged 27, of Salem, who was fined $200 and costs by Mayor Frank E. Albrecht, of Lisbon, for transporting, and who was charged with contributing to the delinquency of two Lisbon girls of the age of 14 years, declared that the "wine would not make a baby drunk." He entered a plea of not guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors, and was held for a hearing Friday under $500 bail, which he failed to furnish.

Charles Koch, aged 19, of Salem, the youngest of the trio, entered a plea of guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was sent to the county jail for 60 days and fined and costs.

Rudolph Brookner, aged 21, also entered a plea of guilty, and a similar sentence was pronounced in his case.

It developed at the hearing that after the party drove from Salem to Lisbon, they drove west on the Lincoln highway and broke into the Lisbon grange hall.

SIGN CONTRACTS FOR SURFACING

Contracts have been signed and approved by the county commissioners and Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes for the surfacing of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road.

This job was awarded to the George S. Mellert and Weidener company, of Medona, who were low bidders. On one contract this firm had last year in another part of the state, four miles of concerete road were built in about a month.

West township will contribute $30,000 toward this improvement within the next few days, the surfacing to be done between the West township trustees and the county commissioners.

LODGE DISTRICT MEETING TONIGHT

A district meeting of Odd Fellows from all lodges in towns and cities extending from East Palestine on the east to Ravenna on the west will be held in Odd Fellows' hall at Damascus Wednesday night. This gathering is similar to those that have been held in the southern district of this county. Arrangements are being made to entertain between 300 and 500 Odd Fellows at this meeting.

Sentence Suspended.

William M. Means was given a hearing before Judge Riddle Tuesday on a charge of non-support and a six months' sentence to the Canton workhouse was suspended upon the ability of Means to give bond that he would contribute $13 per month for the support of his child.

Hoffe Handed Fine.

Homer Hoffe, residing on route 4 out of Lisbon, was charged in the court by Mayor F. E. Albrecht at Lisbon with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. It cost him $100 an costs. Hoffe was arrested by Marshal Roy Lewton.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By Dr. Elizabeth Thompson

A Different Portrait of a Mother.

The standard of values in life is a curious thing. To some personal appearance means everything, while to others the soul is more interesting than its environment. The following letter tells the pathetic story of a mother who has been too busy or too lacking in wisdom to harmonize the values in life so that she can claim the respect of her daughters.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Ours is not a heart problem in the usual sense of the word. It is about our mother. The world seems to take it for granted that all mothers are neat, lovable and deserving or worship. It is doubtful if any one has ever before had the courage to write in this way. It does seem disloyal, but it may be the very thing some mothers need to turn over a new leaf so that their children will not be ashamed of them. While our mother is good-hearted and would do anything she could for us, she seems to be utterly ablivious to the fact that her appearance makes us ashamed of her. Probably she and all mothers think that they deserve the love and respect of their children just because they are mothers, but they are absolutely wrong. We are aware of the fact that appearances are not everything, but they do count a great deal more than most people are willing to admit. Even if we happen to visit her (she does not live in the same town we do) she will be going around on wash day morning with her hair done in a little knot on top of her head with loose hair hanging down all around. Her hair is very fine and hard to keep up, but she makes not the least effort to keep it up—no net or anything. Then she'll have on an old faded blue percale dress and apron with probably two faded, colored petticoats showing below, and brown hose hanging down over partly laced old black shoes. How could any one love a sight like that? We have talked and talked to her about neatness but in a nice way. Do you think it might have some effect if we'd get cross and lecture her hard? We are afraid it will hurt her feelings if she realized how terribly we feel about it, but possibly that is what she needs. Of course when she is dressed up for the street she looks much better than on wash day, but her hair is always hanging down loose.

DISCOURAGED SISTERS.

Your letter excites the imagination. It is easy to picture your mother when she was young and you were babies, over-worked, unappreciated, and her pride in self never aroused by praise from your father. All these years she has slaved, sacrificed and neglected self. It would be far more commendable for you girls to send your mother money with which to have the laundry work done than to lecture her. The younger generation undoubtedly gives more thought to personal appearance than the older generation. It is time now for your mother to be relieved from washings and hard work so that she will have time to thing of her hair and clothes. Thank you for your letter because I believe it will be a help to many women who are letting themselves run down. Be proud of your mother for her virtues, however, and excuse her weaknesses.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a senior in high school and in love with a young man from another town who attends our school and lives with his grandmother. I have been wearing his school pin. Now I know for a fact he is engaged to a girl at home. Should I return the pin?

RUTH ANNE.

Yes, return the pin. The boy was not loyal to the girl he claims to love when he gave it to you.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"WAR NECESSARY TO DEVELOP NEW INVENTIONS," SAYS U. S. ADMIRAL.

War is necessary to maintain civilization and to develop new inventions, in the opinion of Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, who presented his views recently.

Rear Admiral B. A. Fiske

He described China, India and Korea as pacifist nations, "which demonstrate the effects of pacifism by the misery and squalor in whic they feebly exist," and said that it was that it was only in militaristic countries that radio, aircraft, electricity, steam engines and navigation were developed. In spite of the grumblings of taxpayers, he said, the expense of armies and navies was more beneficial than otherwise.

"Of all people Christians should be the last to condemn war totally," said Admiral Fiske. "It was by war that Christianity was saved, when Charles Martel stopped the invasion of Europe by the Mohammedians. It was the war of the crusaders that opened the eyes of Europe to the Hellenistic civilization that flourished in Western Asia.

"As to the expense of armies and navies, and especially navies, the taxpayers are grumbling greatly. I am one, and I grumble, too. But we ought to realize that the money spent on a navy goes as wages to American workmen in every industrial and mechanical art and manufacturing business in the country. The money of Taxpayer Smith goes to Workman Jones and helps support his family. The nation, as a nation, would not be any poorer if the navy were made ten times bigger than it is.

"I am not advocating the expansion of the navy. I am merely trying to clear up the armament question by stating facts. In a wealthy nation such as ours, it is not the amount of money spent within the nation that matters much, but the things on which the money is spent.

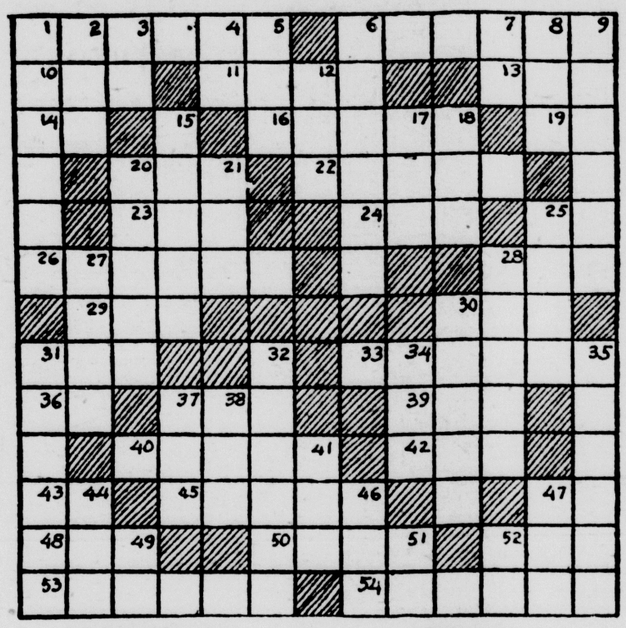

"This brings up the question, is it better to spend our surplus cash on defending what we have, and at the same time improving all the engineering arts and sciences, or on jewelry and furs and effeminizing pleasures? In all the world, is there anything more useless to spend money on than pearls and diamonds?

"Any one who studies war with a clean mind sees its benefits as its horrors, just as he sees the benefits of surgery, as well as its horrors. In this far from perfect world of men and women, we seem to have to pay for what we get, unless somebody else pays for us.

"This brings to mind the deplorable fact that the civilization which men and women now enjoy, with its warm houses and comfortable beds, has been paid for largely by the unutterable anguish of men left wounded and dying on the battlefelds of history. In a way strangely and sadly similar, the high usefulness which surgery exerts at the present day has been paid for by countless sufferers, and the redemption of the human race cost the sacrifice of Christ."

Joe Benjamin Wins Lightweight Title On Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Joe Benjamin, Los Angeles, today held the Pacific Coast lightweight championship and the right to represent the Far West in the National Lightweight Elimination tournament by virtue of his decisive win over Jack Silver, local aspirant.

Fighting before a holiday crowd of 20,000 in the first open air "comeback" of the boxing game in California, the pair waged a bitter battle throughout their ten-round go. Benjamin had a clear margin in most of the rounds and in the second round almost scored a knockout.

War's Cost Exceed's Money.

Although the cost of the World War in 1914-1918 has been reiterated in dollars and cents many times, it remained for some one to point out that it represented more than two and a half times more money than exists in all the world to make the total really comprehensible. The actual total was $186,000,000,000. The total of men killed was 7,450,200.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

"So they loaded their hay with her on the ground wrapped in the tadpaulin. When they were ready, they fixed a place in the hay and drove on home, going through the village. There they heard of the alarm and that the sheriff was at the lake. She was still breathing, just unconscious. There's a big attic room to that farmhouse, Mrs. Kaime, and that's where they kept her. I saw it—it's comfortable—a stove for the winter and windows high up, light and air. She was unconscious for three days, and they doing the best they could for her. They didn't want murder on their heads; besides, there was the hope that Atwell would find a way to offer her for ransom, after all. When she came to, she didn't know what had happened to her, who she was, or anything. Her memory was gone, she was like a child. They——"

"But the body in the lake—that was found? Did they murder someone else and——" Karesia interrupted.

"Now, just you wait—I'll come to that," Colt interrupted in his turn. "Just let me finish with Mrs. Dascome first. They kept her in that attic for over a year, Mrs. Kaime—all the time in deadly fear. Atwell put them up to a final bit of deviltry, then he left them to their fate—he made tracks for Canada, for as far away as he could get. By that time the defense had a dozen detectives searching for him and I was hot on his trail."

"Atwell told them to hurt—her face?" Karesia asked in horror.

"No, not that, Mrs. Kaime. They say it was an accident, and I believe them. Shortly after she came to, she had one of those attacks. Mrs. Culp wasn't by and she fell against the stove. She was unconscious again after that, she was delirious for weeks. They did their best for her, but they couldn't have a doctor, so it left a bad scar. You see, Mrs. Kaime, there is a type of criminal that won't commit murder or deliberately inflict torture. They'll steal, but not murder. Culp is that type, his wife, too. Thail would strike down, if in anger, but he hasn't the nerve for cold-blooded murder. No, between them all, they had fixed the crime on another man and they were anxious enough to have the thing quiet down, have Mrs. Dascome get well enough for them to take her a distance and lose her. But for all that year while J. D. was being tried, Thail had to stay on at Crisomby as Abe Best, the hired man, and the Culps had to appear just the quiet respectable farmers their neighbors thought them. Under Atwell's advice, they had gotten themselves into a horrible fix, they were in deadly feal all that year, but it was nothing to what they felt when J. D. was acquitted—they knew he'd run them down if he could.

"Then they acted; they took Mrs. Dascome in their flivver as far up New York state as they could get in a night. They gave her some money and some food and left her in a sparsely settled section. Culp was a Canadina from near Montreal, he'd known Mary Bliss, and it was Mrs. Culp who wrote in the book and gave it to her. They told her to walk to the first farmhouse and ask for work. Then Thail footed it to Buffalo, and the Culps went back to their farm at Crisomby, to live in fear. They hadn't murdered Elaine Dascome, that was all they could say for themselves."

"But you said there had been a murder?" Karesia interposed.

"There was. But now let me tell you J. D.'s and my side of it: The moment I heard of Mrs. Dascome's disappearance on the sixth of April and of J. D.'s being suspected, I suspected Atwell. I was south of Proctorville looking for Atwell when I read about it in the papers. Then I went back to Proctorville and there I found out for sure that Atwell was in Proctorville on the sixth of April, so he couldn't have done the thing himself. J. D. had been certain that Atwell had done it—that Elaine had gone out on the lake to meet Atwell; it was a blow to the defense. J. D. still clung to the belief that Atwell had a hand in it, and the defense had a dozen detectives at work on it, but they couldn't find a thing to offer as evidence.

"Now, they gave me no orders; I was certain to be called as a witness; but I was so sure that Atwell was at the bottom of the crime that I started out on my own. I traced Atwell through Canada and down into California, and there I lost track of him. I've always thought that he went into Mexico. Then I was called back to give my testimony. Now, Mrs. Kaime, J. D. came out of those trials with the same conviction I had, that his wife had been murdered on that sixth of April and that it was her body which was found in the lake. We were agreed, too, that Atwell was responsible—find Atwell and the mystery would be solved.

"J. D. had others working for him, but he and I, we hunted together. We came to California and the first trace we got of Atwell was in San Francisco, in the Barbary Coast—a girl gave J. D. the hint that Atwell had gone to Alaska. We went to Alaska only to find that Atwell had flown. We traced him back to San Francisco. Atwell had gone to Russia.

"Then we separated. I stayed in this country and J. D. went to Russia. What he went through there would fill a book, and, Mrs. Kaime, he found that Atwell had ended his career there. He had been bayonteded to death in one of the raids the Reds made. He didn't die pleasantly—so much for him. J. D. got out of the country alive, which is a wonder. You'd have thought that J. D.d have had enough; but not J. D.! There was Meta Thail—we both thought that she knew something. We knew nothing about Thail, nothing about all this I have told you. J. D. had kept watch on her; for several years after the trials she had worked in a factory in New York. Then she had disappeared, and that looked queer. We searched this country for her—we were still searching when I caught a glimpse of that bent, scarred old woman scuttling into that garage on the street back of this. I kept watch for a day, a-purpose to scare her out. J. D. was on watch on the hillside—we wanted to see where she would go. She came to your house."

Karesia caught her breath. "You thought that she was Meta Thail!"

Gold Exports Go By Mail

Banks have worked out a method of using the United States mail for exporting gold that means a great saving to them. On a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, which is not unusual for some of the bigger banks, a saving of $2,000 is possible over the old way of sending it from country to country. This saving is 4 to 5 cents an ounce, but to do it the banks have to mail the gold in 50 ounce bars and register it. In the old way large bars were sent by freight in cumbersome kegs or boxes.

Many Products From Milk.

Casein, the commercial substance made from skim milk, is now employed in the manufacture of many articles of commerce including dominoes, chess pieces and checkers, paints, bottle seals, pastes and glues, porcelain cements, coated papers, cigar and cigarette holders, massage creams, piano keys and insultaing materials. Paints made from casein are said to defy age better than lithophone and similar pigment paints.

It may be acute or it may be chronic—of years standing—you may have tried salves and ointments and other treatments.

FRENCH WOMAN TELLS
HOW TO GET THIN
Without Diets, Creams, Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than five weeks, and at the same time marvelously improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN-GRI-NA. To-day I look, act and feel far younger than my real age. From the results in my own case and those of my friends, I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, injurious, unwholesome fat, can take it off easily, quickly and safely with SAN-GRI-NA. Every day science discovers something new. SAN-GRI-NA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, tiresome exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive so-called reducing creams. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slender and graceful, and where the men detest a heavy waistline or double chin. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce, you must remember that SAN-GRI-NA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, does not contain any dangerous drugs, and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking two small tablets before each meal, I lost 50 pounds in two months, and I have not regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. To-day go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept anything else, as it is the only thing I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

NOTE.—The above appeared in many papers about a year ago. Since then SAN-GRI-NA has been investigated by American Physicians, Nurses, Clinics, Beauty Specialists, etc., and is now endorsed and recommended to fat people by Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, as a most wonderful and harmless way to reduce. Every day letters from grateful users come to us from all over the country. Men and women in all steps of life have reduced 10, 20, 30, or even as high as 80 pounds, saying also that they were able to greatly improve their health and looks. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on the Veritables Tablettes SAN-GRI-NA.

On Sale at Andersen's, Hedsen's Bulger's or Mathews Medicine Store.

"So they loaded their hay with her on the ground wrapped in the tadpaulin. When they were ready, they fixed a place in the hay and drove on home, going through the village. There they heard of the alarm and that the sheriff was at the lake. She was still breathing, just unconscious. There's a big attic room to that farmhouse, Mrs. Kaime, and that's where they kept her. I saw it—it's comfortable—a stove for the winter and windows high up, light and air. She was unconscious for three days, and they doing the best they could for her. They didn't want murder on their heads; besides, there was the hope that Atwell would find a way to offer her for ransom, after all. When she came to, she didn't know what had happened to her, who she was, or anything. Her memory was gone, she was like a child. They——"

"But the body in the lake—that was found? Did they murder someone else and——" Karesia interrupted.

"Now, just you wait—I'll come to that," Colt interrupted in his turn. "Just let me finish with Mrs. Dascome first. They kept her in that attic for over a year, Mrs. Kaime—all the time in deadly fear. Atwell put them up to a final bit of deviltry, then he left them to their fate—he made tracks for Canada, for as far away as he could get. By that time the defense had a dozen detectives searching for him and I was hot on his trail."

"Atwell told them to hurt—her face?" Karesia asked in horror.

"No, not that, Mrs. Kaime. They say it was an accident, and I believe them. Shortly after she came to, she had one of those attacks. Mrs. Culp wasn't by and she fell against the stove. She was unconscious again after that, she was delirious for weeks. They did their best for her, but they couldn't have a doctor, so it left a bad scar. You see, Mrs. Kaime, there is a type of criminal that won't commit murder or deliberately inflict torture. They'll steal, but not murder. Culp is that type, his wife, too. Thail would strike down, if in anger, but he hasn't the nerve for cold-blooded murder. No, between them all, they had fixed the crime on another man and they were anxious enough to have the thing quiet down, have Mrs. Dascome get well enough for them to take her a distance and lose her. But for all that year while J. D. was being tried, Thail had to stay on at Crisomby as Abe Best, the hired man, and the Culps had to appear just the quiet respectable farmers their neighbors thought them. Under Atwell's advice, they had gotten themselves into a horrible fix, they were in deadly fear all that year, but it was nothing to what they felt when J. D. was acquitted—they knew he'd run them down if he could.

"Then they acted; they took Mrs. Dascome in their flivver as far up New York state as they could get in a night. They gave her some money and some food and left her in a sparsely settled section. Culp was a Canadina from near Montreal, he'd known Mary Bliss, and it was Mrs. Culp who wrote in the book and gave it to her. They told her to walk to the first farmhouse and ask for work. Then Thail footed it to Buffalo, and the Culps went back to their farm at Crisomby, to live in fear. They hadn't murdered Elaine Dascome, that was all they could say for themselves."

"But you said there had been a murder?" Karesia interposed.

"There was. But now let me tell you J. D.'s and my side of it: The moment I heard of Mrs. Dascome's disappearance on the sixth of April and of J. D.'s being suspected, I suspected Atwell. I was south of Proctorville looking for Atwell when I read about it in the papers. Then I went back to Proctorville and there I found out for sure that Atwell was in Proctorville on the sixth of April, so he couldn't have done the thing himself. J. D. had been certain that Atwell had done it—that Elaine had gone out on the lake to meet Atwell; it was a blow to the defense. J. D. still clung to the belief that Atwell had a hand in it, and the defense had a dozen detectives at work on it, but they couldn't find a thing to offer as evidence.

"Now, they gave me no orders; I was certain to be called as a witness; but I was so sure that Atwell was at the bottom of the crime that I started out on my own. I traced Atwell through Canada and down into California, and there I lost track of him. I've always thought that he went into Mexico. Then I was called back to give my testimony. Now, Mrs. Kaime, J. D. came out of those trials with the same conviction I had, that his wife had been murdered on that sixth of April and that it was her body which was found in the lake. We were agreed, too, that Atwell was responsible—find Atwell and the mystery would be solved.

"J. D. had others working for him, but he and I, we hunted together. We came to California and the first trace we got of Atwell was in San Francisco, in the Barbary Coast—a girl gave J. D. the hint that Atwell had gone to Alaska. We went to Alaska only to find that Atwell had flown. We traced him back to San Francisco. Atwell had gone to Russia.

"Then we separated. I stayed in this country and J. D. went to Russia. What he went through there would fill a book, and, Mrs. Kaime, he found that Atwell had ended his career there. He had been bayonteded to death in one of the raids the Reds made. He didn't die pleasantly—so much for him. J. D. got out of the country alive, which is a wonder. You'd have thought that J. D.d have had enough; but not J. D.! There was Meta Thail—we both thought that she knew something. We knew nothing about Thail, nothing about all this I have told you. J. D. had kept watch on her; for several years after the trials she had worked in a factory in New York. Then she had disappeared, and that looked queer. We searched this country for her—we were still searching when I caught a glimpse of that bent, scarred old woman scuttling into that garage on the street back of this. I kept watch for a day, a-purpose to scare her out. J. D. was on watch on the hillside—we wanted to see where she would go. She came to your house."

Karesia caught her breath. "You thought that she was Meta Thail!"

Gold Exports Go By Mail

Banks have worked out a method of using the United States mail for exporting gold that means a great saving to them. On a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, which is not unusual for some of the bigger banks, a saving of $2,000 is possible over the old way of sending it from country to country. This saving is 4 to 5 cents an ounce, but to do it the banks have to mail the gold in 50 ounce bars and register it. In the old way large bars were sent by freight in cumbersome kegs or boxes.

Many Products From Milk.

Casein, the commercial substance made from skim milk, is now employed in the manufacture of many articles of commerce including dominoes, chess pieces and checkers, paints, bottle seals, pastes and glues, porcelain cements, coated papers, cigar and cigarette holders, massage creams, piano keys and insultaing materials. Paints made from casein are said to defy age better than lithophone and similar pigment paints.

FRENCH WOMAN TELLS

HOW TO GET THIN

Without Diets, Creams, Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than five weeks, and at the same time marvelously improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN-GRI-NA. To-day I look, act and feel far younger than my real age. From the results in my own case and those of my friends, I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, injurious, unwholesome fat, can take it off easily, quickly and safely with SAN-GRI-NA. Every day science discovers something new. SAN-GRI-NA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, tiresome exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive so-called reducing creams. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slender and graceful, and where the men detest a heavy waistline or double chin. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce, you must remember that SAN-GRI-NA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, does not contain any dangerous drugs, and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking two small tablets before each meal, I lost 50 pounds in two months, and I have not regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. To-day go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept anything else, as it is the only thing I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

NOTE.—The above appeared in many papers about a year ago. Since then SAN-GRI-NA has been investigated by American Physicians, Nurses, Clinics, Beauty Specialists, etc., and is now endorsed and recommended to fat people by Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, as a most wonderful and harmless way to reduce. Every day letters from grateful users come to us from all over the country. Men and women in all steps of life have reduced 10, 30, 30, or even as high as 80 pounds, saying also that they were able to greatly improve their health and looks. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on the Veritables Tablettes SAN-GRI-NA.

On Sale at Anderson's, Hedsen's Bulger's or Mathews Medicine Store.

Runyon Says

Kid McCoy Talks
Tells of His Last Fight
He Can Still Punch
And Proves It In Jail
He Looks Very Well

By Damon Runyon
Copyright, 1925, International Feature Service, Inc.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The writer visited Kid McCoy in the county jail here the other day.

McCoy came down from an upper floor of the jail in an elevator and sat at a little desk, one of a long row of little desks in the jail office, at which other prisoners sat talking with visitors.

McCoy wore a loosely fitting suit of blue denim, like overalls. His shirt was open at the throat, showing his hairy chest. He must weigh two hundred pounds. He looked big and burly.

His face had a pasty color, the unhealthy looking fish-belly white that authors call "jail pallor." It comes of long walling up, away from the sunshine.

But McCoy's brown eyes were clear. He walked with firm, sure step. His handclasp as he greeted the writer was strong. In the brown eyes was a sombre, sad expression as McCoy faced the writer across the desk, and said, quietly:

"TOUGH BREAK, ISN'T IT?"

He meant his status.

McCoy is somewhat bald. What is left of his hair is gray.

He is now fifty-one years old.

Pugilistic history rates him as one of the greatest fighters that ever lived, a master-boxer, a great hitter.

He was in his fistic prime some twenty-five years ago. His personality, his appearance, his love affairs, his skill, made him one of the most talked of men before the public.

Now he is under prison sentence for the alleged murder of a woman in Los Angeles. McCoy insists he didn't kill the woman. The evidence was all against him.

McCoy talked very little about his case to the writer. He seemed mainly interested in old friends in New York.

In his day McCoy was a familiar and famous figure along Broadway. He was the beau boulevardier of his period, handsome, dashing, dapper.

He has a keen memory for names. He asked about sports writers, boxers, managers and Broadwayites one after the other. He was nervously knoting his strong white hands as he talked, and the writer noted a bit of adhesive tape over one knuckle of the right hand.

"I did that socking a fellow in here a few days ago," McCoy explained. "He was a big chap and he slaped an old man for no reason at all. I remonstrated with him, and he took a punch at me. So I let him have it—I knocked him cold."

He knocked many others "cold" in his time—Tommy Ryan, Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Billy Stift, Steve O'Donnell, Herr Macke among them.

Few men have lived who could hit like McCoy. It is not surprising to find that some trace of his old ability remains.

"You look in good physical condition," the writer remarked.

"Well, I exercise a good deal," replied McCoy. "I skip the rope, and go through calisthenics. Then I do a lot of boxing with the other prisoners nearly every day. I feel fine."

The bad "booze" that addled his reason at the time of the alleged murder is out of his system, no doubt of that, perhaps for the first time in years.

"What was your last real ring battle?" the writer asked. McCoy smiled. The sombre expression left his eyes, and they fairly danced on the stream of memory.

"It was with Petty Officer Curran," he said. "It took place just before the war in 1914, at Nice, on the Riviera. Curran was Nan English heavyweight of the period.

"The crowd that saw the fight was made up of nice people in evening clothes," McCoy went on. "I thought Curran was a big sap, and that I could take him in any time I wanted to, so I walked out of my corner very nonchalantly.

"I fiddled at him an instant, when he let go a right hand that nailed me flush on the mouth, knocking out some of my teeth and flattening me on the floor.

"I had to do a little thinking while I was down there," said

Returned to Good Standing; Act is Slap at Officials.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—For the first time since the Walker law, making legal the manly art of assault and battery, became effective in this state six years ago the New York athletic commission has failed to stand behind its officials and reports were to the effect that a general housecleaning is in order.

A minute scrutiny of the records of the men who make and unmake champions with an airy gesture of their little white slips will be the first step taken, it is declared.

In brief, the showdown has come. On Monday Eight, a referee and two judges collaborated in declaring that Jimmy Goodrich-Kid Wagner bout a draw at the end of ten rounds and ordered two extra periods. Goodrich earned the verdict at the final bell. Seemingly, the officials were the only citizens present who saw the business in this light. Ninety-eight per cent of the crowd declared Wagner an easy winner at the end of ten rounds.

One of the dissenters was the strong, silent man, William Muldoon, and he thought so little of the verdict that, speaking for the commission yesterday, he announced that Wagner would be returned to good standing in the lightweight elimination tourney, from which the Goodrich verdict would have removed him. This was nothing less than an official slap at the judges, Charles Wood and Harold Barnes, and the chances are very good that they will do no more officiating in New York.

The referee, Jack O'Sullivan, voted for Wagner.

If the commission fine-combs the qualifications of some of its officials and eliminates those whose eyesight is open to doubt, more of the champions will be inclined to appear in New York rings.

Mickey Walker, for example, has steadfastly declined to box here, although Dave Shade's challenge has been on file with the board for many months. Walker stands suspended in this state but is managing to bear up bravely under the impost. He may have missed several big shots in the garden, but he still has his title.

Columbiana Quint Will be Contender In County Tourney

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 25.—Columbiana High school team will be one of the entrants at the Class B tournament to be held at the Salem High gym Friday and Saturday, February 27th and 28th. The other teams to be represented will be Lisbon, East Palestine, Fairfield and Salineville, and according to advance dope, Columbiana should be the winner, as they already hold wins over all these teams with the exception of Salineville which has not been played and which is not considered very strong. Lisbon and East Palestine will furnish the most opposition as they won from Columbiana by close scores on their own floors. The winner of the county tournament will have an opportunity to compete the following week at the district tournament which will probably be held at Akron again this year.

High Family Steppin' High

The High family, consisting of Hugh, Andy and Charlie, may not be the most famous one ever connected with the baseball pastime but right now it is enjoying considerable success. Andy starred with the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, Hughie batted well with Columbus in the A. A. and Charley hit .322 for Portland in the Pacific Coast league.

SISLER LOOKING FOR BETTER 1925 OUTFIT

Browns' Manager Also Expects to Improve His Own Work Quite a Little.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Conceding that his ball club hasn't been greatly improved between seasons, George Sisler nevertheless looks for the St. Louis Browns to step out to better things in 1925, if only for the fact that he himself plans to give his public something bigger and finer in the way of managerial finesse. George is quite frank about himself. He doesn't seem to think that he was a roaring success as a manager in 1924.

"I hopped on the job cold last season," he declared. "I was out of the game entirely in 1923, as everyone knows, and in a way I had to start all over again and learn things that ordinarily would have been second nature to me.

"And I had my own men to study. There is more to managing a ball club than merely wagging a couple of fingers."

First off Sisler plans to exercise more caution in the handling of Dave Danforth, the left-handed young man, although the situation was forced upon Sisler by the collapse of the rest of his staff. Danforth won fifteen of his first twenty-one games last year, but when the others flopped Sisler had to waft the burden upon David. The latter, being human, finally cracked himself and dropped the last six games he pitched.

Danforth will be used only in his regular turn this season, and Sisler expects him to win at least twenty games.

He looks for almost as much from Joe Bush, culled from the Yankees in the Shocker deal, which was regarded as eminently satisfactory by every one in St. Louis. In addition to getting a pitcher whom Sisler believes is far from passe for a man who had outlived his welcome, Sisler swung Milt Gaston, Yank recruit, and Joe Joe Glard, left hander from Toledo, into the barter and both are believed to be youths of much promise.

Barring the unforseen, the Browns will be much the same ball club, except for the passing of Shocker and the coming of Bush. The infield will be the same, with Sisler on first, McManus at second, Robertson at third and Gerber at shortstop. Bob Lamotte, a shortstopper from Memphis, will join Harry Rice and Sylvester Simon as infield substitutes. Pat Burke, a St. Louis semi-pro, is another candidate.

In the outfield will be Ken Williams, Bill Jacobson and Johnny Tobin, with Herschel Bennett, built along the lines of the late Willie Keeler, pressing Jake and Tobin for a regular job. Joe Evans will be back to play occasionally against southpaw pitching. Elmore, from Bay City, and Mizeur, from Terre Haute, are two recruits to receive spring trials.

Considerable sound has been exploded about Leo Dixon, a young catcher acquired from St. Paul. Hank Severid is aging and there is an opening for a young man willing to start at the bottom and work up.

The pitching staff presents Danforth, Ernie Wingard, Hub Pruett, Elam Vangilder, George Grant and Dixie Davis from the 1924 outfit and Blaeholder, from Tulsa; Lasley, from Butte; Porter, from Alabama; Beck, St. Louis semi-pro; Springer, Detroit semi-pro, and Peterson, from Minnesota, in addition to Bush, Gaston and Giard.

The latest words from Sisler are: "Of course, we expect to be in the pennant race."

Power Basketball Team Easily Downs Newell High Five

The Power basketball team defeated the Newell high school combine, 53 to 19, last night on the M. E. court here. O. Cunningham, with 12 field goals, was the scoring star of the contest. Nease, Deems and Rariden played well for the Newell squad.

The Power five would like to arrange games with teams having floors and are especially desirous of taking on the New Cumberland Ramblers. Arrangements can be made through Power Five, P. O. Box 502, this city.

The lineup:

Power Five		Newell H. S.
Rockhold	F.	Nease
O. Cunningham	F.	Deems
Bucher	C.	Pugh
Anderson	G.	Manson

Toledoan Survives.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Clyde K. O. Jaekle, Toledo, was a member in good standing of the survivors' club today as a result of his ten-round victory over Georgie Kid Lee, Worcester, Mass., last night in the lightweight elimination tourney. Jaekle led all the way, after his opponent had stepped out to an early lead in the first two rounds. Lee took on the match at short notice, being substituted in the tourney for the injured Rocky Kansas. The New England entry was 1¼ pounds overweight at the weighing in, and worked off all but an extra half pound in trying to make the grade several hours later. He was not in condition to do his best.

Erratic Foul Shots Defeat Park Passers

Boulevard Combine Drops League Clash to Lutherans.

Park Boulevard passers went down to defeat before the Lutherans on the high school floor last night in a Sunday school league game, the score being 30 to 24.

The game was one of the fastest church league clashes this season. In all around basketball, the Boulevards outclassed their opponents.

The Boulevards out-scored the Lutherans from the field but erratic foul goal shooting lost them the game. They made four points in 21 tries while the Lutherans tallied twelve points in 22 chances from the foul line.

The Boulevards had the edge on the Lutherans in first quarter, leading by the score of 6 to 3.

In the second quarter the Lutherans got going and they overcame their opponents' lead and during the rest of the period they piled up points that the Parks were unable to overcome.

The Lutherans led at the end of the first half by the score of 18 to 10. The playing in the third quarter was all in favor of the Boulevards and they cut down the Lutheran lead to three points. The score stood 21 to 18 in the Lutherans' favor when the third quarter was over.

The Lutherans maintained their lead all through the final quarter, the Boulevards throwing their chances for victory away with poor shooting from the free throw mark. Field goals by G. Woessner in the last few minutes of play made victory sure for the Lutherans.

G. Wessner, Anthony, Kibble and R. Woessner played well for the Lutherans while Guyton, Barnes and McKee performed in a classy manner for the Boulevards.

In the preliminary contest the Lutheran Juniors won over the First U. P. Juniors by the score of 26 to 17.

M. Barlow, J. Barlow, Badgley and Greenwood featured for the Lutherans while Laughlin, Skidmore, and Smith performed well for the United Presbyterians.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 25.—With Jim Barnes leading by three strokes and Joe Kirkwood next in line, with Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel just one shot behind Kirkwood, the fastest field of professional golf stars to ever compete in Florida played the final thirty six holes today in the Florida open championship over the Palma Ceia course for a purse of $5,000, a major prize of $1,500 to be the winner's share.

Tourney Dates are March 9-12, Inclusive; the Place—the Liberty Alleys; Contenders From City, Wellsville, Chester, Newell and Midland Expected; Over 100 Already Listed; Scehdule Calls for Singles and Doubles.

Bowlers—of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester, Newell and Midland—front and center!

Oil up the old soup bone and don your best bib and tucker for the Ceramic City's 1925 bowling jubilee. Get out the fountain pen, sign on the dotted line, and become an official entry in the Inter-City Duckpin Tournament which will be held on March 9-12 on the Liberty alleys under the promotion of Manager Steele.

Sixteen prizes—all cash—will make up the award list, Steel announced today. All will be worth shooting for, he asserted.

Over 100 duckpin artists from the city and surrounding territory have filed entries for the tournament. Many more are expected before the lists close, prior to hostilities.

Lodges, clubs, and various organizations in the district have placed their favorite stars among the long list of contenders in an effort to cut into the prize list. Individual performers recognized ability cast covetous eyes on the awards.

There will be singles and doubles, the contender bowling three games each, total pins to count.

The bowlers will launch their assault on the pins on Monday evening, March 9, at 6 o'clock. Warfare will cease at 11. This schedule will be adhered to throughout the four days of the tournament.

The entry list so far includes many of the district's foremost exponents of the game. Unusual interest has attached itself to the event.

Genaro and O'Dowd Meet in 12-round Go at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 25—Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion of America, and Eddie O'Dowd, of Columbus, one of the leading bantams in the midwest, are down for a 12-round bout Thursday night at the Rayen-Wood auditorium.

Genaro is the only boxer who has won a referee's decision over Pancho Villa, the world's champion, before Villa got his scrap with Wilde, former champ.

In meeting O'Dowd, Genaro has picked nothing soft. Eddie has been taking on some of the best in the country and will provide the New Yorker with plenty of opposition.

George Meenehan, from Farrell, Pa., will take on George Harris, a socker from Niles, in the first bout.

The second will bring together Bad News Taylor from Donora, Pa., and Midget Mike O'Dowd, a hard puncher.

Bout three presents Patsy Flanagan, with either Johnny Moore, of East Youngstown, or Young Sweeney of Steubenville.

Prior to the man scrap, Maxie Holub will tackle Frankie Van, of Cleveland. The first bout will start at 8:15.

Bert Colima, Coast Star, is Kayoed by Walker in Seventh

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Any popular idea that Bert Colima, Los Angeles-Mexican boxer and middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is other than a medicore pugilist were knocked higher than the equally well known cocked hat today, as a result of his experience here last night at the hands of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion. The West's pride was knocked out in seven rounds.

Without so much as disturbing a single thread of purple silk which encased his long muscled legs, the New Jersey boxer wove a mesmeric speel around his opponent, socked him for a nine count in the first round, beat his blue veined body purple in the next five canters and sent him rolling to his own corner in the seventh.

Tremaine Is Winner Over Bantam King

Clevelander Given Decision Over Martin in 12 Rounds.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—Although Eddie Cannonball Martin, world's bantamweight champion, and his backers vigorously protested, Carl Tremaine, of Cleveland, was awarded the referee's decision at the end of twelve rounds of furious fighting at public hall here last night.

The battle was one of the best ever staged here, and in the opinion of a majority of the fans and sports writers the decision was a just one. Tremaine carried the fighting to Martin all the way, and had a large margin in a majority of rounds. Martin, however, scored the only knockdown of the fight, which came early in the second round. It was a right swing to the ear, and as Tremaine got back to his feet the champion worked hard for a knockout but the bell saved the Clevelander.

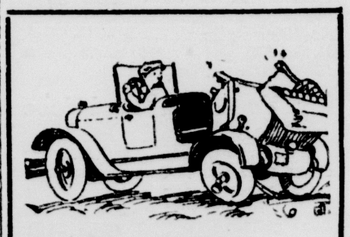

Martin also had the best of the last round, but in most of the others Tremaine had a wide margin. Martin's title was not at stake. Both weighed over the bantamweight limit.

Jackie Nicholls, of Detroit, led Chuck Feldman, of Cleveland, all the way in the eight round semi-final.

Joe Lohman of Toledo, was given the referee's decision over Tommy Burns, of Detroit, and Joe Hoffman, Cleveland flyweight, won from Young Irish Akron in the curtain raiser.

Hoppe and Cochran To Meet in Second Round of Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The International 18.2 billiard championship tournament entered its second round today bringing Willie Hoppe, champion, back into play against Welker Cochran, and Kamekichi Suzuki, Jap star, against Edouard Horemans of Belgium. All today's players, except Hoppe, were defeated in their first round matches.

Yesterday's matches brought championship prospects to Jake Schaeffer, who easily defeated Horemans, 400 to 161, in ten innings and counted the high run of the tournament to date, 130.

Erich Hagenlacher defeated Cochran in the afternoon 400 to 347 in 19 innings.

Runyon Says:

McCoy. "I got to one knee and took the count in that position, and all the time I was grinding my right glove in the resin.

"When I got up again my glove was well loaded with resin and I feinted Curran into an opening and then smashed him with my right. The punch cut his face open but didn't seem to phase him.

"I wasn't in very good condition and I had to do a lot of THINKING. A little later on in the bout I suddenly pointed to the floor and said, 'Well, look at that, will you!' Curran turned his head to look and I clipped him on the chin and knocked him flat.

"He was up in an instant and fell into a clinch and said 'Hi sye, Kid, wot'd you want to do a thing like that for?

"'Why,' I said, 'you didn't see what I meant—look there!'

"I pointed again, but old P. O. had had his lesson and he wouldn't turn his head again," said Kid McCoy.

The brown eyes seemed bright. He laughed a hearty laugh. McCoy's humor was always tinged with cruelty. Many other men mistake cruelty for FUN.

If you knew McCoy for what he was—great fighter, half-fellow-well-met, you have to feel sorry for him.

He is getting old. The gayest youth that Fistiana ever knew is far behind him. He must spend what should be the best years of a man's life in prison.

U. S. Emphasizes Mail Sanctity

Due to the many requests of Marshals, sheriffs and other law enforcement officers, that mail carriers open first class mail addressed to crime suspects, in the hope of getting some clew, the Postoffice Department has issued a warning to all who handle the mails that htese requests if granted render a postal employe liable to prosecution. The sanctity of first class mail is held paramount to the search for criminals. The government provides for such co-operation with law officers as is possible in another way.

VERSE AND WORSE

By Larry Flint

Purpose.

I'd rather not have toiled at all than never toiled for this:
The waiting window, lighted bright,
and someone's waiting kiss.
I'd rather not have struggled long if only just to hold
The failing candlestick of fame or only tarnished gold.
It isn't how men fight the flight or
how they face the fray;
But what they battle for to claim at ending of the day.

I'd rather not have borne the load if weight I had to bear
Was not to build for better things for those a-waiting there
When I come home. I'd rather left
the sabre on the shelf
Then to have wielded it for only
glory for myself.
It isn't how men tread the lane or how they do and die
Or how they sow that they might reap at harvest time—but way

I'd rather never start the trail unless it leads me to
A place where waiting arms reach up,
where hungry hearts are true.
I'd rather not have sought at all than just to somebody find
The things I wanted most were just the things I'd left behind.
For toiling isn't worth it if you toil
on fruitless loam.
I'd rather never start the trail unless
it leads me—home.

NERVOUS STOMACH SHOULD BE TONED TO RIGHT SPEED

Charleston, W. Va., Boarding House Mistress Who Found Right Key Through Ka-di-ok.

MRS. GEORGE GABBERT, Charleston, W. Va.

Mrs. George Gabbert, of 211 Goshorn street, Charleston, W. Va., has discovered a new note in the human musical scale, and a key which tones down the nervous speed of a disordered stomach.

For some time past she had suffered with stomach trouble and nervousness, until she heard of Ka-di-ok, the wonderful herbal tonic and system builder. After taking a treatment of Ka-di-ok, which, by the way, is now a household remedy in her medicine chest, she said to the Ka-di-ok representative:

"I am so glad we found Ka-di-ok. It induces good sound sleep, and as my appetite was off, I can now eat because my stomach is right. Ka-di-ok quiets a nervous stomach down to the right speed and makes your nerves right. The results are more than satisfactory." Mrs. Gabbart's husband also was benefitted by taking Ka-di-ok, and she says she feels grateful for his improvement.

Ka-di-ok is also recommended for kidney and liver trouble, rheumatism, bad blood, indigestion, gas on the stomach, heart pains, indigestion, auto-intoxication, bad blood, and other symptoms of a disordered and run-down stomach condition.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. Sixth Street.

COUNTY OFFICERS PROBING ROBBERY

Beaver county authorities are investigating the robbery of the Hays general store in Smith's Ferry which occurred early Sunday morning when goods valued at $75 were taken. The culprits did considerable damage to the stock they did not take. Officials are inclined to the belief that an auto was used by the thieves in making their escape. Entrance was gained by cutting the glass out of a door.

Panama Most Costly Canal.

Although the present generations cannot recall so readily the tremendous difficulties encountered in the early days when the French were tackling the construction of the Panama Canal, they do probably know that it was a most costly work. In round numbers the cost of it was $375,000,000, more than had ever been spent in any similar project in the world.

U. S. Without Rubber Trees.

With regards to its rubber consumption, the United States is in a peculiar position, in that it has no territory where the rubber trees grow on a commercial scale, although it has possessions where these trees could be grown extensively. England, on the other hand, some years ago planted rubber trees in some of its tropical and semi-trpoical possessions.

SENATOR McCORMICK IS DEAD

LIFELESS BODY FOUND WHEN HOTEL APARTMENT DOOR IS BROKEN DOWN

Attending Physician Announces Death of Illinois Republican Leader Was Due to "Gastric Hemorrhage," as News Proves Shock in Political and Social Circles of Capital.

SERVED AS MEMBER OF UPPER HOUSE SINCE 1918; DEFEATED LAST YEAR

Despite Failure to Win Re-nomination in Primaries, he had Not Intended to Retire to Private Life and Was Under Consideration for Appointment as Ambassador to Paris.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—United States Senator Medill McCormick, of Illinois, one of the Republican leaders of the senate, died suddenly today in his hotel here from what physicians described as a "gastric hemorrhage."

He was found dead in bed at 10 a. m. by hotel employes who went to his room and broke down the door after telephone rings for McCormick were unanswered.

McCormick was 47 years old and had served in the senate since 1918. He was born in Chicago, May 16, 1877, the son of Robert S. and Katherine Medill McCormick, and was graduated from Yale in 1900.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ruth McCormick, daughter of the late Mark Hanna, and three children.

Wife On Way to Capital.

Physicians said McCormick had been dead about an hour when the body was discovered at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. McCormick is enroute here from Chicago, having accompanied Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, there when the latter's baby was born.

Senator McCormick was up and around shortly after 8 o'clock this morning but after that he did not answer several phone calls which came for him. Unable to secure any answer, W. H. Barse, the hotel manager, went to McCormick's room about 9:45 o'clock and opening the door he found Senator McCormick undressed and in bed, apparently dead.

Barse immediately called in Dr. Noble Barnes who reported that Senator McCormick had died of a gastric hemmorrhage. Barse then notified McCormick's secretary and several of his friends and colleagues, including Representative Nicholas Longworth, who immediately came to the hotel.

Health Believed Good

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, one of McCormack's closest friends, was advised that the discovery of the body was brought about by William Hard, a newspaper correspondent who called at the hotel to keep an appointment with McCormick.

At the time of his death McCormick was generally believed to be in good health and the news of his death occasioned great surprise throughout political and social circles in the capital.

Formally advised of McCormick's death by his colleague, Senator Mc-

LABOR HONORS LATE LEADER

Homage Paid at Funeral of Late J. J. Weisend.

Labor representatives of the Democratic party, lodgemen and friends joined with bereaved relatives in paying homage to the memory of the late J. J. Weisend, aged 70, veteran union and political leader, when funeral services were held at 9 o'clock this morning in St. Ann's Catholic church, East End. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. S. F. Cappe.

Seventy five members of the carpenters' union, with which Mr. Weisend had been identified for 37 years and of which he had served as president, were among the large crowd which taxed the capacity of the church.

Numerous floral emblems attested the popularity of the man who had been president of Trades and Labor council and had been honored with the city as well as the county chairmanship of the Democratic party, in which he had been active for 40 years.

Father Cappe, in the funeral sermon, lauded Mr. Weisend as "a good citizen, Christian and loving father, a man who practiced the golden rule."

Burial was made in St. Aloysius cemetery.

Robert McHenry, local auto dealer, has been made the defendant in a $10,000 damage suit, brought in common pleas court by George Christ, local Greek, as the result of an automobile accident at the corner of Broadway and Fifth stret, November 27th, 1924.

Christ, who was struck by a machine driven by McHenry as he was attempting to cross the street at the postoffice corner, alleges that he suffered a fractured leg which caused him to remain in the city hospital for five weeks.

His petition asserts that his hospital and medical bills amounted to $210.88 and that since the accident he has been left a cripple. The plaintiff is represented by the law firm, Lones, Hill and Davidson.

Daum S. Appell, Liverpool township man, who was committed to the county jail early in January upon his failure to pay a $2,000 fine assessed against him by Mayor Charles Brown, of this city, for a liquor law violation, has been released.

Appell's friends paid $200 and the costs of the fine and an agreement was entered into whereby the balance will be paid in installments. The county commissioners consented to Appell's release upon the recommendation of Mayor Brown.

Appell was arrested after local police and special officers found a still and a large quantity of corn liquor, mash and other supplies at his home on the Camp ground road between East Liverpool and Wellsville.

$750,000 BLAZE IS UNSOLVED DESPITE STATE AGENTS' PROBE

No Evidence of Incendiarism Found by Investigators.

CONTINUE QUIZ

"We are Still Working on Case," Declare Fire Marshals.

East Liverpool's $750,000 fire, which destroyed a section of the Fifth street business district early Sunday morning, will go down in municipal annals as unsolved, it was indicated today.

A 48-hour investigation by state and city officials has failed to reveal the origin of the blaze.

No Evidence of Incendiarism.

Although two deputy state fire marshals were still working on the case today, no evidence has been found up to the noon hour which would indicate that the blaze was of incendiary origin, it was announced. Several persons questioned have been unable to furnish any definite information.

Mrs. Samuel Breakstone, owner of the National Wholesale Millinery store, in the Milligan building, where Fire Chief Bryan says the blaze appears to have originated, complying with a request of Fire Marshals D. J. Connor, Youngstown, and T. Hayes White of Toronto, yesterday afternoon made her second visit to the Central fire station within 24 hours.

"We are still working on the case," Deputy White said shortly before noon today. "We have found no evidence which might implicate any one."

The car, which was valued at $2,500, was stolen between 10 o'clock and midnight. It had been parked near the corner of Jackson and Sixth streets.

The theft was reported to the local police and a description of the machine was sent to adjoining cities. Belief was expressed today that the car was abandoned on the road side and then pushed over the embankment where it caught fire.

KING GEORGE IS MUCH IMPROVED

LONDON, Feb. 25—King George was so much improved today that physicians announced that he might be able to leave his room in Buckingham palace within a few days.

Orders have been issued for the Royal Yacht, Victoria and Albert, to be ready by March 9 for the cruise ordered by his majesty's physicians. Just how long the king will remain in Southern European waters is uncertain, but his physicians will not permit his return until the bronchial affection from which he is suffering has disappeared.

The Prince of Wales is keeping in touch daily with his father, but is absent from London. He is absorbed in hunting and spends most of his time at Melton and Mowbray.

GAYETIES AND INDISCRETIONS OF CAPITAL'S SOCIAL LIFE WILL BE REVEALED IN SCOTT DIVORCE SUIT

BY GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Working quietly, and with grim determination, Mrs. Edna Scott is in Washington today with two lawyers, getting dozens of depositions concerning the gayeties and indiscretions of the capital's social life. She will present them in broadside fashion to the Alpena, Mich., court on March 10, when it resumes hearing the divorce suit brought by her husband, Representative Frank Scott.

Even more startling evidence than that which rocked social circles of the capital some weeks ago has been quietly gathered here by Mrs. Scott, it was said today.

When the case is resumed, Mrs. Scott will be fortified with documents, it was said today, to substantiate her charges that congress is filled with dry voters and wet drinkers.

Mrs. Scott has been hidden here for two weeks, seeing only her lawyers, Ward H. Peck, of Detroit, and J. J. Wilson of Washington.

Evidence of Famous Junket.

Most of the evidence being gathered has to do with the now famous junket to Panama in the spring of 1921. Mrs. Scott testified at the opening of the trial that on this trip there was a general indulgence in liquors by dry Congressmen.

Mrs. Scott and Peck, following a conference with their most important Washington witness both affirmed their intention of continuing the legal fight along the line already developed.

"At the outset of this case," Peck declared, "there was no idea of bringing in outside personalities. Mr. Scott, however, sought to disparage Mrs. Scott's friends by comparison with his own, and further, those friends of his injected themselves into the case against us.

"The depositions we are now taking come purely as a defense against charges made by Mr. Scott relative to Mrs. Scott's conduct and her selection of friends. We have been forced into it, and we shall see it through."

At Alpena, Scott assailed his wife's army friends, most of whom were in the air service. Mrs. Scott replied, in effect, that congressmen were "higher fliers" than aviators.

The depositions taken bear upon the activities aboard the army transport Cristobal, which conveyed the 1921 junketeers to and from Panama. This vessel is said to have made the outgoing trip in a quiet decorous manner befitting the passenger list, but according to the charges, it returned in a comparative state of hilarity.

It was on the return trip of the Cristobal, Mrs. Scott said, that a Kansas congressman made a midnight tour of the ship's staterooms toting a pitcher containing the ingredients for a good nightcap.

Meanwhile, the congress, which so unwillingly has figured in the sensational Scott case, is preparing to adjourn.

New allegations and charges to be brought out on March 10 will have to be faced, not in official Washington with its convenient storm cellars, but at the home fireside, in the midst of constituents who endorse or veto at will the question of a congressman's continuance in Washington.

$750,000 BLAZE IS UNSOLVED DESPITE STATE AGENTS' PROBE

No Evidence of Incendiarism Found by Investigators.

CONTINUE QUIZ

"We are Still Working on Case," Declare Fire Marshals.

East Liverpool's $750,000 fire, which destroyed a section of the Fifth street business district early Sunday morning, will go down in municipal annals as unsolved, it was indicated today.

A 48-hour investigation by state and city officials has failed to reveal the origin of the blaze.

No Evidence of Incendiarism.

Although two deputy state fire marshals were still working on the case today, no evidence has been found up to the noon hour which would indicate that the blaze was of incendiary origin, it was announced. Several persons questioned have been unable to furnish any definite information.

Mrs. Samuel Breakstone, owner of the National Wholesale Millinery store, in the Milligan building, where Fire Chief Bryan says the blaze appears to have originated, complying with a request of Fire Marshals D. J. Connor, Youngstown, and T. Hayes White of Toronto, yesterday afternoon made her second visit to the Central fire station within 24 hours.

"We are still working on the case," Deputy White said shortly before noon today. "We have found no evidence which might implicate any one."

Raze Milligan Walls.

Records at Central fire station reveal that the Breakstone family has been unfortunate in fires. Four times within 10 years—thrice in their store and once in their home—they have suffered damage from fire. On June 5, 1915, when the company occupied a

Albert Kinney's Car Wrecked Near New Cumberland.

A five passenger Paige brougham, owned by Albert Kinney, 812 Division street, which was stolen last night while parked on Sixth street, was found in fire ruins at the foot of an 150-foot embankment near New Cumberland, W. Va., today.

The car, which was valued at $2,500, was stolen between 10 o'clock and midnight. It had been parked near the corner of Jackson and Sixth streets.

The theft was reported to the local police and a description of the machine was sent to adjoining cities. Belief was expressed today that the car was abandoned on the road side and then pushed over the embankment where it caught fire.

KING GEORGE IS MUCH IMPROVED

LONDON, Feb. 25—King George was so much improved today that physicians announced that he might be able to leave his room in Buckingham palace within a few days.

Orders have been issued for the Royal Yacht, Victoria and Albert, to be ready by March 9 for the cruise ordered by his majesty's physicians. Just how long the king will remain in Southern European waters is uncertain, but his physicians will not permit his return until the bronchial affection from which he is suffering has disappeared.

The Prince of wales is keeping in touch daily with his father, but is absent from London. He is absorbed in hunting and spends most of his time at Melton and Mowbray.

GAYETIES AND INDISCRETIONS OF CAPITAL'S SOCIAL LIFE WILL BE REVEALED IN SCOTT DIVORCE SUIT

BY GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Working quietly, and with grim determination, Mrs. Edna Scott is in Washington today with two lawyers, getting dozens of depositions concerning the gayeties and indiscretions of the capital's social life. She will present them in broadside fashion to the Alpena, Mich., court on March 10, when it resumes hearing the divorce suit brought by her husband, Representative Frank Scott.

Even more startling evidence than that which rocked social circles of the capital some weeks ago has been quietly gathered here by Mrs. Scott, it was said today.

When the case is resumed, Mrs. Scott will be fortified with documents, it was said today, to substantiate her charges that congress is filled with dry voters and wet drinkers.

Mrs. Scott has been hidden here for two weeks, seeing only her lawyers, Ward H. Peck, of Detroit, and J. J. Wilson of Washington.

Evidence of Famous Junket.

Most of the evidence being gathered has to do with the now famous junket to Panama in the spring of 1921. Mrs. Scott testified at the opening of the trial that on this trip there was a general indulgence in liquors by dry Congressmen.

Mrs. Scott and Peck, following a conference with their most important Washington witness both affirmed their intention of continuing the legal fight along the line already developed.

"At the outset of this case," Peck declared, "there was no idea of bringing in outside personalities. Mr. Scott, however, sought to disparage Mrs. Scott's friends by comparison with his own, and further, those friends of his injected themselves into the case against us.

"The depositions we are now taking come purely as a defense against charges made by Mr. Scott relative to Mrs. Scott's conduct and her selection of friends. We have been forced into it, and we shall see it through."

At Alpena, Scott assailed his wife's army friends, most of whom were in the air service. Mrs. Scott replied, in effect, that congressmen were "higher fliers" than aviators.

The depositions taken bear upon the activities aboard the army transport Cristobal, which conveyed the 1921 junketeers to and from Panama. This vessel is said to have made the outgoing trip in a quiet decorous manner befitting the passenger list, but according to the charges, it returned in a comparative state of hilarity.

It was on the return trip of the Cristobal, Mrs. Scott said, that a Kansas congressman made a midnight tour of the ship's staterooms toting a pitcher containing the ingredients for a good nightcap.

Meanwhile, the congress, which so unwillingly has figured in the sensational Scott case, is preparing to adjourn.

New allegations and charges to be brought out on March 10 will have to be faced, not in official Washington with its convenient storm cellars, but at the home fireside, in the midst of constituents who endorse or veto at will the question of a congressman's continuance in Washington.

"'Come here a minute, Rose,' he said.

"'Come here and kiss me,' he said.

"I knew what that meant and I started to run away.

"He jumped and grabbed me and we fought about the bedroom. Soon we were near a dresser and I remembered there was a gun in the drawer. While he was holding me and trying to kiss me, I reached back and got hold of it. I put it close to him and shot. He fell back a little ways and I shot again and again and again.

Police Investigate.

"I don't know how many times I fired but when things cleared up, father was lying there at my feet, bleeding and very still.

"I stooped over and touched him and called to him, but he didn't answer. I wasn't sorry but I wanted to know if there was anything I could do for him. Finally, I decided he was dead and I left the room and closed the door.

"I went out of the house an walked. I must have gone quite a ways when I decided I'd have to tell police. So I came in here. And that's all, I guess."

The committee has decided, it was stated, that the proposed gas tax shall remain at two cents per gallon. By a vote of 6 to 4, the committee determined upon amendment reducing state auto license fees 75 per cent, it was announced.

BABY SLAYER URGES CHANCE FOR DAUGHTER

"I Don't Care What Becomes of Me," Says Blanche Tobias.

SCORES FAMILY

Attorneys Will Fight Proposed Commitment to Asylum.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 25.—"I don't care what becomes of me, but I want my little girl to have a fair chance—the chance I never had," Mrs. Blanche Tobias, girl wife, who goes on trial today on a manslaughter charge as a result of her self-confessed strangling of her baby son, declared at the county jail.

Mrs. Tobias confessed that she strangled the baby at the county infirmary October 25. Her daughter, for whom she expressed concern, is 19 months of age and an inmate of the county infirmary.

"Whatever happens I don't want the Tobias family to have my baby," she added.

While the mother expressed her unconcern, her attorneys were preparing to combat plans of the state to commit her to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

"We will fight to the last against this proposal," Judge W. E. Weygandt, one of the defense counsel, announced today. "Our investigation of the case has shown nothing to warrant committing Mrs. Tobias to the State hospital. Everything we have dug up has shown that Mrs. Tobias' past life has been normal, and we are going to introduce testimony to convince the jury that this is true."

Prosecutor J. O. Fritz declared today that he would ask that Mrs. Tobias be sent to the Lima institution, but that if his efforts failed, he would place evidence before the jury relating to the strangling of the child.

Mrs. Tobias, at the time of the baby's death, first told authorities that she strangled it because her husband denied he was the father of the baby, and she thought it "wouldn't have a chance."

Women's organizations throughout the state have interested themselves in providing for her defense.

store room in the Ikirt building, a blaze resulted. Another fire occurred on July 22, 1919, when the store was located in the Milligan building, but no damage resulted. The Breakstone dwelling 1606 Pennsylvania avenue, was slightly damaged on Oct. 30, 1920.

Razing of the ruined walls of the Milligan building and the clearing of the alleys in the fire area was under way today. The walls of the Wasbutzky building, occupied by the Moyer Brothers store, still stand, pending a report of insurance adjusters. None of the fire victims has made definite plans for rebuilding.

Sunday's blaze caused less damage to telephones in the business district than any other big fire of any importance in the history of the city, officials of the Ohio Bell Telephone company said. Except for the telephones, which were located in the ruined buildings, only about a dozen lines were put out of commission and these were restored early Monday morning.

Most of the telephones in the business district are connected with an underground cable which is laid through Diamond alley, and this was not damaged by the fire.

Wood's Valet Sails As Bankrupt Boss Awaits Trip Funds

PARIS, Feb. 25—Chang, for four years valet to Lieut. Osborne Butler Wood before Wood's abrupt departure from Paris after heavy losses at Biarritz gaming tables, departed today for Manila, alone and much broken up.

Tears streamed down the Chinese's wrinkled cheeks as he climbed into a third class compartment of a Marseilles train. He refused to eat before his departure.

"What I tell General?" he asked, plaintively, referring apparently to Major General Leonard Wood, father of Osborne Wood, and Governor-General of the Phillippines. "General say, 'Chang, you very bad servant. You no take care Osborne.' How I explain not my fault?"

Wood was reported today to be in Madrid, awaiting the arrival from friends of funds with which to pay his passage back to the United States.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—There was considerable unsettlement in the stock market in the early trading today. Further liquidations from outside points in the oil and industrial stocks resulted in heavy offerings of active stocks in these groups and price trends were lower. This outside selling was due in part to the effect of the five per cent. Call loan rate which was put into effect at the close of Tuesday's session. There were a few exceptions to the rule but mostly in the public utility stocks and specialties. Shifting out of the oils caused some heaviness in that section of the market.

Speculative attention turned again to the railroad stocks and good buying appeared all through this list. Chicago, Great Western common and preferred, Chicago and Alton, New Haven, and St. Paul were the leaders in the low priced rails, while Atchison, Lehigh Valley, Reading and Southern Railway led the dividend stocks. The Van Sweringen stocks were in good demand at top prices: Rock Island made a better showing than in the last two sessions and St. Paul preferred returned to 22½ up to 3 points from the low of last break. Buying of St. Paul was accompanied by rumors that a favorable statement relative to the roads refunding problem would be issued by Mr. Bryam this week and that it was unlikely that the road would be forced into receivership.

The equipment stocks were the next to resume theid forward movement. American Locomotive advancing 2 points to 132¼. American Car and Foundry up 2; Baldwin up 2 and Lima Locomotive fractionally higher.

Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent., compared with the five per cent rate in effect at Tuesday's close. Grain markets were reactionary at the start but cotton continued the improvement noted in yesterday's session. The midweek steel trade reviews reported fresh buying as spring approaches but a slight decline in operation of steel mills. Tthe steel corporation is running at 93½ per cent. of capacity compared with 95 per cent. two weeks ago, according to the Iron Trade Review.

Columbia Gas was the most active of the public utility stocks and reached a new high for the year above 50 on good buying. Radio corporation and Savage Arms continued their advance and corn products was active at slightly higher prices. United States Steel and the independent steel stocks were reactionary and oil stocks lost further ground in the second hour.

Senator McCormick

Kinley, the senate adopted resolutions of regret and adjourned for the day.

Rumors that McCormick might have taken his own life was dispelled when it was announced that the district coroner was prepared to issue a certificate of death from natural causes.

Despite his defeat for renomination in the last Illinois primaries, McCormick had not intended to retire to private life and was under consideration for appointment as United States ambassador to Paris or some other important European post.

As a member of the senate foreign relations committee, McCormick came into prominence during the famous league of nations fight. He was enrolled among the irreconcillables, who opposed ratification of the Versailles treaty under any consideration.

Accused Poisoner Of Two Brothers Awaits Her Fate

MRS. BERNICE DAY, DYING, BLAMES MOTHER-IN-LAW FOR LOSS OF LOVE

Pretty Wife Who Disfigured Son of Chicago Millionaire Says Husband's Mother Shattered Their Romance.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Bernice Day, who swallowed a poison potion after throwing acid in the face of her husband, Darby Day Jr., son of the Chicago millionaire, was in a critical condition today. Physicians said her recovery was doubtful.

Caroline Lundstrom, the wife's sister, for whom a warrant was issued charging her with "aiding and abetting" the acid attack, surrendered and was released in the custody of her mother.

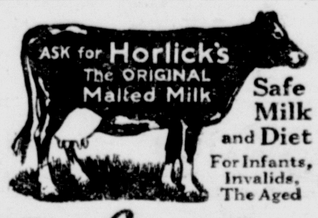

Young Day, who may lose the sight of one eye and suffer fearful facial diffigurements from acid burns, was under the care of specialists, employed at the instance of his wealthy father, reported hurrying to his son's bedside.

In a note to her husband written shortly before the alleged attack, Mrs. Day charged their romance had been shattered by "too much mother-in-law".

"Mothers-in-law should not live with young married people", the girl wrote.

Mrs. Day, Jr., said to be the daughter of a wealthy contractor now in Miami, Fla., told her sister Caroline, according to Mrs. Lindstrom's story to police, that her mother-in-law had "made things so unpleasant" for her she could not be happy.

Chicago Girl

er went down the back way with some ashes and I asked father to move so I could have more room to iron.

"He got up and went into the bedroom—the next room—to lie down.

"Then he called to me.

"'Come here a minute, Rose,' he said.

"'Come here and kiss me,' he said.

"I knew what that meant and I started to run away.

"He jumped and grabbed me and we fought about the bedroom. Soon we were near a dresser and I remembered there was a gun in the drawer. While he was holding me and trying to kiss me, I reached back and got hold of it. I put it close to him and shot. He fell back a little ways and I shot again and again and again.

Police Investigate.

"I don't know how many times I fired but when things cleared up, father was lying there at my feet, bleeding and very still.

"I stooped over and touched him and called to him, but he didn't answer. I wasn't sorry but I wanted to know if there was anything I could do for him. Finally, I decided he was dead and I left the room and closed the door.

"I went out of the house an walked. I must have gone quite a ways when I decided I'd have to tell police. So I came in here. And that's all, I guess."

The girl was booked on a temporary charge while police conducted an investigation.

BABY SLAYER URGES CHANCE FOR DAUGHTER

"I Don't Care What Becomes of Me," Says Blanche Tobias.

SCORES FAMILY

Attorneys Will Fight Proposed Commitment to Asylum.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 25.—"I don't care what becomes of me, but I want my little girl to have a fair chance—the chance I never had," Mrs. Blanche Tobias, girl wife, who goes on trial today on a manslaughter charge as a result of her self-confessed strangling of her baby son, declared at the county jail.

Mrs. Tobias confessed that she strangled the baby at the county infirmary October 25. Her daughter, for whom she expressed concern, is 19 months of age and an inmate of the county infirmary.

"Whatever happens I don't want the Tobias family to have my baby," she added.

While the mother expressed her unconcern, her attorneys were preparing to combat plans of the state to commit her to the Lima state hospital for the criminal insane.

"We will fight to the last against this proposal," Judge W. E. Weygandt, one of the defense counsel, announced today. "Our investigation of the case has shown nothing to warrant committing Mrs. Tobias to the State hospital. Everything we have dug up has shown that Mrs. Tobias' past life has been normal, and we are going to introduce testimony to convince the jury that this is true."

Prosecutor J. O. Fritz declared today that he would ask that Mrs. Tobias be sent to the Lima institution, but that if his efforts failed, he would place evidence before the jury relating to the strangling of the child.

Mrs. Tobias, at the time of the baby's death, first told authorities that she strangled it because her husband denied he was the father of the baby, and she thought it "wouldn't have a chance."

Women's organizations throughout the state have interested themselves in providing for her defense.

store room in the Ikirt building, a blaze resulted. Another fire occurred on July 22, 1919, when the store was located in the Milligan building, but no damage resulted. The Breakstone dwelling 1606 Pennsylvania avenue, was slightly damaged on Oct. 30, 1920.

Razing of the ruined walls of the Milligan building and the clearing of the alleys in the fire area was under way today. The walls of the Wasbutzky building, occupied by the Moyer Brothers store, still stand, pending a report of insurance adjusters. None of the fire victims has made definite plans for rebuilding.

Sunday's blaze caused less damage to telephones in the business district than any other big fire of any importance in the history of the city, officials of the Ohio Bell Telephone company said. Except for the telephones, which were located in the ruined buildings, only about a dozen lines were put out of commission and these were restored early Monday morning.

Most of the telephones in the business district are connected with an underground cable which is laid through Diamond alley, and this was not damaged by the fire.

Wood's Valet Sails As Bankrupt Boss Awaits Trip Funds

PARIS, Feb. 25—Chang, for four years valet to Lieut. Osborne Butler Wood before Wood's abrupt departure from Paris after heavy losses at Biarritz gaming tables, departed today for Manila, alone and much broken up.

Tears streamed down the Chinese's wrinkled cheeks as he climbed into a third class compartment of a Marseilles train. He refused to eat before his departure.

"What I tell General?" he asked, plaintively, referring apparently to Major General Leonard Wood, father of Osborne Wood, and Governor-General of the Phillippines. "General say, 'Chang, you very bad servant. You no take care Osborne.' How I explain not my fault?"

Wood was reported today to be in Madrid, awaiting the arrival from friends of funds with which to pay his passage back to the United States.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—There was considerable unsettlement in the stock market in the early trading today. Further liquidations from outside points in the oil and industrial stocks resulted in heavy offerings of active stocks in these groups and price trends were lower. This outside selling was due in part to the effect of the five per cent. Call loan rate which was put into effect at the close of Tuesday's session. There were a few exceptions to the rule but mostly in the public utility stocks and specialties. Shifting out of the oils caused some heaviness in that section of the market.

Speculative attention turned again to the railroad stocks and good buying appeared all through this list. Chicago, Great Western common and preferred, Chicago and Alton, New Haven, and St. Paul were the leaders in the low priced rails, while Atchison, Lehigh Valley, Reading and Southern Railway led the dividend stocks. The Van Sweringen stocks were in good demand at top prices: Rock Island made a better showing than in the last two sessions and St. Paul preferred returned to 22½ up to 3 points from the low of last break. Buying of St. Paul was accompanied by rumors that a favorable statement relative to the roads refunding problem would be issued by Mr. Bryam this week and that it was unlikely that the road would be forced into receivership.

The equipment stocks were the next to resume theid forward movement. American Locomotive advancing 2 points to 132¼. American Car and Foundry up 2; Baldwin up 2 and Lima Locomotive fractionally higher.

Call money renewed at 4¼ per cent., compared with the five per cent rate in effect at Tuesday's close. Grain markets were reactionary at the start but cotton continued the improvement noted in yesterday's session. The midweek steel trade reviews reported fresh buying as spring approaches but a slight decline in operation of steel mills. Tthe steel corporation is running at 93½ per cent. of capacity compared with 95 per cent, two weeks ago, according to the Iron Trade Review.

Columbia Gas was the most active of the public utility stocks and reached a new high for the year above 50 on good buying. Radio corporation and Savage Arms continued their advance and corn products was active at slightly higher prices. United States Steel and the independent steel stocks were reactionary and oil stocks lost further ground in the second hour.

Kinley, the senate adopted resolutions of regret and adjourned for the day.

Rumors that McCormick might have taken his own life was dispelled when it was announced that the district coroner was prepared to issue a certificate of death from natural causes.

Despite his defeat for renomination in the last Illinois primaries, McCormick had not intended to retire to private life and was under consideration for appointment as United States ambassador to Paris or some other important European post.

As a member of the senate foreign relations committee, McCormick came into prominence during the famous league of nations fight. He was enrolled among the irreconcillables, who opposed ratification of the Versailles treaty under any consideration.

MRS. BERNICE DAY, DYING, BLAMES MOTHER-IN-LAW FOR LOSS OF LOVE

Pretty Wife Who Disfigured Son of Chicago Millionaire Says Husband's Mother Shattered Their Romance.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Bernice Day, who swallowed a poison potion after throwing acid in the face of her husband, Darby Day Jr., son of the Chicago millionaire, was in a critical condition today. Physicians said her recovery was doubtful.

Caroline Lundstrom, the wife's sister, for whom a warrant was issued charging her with "aiding and abetting" the acid attack, surrendered and was released in the custody of her mother.

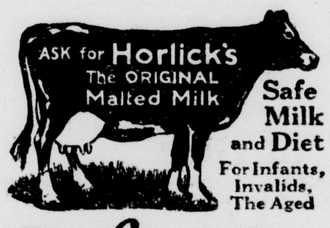

Young Day, who may lose the sight of one eye and suffer fearful facial difigurements from acid burns, was under the care of specialists, employed at the instance of his wealthy father, reported hurrying to his son's bedside.

In a note to her husband written shortly before the alleged attack, Mrs. Day charged their romance had been shattered by "too much mother-in-law".

"Mothers-in-law should not live with young married people", the girl wrote.

Mrs. Day, Jr., said to be the daughter of a wealthy contractor now in Miami, Fla., told her sister Caroline, according to Mrs. Lindstrom's story to police, that her mother-in-law had "made things so unpleasant" for her she could not be happy.

BULLET WOUNDS PROVE FATAL

Mrs. Michael Desmo Dies; Three are Held by Police.

Mrs. Michael Desmo, 35 years old, who was shot down in the doorway of her home in Broadway Sunday night, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the East Liverpool hospital, her death marking the second fatality in the Sunday double shooting.

As a result of the woman's death, Tony Scarbino, who Monday was placed under a bond of $10,000 by Mayor J. S. Barnes, on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, was re-arrested last night and locked up. The charge will be changed to that of murder in the first degree, according to police authorities here.

Fred Long and Dominick Strathers, arrested in Lisbon by Patrolman Roy Lewton on information filed by local police, will also face charges of murder in the first degree, Chief of Police John Fultz announced today. They are in jail here as a result of Mrs. Desmo's death.

According to police information, an automobile drove into Broadway on Sunday night shortly after 9:30 o'clock. It stopped on the side of the street opposite the Desmo home. An occupant of the car stepped out, crossed the street and rapped on the door of the residence, it is reported. When Mrs. Desmo opened the door, the man discharged a revolver at her and then stepped back. A shotgun, it is believed, was fired from the automobile.

Authorities at first did not expect Mrs. Desmo's wounds to result fatally. Coroner J. M. VanFossan of East Palestine, will conduct an inquest over the body this afternoon at the D. N. McLean morgue here.

Funeral services for Rocco Venzetto, killed Sunday afternoon, were held from the Immaculate Conception church this morning.

Long, Strathers and Scarbino are expected to get hearings tomorrow before Mayor James S. Barnes.

Scarbino has retained Attorney W. A. O'Grady for his defense. Strathers and Long will be represented by Attorney James E. O'Grady.

NORMANDY FOUR TO GIVE CONCERT

The Normandy Singers and Bell Ringers, under the management of Colt-Aber Bureaus, of Cleveland, will give a concert on Monday evening, March 2, in the high school auditorium, school officials announced today.

The Normandy Singers are four young men, each of whom has acquired considerable vocal prominence. They are not only musical, but musically amusing as well, for there is fun on their program, neatly sandwiched in between their vocal and bell numbers.

In the bell ringing work the Normandy boys are at their best. They have perhaps the finest set of English hand-bells in existence. The peal of 100 bells was manufactured by John Taylor & Co., of Loughborough, Leivestershire, England, costing $2,500. They are said to be unequalled for constancy of tone, pitch, resonance and tonal quality. Their special number, "A Sunday Morning in London," is a feature of the program.

Pullman Surcharges

In the good old days the Pullman car business was quite simple, as far as passengers were concerned. The passenger paid his fare, at the current rate per mile for transportation, regardless of whether he was to be carried in a coach or a parlor or sleeping car. Then, if he wanted the more comfortable accommodation of the Pullman, he paid a set price for that, also based on distance. The Pullman people got the Pullman money and settled with the railroads for hauling their cars.

For several years now there has been a war-time "surcharge" of 50 per cent added by the railroads to the fare for transportation, in the case of passengers using Pullmans. This has been expensive to patrons and also somewhat confusing.

Congress wants to eliminate the surcharge, and will deserve well of the public and probably not deal the railroads any fatal blow if it succeeds. It is said that the roads which will lose most in losing this surcharge are making plenty of money anyway—far in excess of their 5½ per cent profit quotas. It seems reasonable that the charges for straight transportation should be simple and uniform. If Pullman charges are not high enough for a fair profit, that is another question. But there doesn't seem to be much of an argument about that.

The present system, too, hits long-distance travelers—the tourist and the man who does business on a broad scale. Both of these classes should be encouraged to make more use of the railroads.

Garden Plans

A flower garden contest is scheduled for the week that ends March and begins April, to be held at the Cleveland annual flower show. Persons entering the contest apply to the floor show headquarters for a miniature model of single, double or suburban home. With a little house for a beginning, every contestant is to plan suitable surrounding gardens, lawns and hedges. Of course, there are prizes for the loveliest models. Contestants are already beginning to work on their garden plans.

It would be hard to think of a pleasanter indoor occupation for the next few weeks than this one of planning lovely gardens and suitable trees and shrubbery decorations for one's yard. Garden clubs are becoming so popular that the yards of small homes will soon be as artistically designed and arranged as great estates which employ special landscape artists.

Everyone should have some sort of a garden, if only a potted plant or window box. Much can be learned from growing plants and practically limitless satisfaction and happiness can be attained through them.

Slowing-Up Too Soon

Charles G. D. Roberts, Canadian naturalist and author, whose works are much read in the United States, said recently in a public address, "No one should allow himself to be perfectly contented before 95." Perfect contentment he considers fatal to further growth or achievement.

Possibly he was taking liberties with the dictionary meaning of "content" and "contentment," but his meaning is quite clear and reasonable. Dissatisfaction with life in general, continual fault-finding, is not what he advocates at all. But he would keep himself always "on the job," ready to recognize and accept a new task when an old one is finished, ready to see and take up new interests when old ones are exhausted, never smugly satisfied to stop most of his activities and continue only eating and sleeping.

Contentment as he means it in the advice quoted is stagnant and decay. If more people felt as he does about avoiding perfect contentment before 95, perhaps fewer persons would be shelved in their sixties.

A California scientist holds that the first man lived where Santa Barbara now stands. And when you consider the climate, it seems likely that the last man will live there.

Europe is so mad at America for trying to collect loans that it keeps right on borrowing American money.

There's no accounting for human nature. People who rejoiced to see the price of wheat go up are now kicking about the cost of bread.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

THE NEW NEAR EAST CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A new crisis has been precipitated in the Near East by the expulsion of the ecumenical patriarch of the Greek Orthodox church from Constantinople by the Turkish Nationalist government. News of this was broadcast just about the time it became evident that filibustering and pressure of business in the senate would probably defer until next session consideration by that body of the treaty between the United States and uTrkey.

Now it has become a matter of general interest with respect to its possible effect, also, upon the Lausanne treaty recently executed between Turkey and the allies, and numerous inquiries are being made as to just what the patriachate is, what it stands for in the minds of the Greek people, and what relationship it bears to the treaty of Lausanne.

The original patriarchs were the three fathers of the Hebrew race, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. The patriarchal form of government prevailed in a state of society in which the people were not yet organized into a nation, but consisted of independent tribes, clans or families under the government of the head of the family. Later the title of patriarch was assumed by the presidents of the sanhedrim, which exercised authority over the Jews of Syria and Persia after the fall of Jerusalem. The patriarchate of Tiberias for the western Jews lasted until the year 415, and that of Babylon for the eastern Jews until 1038.

From them the term was borrowed by the Christians, who applied it to the bishops of Rome, Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch and Jerusalem. These patriarchs consecrated and supervised the archbishops and bishops within their jurisdictions, which were great metropolitan sees of much wider jurisdiction than other metropolitans.

The three earliest instances seem to be connected with a tradition of the establishment of these sees by St. Peter. These are the three which the first council of Nicaea asserts to have been recognized by ancient custom—Rome, Alexandria and Antioch. After the translation of the seat of empire to Byzantium, thenceforward called Constantinople, that see was given first metropolitan and then patriarchal rank, being ranked second only to Rome.

DATES FROM FOURTH CENTURY

The council of Constantinople in the year 381 gave the bishop of that see prerogatives next after Rome, and the council of Chalceon in 451 confirmed this, decreeing that this canon actually conferred an equality of prerogatives with Rome, still leaving the latter, however, a higher rank. Since that time Constantinople has always stood at the head of the orthodox Oriental sees, and since the sixth century its bishop has borne the title of ecumenical patriarch.

From this it will be appreciatde readily that the expulsion of the ecumenical patriarch has precisely the same effect upon the Greek church that the expulsion of the Pope would have upon the Roman Catholic church. Indeed, the situation is said to be even more emphatic than this. The patriarchate is almost the one existing vestige left to the Greek people to recall to them the ancient greatness of the Byzantine empire. The office and the holder of the office bridge the gap in a curious way between modern times and the old days when the name of Greece spelled power.

For centuries Greece was under the domination of Turkey, and when in 1831 that hold was broken the patriarchate came again into the prestige of which not even Turkish oppression had been able wholly to rob it. And it is by no means true that the patriarchate has merely a political or sentimental significance. To a people as intensely religious as the Greek the office is invested with a peculiar and a sacred dignity. To touch it, to strike at it, is to strike at the Greek people at the two points upon which all peoples are most susceptible—their national honor and their religion.

By the treaty of Lausanne, Turkey agreed that the office of patriarchate should remain in Constantinople undisturbed. Quite naturally it was taken for granted by Greece that the office of patriarch included the person of the holder of the title.

Now, however, Turkey has deftly evaded the issue by expelling the patriarch and yet maintaining that the office itself remains undisturbed.

NUMEROUS QUESTIONS ARISE

The situation admittedly is a peculiar one and gives rise to numerous questions that puzzle diplomats and religious authorities. What is to be the outcome? Is there to be a patriarchate without a patriarch? Must the patriarchate be removed from Constantinople, its ancient seat? It has been stipulated by the treaty of Lausanne that it be permitted to remain there unmolested. Shall another patriarch be appointed to fill the place of the one expelled? And is there any assurance that a new patriarch would not be removed in similar fashion?

It is generally recognized that above all things Greece needs and desires peace. For ten long years, from 1912 to 1923, she knew only war, and now she is fully occupied in coping with the aftermath of those wars. Perhaps the most serious problem that engages her is that of caring for the vast refugee population that has sought a haven on her shores.

Even as it stands, the situation with respect to this is an intensely difficult one, and were it not for the generosity of the American people, expressed through various relief movements, it would have been impossible of solution. Those who are in close touch with this work say that in the circumstances it seems peculiarly unfortunate that further and entirely unnecessary aggravations and complications should develop.

There are today, it is estimated, fully 1,500,000 refugees in Greece. Of this number at least one-third, or 500,000, are destitute, and of these unfortunates 80 per cent are women and children. To save and further to absorb this vast horde of people is a burden sufficient to tax the strength of almost any country, to say nothing of a country of Greece's limited population and resources. And, too, practically all these refugees have come from Asia Minor and to them the patriarchate has been for centuries the one concrete tie that bound them to the mother country. They cannot look unmoved at the expulsion of the patriarch.

There are various doctrinal differences between the Greek and the Roman Catholic churches, as well as differences in the ritual and liturgies. Marriage is permitted to priests of the eastern church, but bishops must be unmarried.

Because of the rule of celibacy for bishops, the latter are chosen from the members of the monastic orders. These are numerous and generally follow the ancient rule of Saint Basil.

Harold's Hard Luck With His Wide Pants— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Fifth avenue struggles bravely to preserve its aristocratic air. But the truth is that rigor mortis is setting in for the avenue's aristocracy. With two 5 and 10-cent stores and three eat and run cafes of white tile from Thirty-fourth street to the Plaza the end is near.

Ten years ago the avenue strung its amber lighted way in signless austerity. There was a howl of protest when a small brass sign reading "Delmonico's" was placed inconspicuously in front of that now dead and gone cafe.

While the avenue hasn't as yet any blinking electric signs its windows and facades are plastered with gilt and brass heralds of commerce. Outside of Tiffany's and Altman's every house of trade bears a conspicuous sign.

Helen Gould's home at the corner of Forty-seventh street is the only fine old mansion left in the steady northward march of trade. Even the window boxes blooming with flowers seem today out of place in the roar and confusion.

One of the largest department stores in town now occupies a block where limousines with liveried footmen awaited grand dames on afternoon calls. Cheap-john stores are blooming in basements. And across from the cathedral is a walk up one flight and save ten dollars tailor.

There is much speculation as to just what is New York's most aristocratic street. Madison avenue lays claim to the old Murray Hill section where the Morgans and other big bankers have prevented its spoilation by business.

Park avenue with its well terraced mall offers the best possibilities, but shops are springing up there rapidly. Millionaire's Row is a name only. A dozen of the fine home that graced this strip are being torn down for ornate apartment houses.

Yet Fifth avenue continues to strut at the 5 o'clock parade hour. The anaemic young man with the chrysanthemum; the arty young lady with the swagger stick; the movie star with young ideas; the tweedy youths with monocles, and now and then the lady with the coach and four are still to be seen.

On Tenth avenue there is a row of houses occupied by clairvoyants and seers who thrive on the gullibility of those seeking a tip-off from the Beyond. It is called Fortune Telling Row. The brisk-est trade is after the theater at night, when chorus girls and others of the stage go there to learn of the future and what it holds. Most of them, it may be said, patronize the places more in a spirit of adventure.

Joseph Hergesheimer, James Branch Cabell, Theodore Dreiser and George Jean Nathan have all written exhaustive and critical appreciations of Lillian Gish, the movie star. Yet at a theater next door Ben Turpin was playing and the box office receipts were higher than those where Miss Gish was displaying her subtle and elusive charms.

Chaplin, if any one cares, is my favorite of all the film folk. Yet I find myself not so red hot of late in my enthusiasm. He seems to me to be doing all the old tricks over again. In fact, none of the arts so needs a new face or new gestures as the motion picture. The most enterprising and enthralling thing about the movie today is the news picture reel. A theater offering an hour of them and nothing else, I venture, could be filled at each performance.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By CHARLES LEAVELLE.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 25.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, "discoverer" of the North Pole and Arctic explorer, confined here under sentence of 14 years in the federal prison for oil stock frauds, may write a book—or, rather, another book.

The prosposed volume would contain reminiscences of his past life, anecdotes of his travels and incidents of prison life—he has been in the Tarrant county jail a year for failure to make appeal bond—interspersed with dashes of his brand of philosophy.

Dr. Cook believes book writing will help occupy his mind. He now partially manages this detail by doing all manner of fancy work. Visit him at the jail, and he will show you a mass of doilies, centerpieces, and what not, completed during his period of residence there.

The "explorer" spends hours each day at his sewing, while other inmates of the jail cluster about his chair, either to be beguiled with stories of his adventures in the far north or to absorb his philosophy of life.

And Dr. Cook's fellow prisoners are his disciples, at least as far as the philosophy is concerned. They are always ready to hear more. The "explorer" never tells the same story twice, except on request, his jailers say. He is a good story teller, too, they say.

"The dramatic way he puts them over gets under your skin," the jailers declare.

Since being imprisoned Dr. Cook has lost his mustache and much of his expensive wardrobe, but none of his dignity. But, then, he is hardly a prisoner—in the strictest sense of the word—he is more of a demi-god, for the other prisoners idolize him.

He is judge of the "kangaroo" court, presides at the head of the prison dining table and acts as a sort of counselor to the other inmates.

Dr. Cook was intensely interested in the race to Nome of dog-teams bearing antitoxin to stay the diphtheria epidemic there. He says he has traveled most of the trail taken by the mushers.

"But it was nothing more than is going on there every day," he says. "More dramatic, perhaps, but not very unusual. It is a land of heroism."

Dr. Cook's attorneys are preparing an appeal of his case to the United States supreme court. His prison sentence and fine of $12,000 were recently confirmed by the circuit of appeals at New Orleans.

Texas scientists have become excited in the belief that a mastodon lies buried near McQueeny, in Guadalupe county. Funds to finance excavations are being raised. Pieces of bone and bits of a giant tooth led to the discovery, after digging, of a 15-pound tooth.

This is the first trace of a mastodon found in Texas, although the southern portion of the state has yielded fossils and petrified remains of sea monsters and prehistoric specimens of both animal and vegetable life of the sea.

Ever since the violins of the Amatis, particularly those of Nicolas and Stradivarius, won universal applause it has been the ambition of violin makers to produce an instrument combining the tone qualities seemingly lost since the death of these two great masters. The violins of Nicolas were noted for their clear, sweet tones, and those of Stradivarius were famous for their power and breadth of tone.

W. H. Wets, aged violin maker, of this city, has produced an instrument which, experts declare, is the nearest approach they have seen to the violins of the two old makers. Wets conducted a long and careful study of Stradivarius and Nicolas violins several years ago, and he has a valuable collection of rare old instruments.

DINNER STORIES

When the Earl of Bradford was brought before the lord chancellor to be examined on the application for a statute of lunacy against him, the question was asked him from the woolsack:

"How many feet has a sheep?"

"Does your lordship," answered Lord Bradford, "mean a live sheep, or a dead sheep?"

"Is it not the same thing?" said the chancellor.

"No, my lord," returned Lord Bradford. "There is much difference; a live sheep may have four legs, a dead sheep has only two; the two forelegs are shoulders, but there are only two legs of mutton!"

The negro minister was trying to impress his hearers with the shame and remorse felt by the prodigal son, and with his desire to cast away his wicked doings:

"Dis young man got to thinking about his meanness and his misery, and he tuk off his coat and frowed it away. nd den he tuk off his vest and frowed dat away. nd den he tuk off his shirt and frowed dat away, too. And den he come to hisself."

A SHAM BATTLE

Between now and March 12 there is to be a great naval sham battle off the coast of Lower California, and it is well named "sham" battle, since no such battle will occur in future wars, just as none occurred in the late war.

Involved in the sham battle will be 30 of the battleships—not our best, we sank those—and in addition to the battleships there will be 120 other war vessels, with crews in all totaling 40,000 men. Nice target for foreign flyers!

AND "SHAM" IS THE WORD

The investment represented will amount to a billion of dollars at least.

Please note that airplanes, costing less than one-tenth of one per cent of that amount, could sink the whole fleet and call it an easy day's work.

Also, that if there were real war, the first step would be to hide our battleships, camouflaging them inside safe harbors to keep them from aerial bombers. "Sham battle" is the right name.

There will be flying machines in the sham battle, of course, if they don't fall down and drown the pilots. "Twenty squadrons of airplanes," you are told, will take part. What is a squadron? It has been testified that we have just 20 planes in all fit to fight. Is one plane a squadron?

And what orders will be issued to the pilots to carry out the army and navy theory that airplanes do not count in war. Will the men be told to miss the ships carefully when they start dropping imitation bombs on them?

Something must be done to protect the profits of those that build $45,000,000 battleships.

Theodore Roosevelt's letters, just published, show that Senator Lodge wrote to him from Washington on July 6, 1898, after a visit to the war department:

"I was perfectly appalled by the utter lack of efficiency, organization or plan there displayed by the head of the department."

In the same letter Lodge wrote: "How we get on as well as we do, I cannot imagine," and he says, with the self confidence that was not lacking in him, "I was a rank outsider and have no military education or experience, but I could have taken those questions up which they are muddling over and settled them in an hour."

Muddling stupidity, a war department owned by the packers of embalmed beef, was not so dangerous then. The oceans east and west then meant real defense. When war did come, it came from Spain, providentially. Any attacking power would have had to land troops here, and fight here. Now troops would stay at home. Fliers would come. Dropping bombs; then flying on to land in Canada, on neutral soil, to be interned, and more fliers would come.

The danger to this country is very great. There is danger also to the peace of mind of those responsible for leaving the nation unprotected. The bombing of any big American city would mean an unpleasant quarter of an hour for them, if it lasted as long as 15 minutes.

IN DEADLY DANGER

While the richest country in the world, envied and deeply hated by at least 90 per cent of Europe and Asia, remains unprotected, it is in deadly danger.

And while the danger lasts the task of eliminating it is the chief duty of every citizen.

Write to your congressman and to your two senators your opinion of our army and navy departments that apparently don't know the flying machine has been invented. Write to the president. He is glad to hear from any citizen.

IT INTERESTS YOU

Don't be made bashful by the thought, "I am upholding my opinion against experts." No experts are involved. The head of the army knows about the stock brokerage business, but he knows as little about aviation as any child, and hasn't even the imagination to help him realize what war in the air will mean.

As a secretary of war he is a first-class stock broker.

The secretary of the navy, taken from the bench lately, knows as little about flying as about playing the harp. Brigadier General Mitchell says, "Give me one of your old discarded battleships for a target and I'll sink it for you in from one to four minutes from an airplane."

They refuse his request because they are afraid that he could do it. General Mitchell is an expert, and they threaten to demote and humiliate him for telling the truth and annoying the Strasburg geese in charge of national defense.

Hear from another brigadier general, the Rt. Hon. Lord Thomson, who was chief of Britain's flying service, writing in the Survey:

"The World war started in the British Isles on August 4, 1914. If at that time aviation had attained its present development the first bombing attack on London could have been made during the evening of that first day of mobilization.

"Moreover, if the German air force had been as powerful as the French air force is at the present time, it would have been able to drop anything up to 70 tons of bombs daily on London or other important centers in the British Isles."

Lord Thomson, a real expert, goes on to say that another great war might be settled once and for all by "a great aerial battle."

Here in America, when an expert like General Mitchell tells unpleasant truths about our lack of defense, we try to gag him with threats.

When that does not stop him the congressional committee abandons its investigation, like the three little Japanese monkeys with hands on their eyes, ears and mouths that they might see, hear and speak no evil.

Pullman Surcharges

In the good old days the Pullman car business was quite simple, as far as passengers were concerned. The passenger paid his fare, at the current rate per mile for transportation, regardless of whether he was to be carried in a coach or a parlor or sleeping car. Then, if he wanted the more comfortable accommodation of the Pullman, he paid a set price for that, also based on distance. The Pullman people got the Pullman money and settled with the railroads for hauling their cars.

For several years now there has been a war-time "surcharge" of 50 per cent added by the railroads to the fare for transportation, in the case of passengers using Pullmans. This has been expensive to patrons and also somewhat confusing.

Congress wants to eliminate the surcharge, and will deserve well of the public and probably not deal the railroads any fatal blow if it succeeds. It is said that the roads which will lose most in losing this surcharge are making plenty of money anyway—far in excess of their 5½ per cent profit quotas. It seems reasonable that the charges for straight transportation should be simple and uniform. If Pullman charges are not high enough for a fair profit, that is another question. But there doesn't seem to be much of an argument about that.

The present system, too, hits long-distance travelers—the tourist and the man who does business on a broad scale. Both of these classes should be encouraged to make more use of the railroads.

Garden Plans

A flower garden contest is scheduled for the week that ends March and begins April, to be held at the Cleveland annual flower show. Persons entering the contest apply to the floor show headquarters for a miniature model of single, double or suburban home. With a little house for a beginning, every contestant is to plan suitable surrounding gardens, lawns and hedges. Of course, there are prizes for the loveliest models. Contestants are already beginning to work on their garden plans.

It would be hard to think of a pleasanter indoor occupation for the next few weeks than this one of planning lovely gardens and suitable trees and shrubbery decorations for one's yard. Garden clubs are becoming so popular that the yards of small homes will soon be as artistically designed and arranged as great estates which employ special landscape artists.

Everyone should have some sort of a garden, if only a potted plant or window box. Much can be learned from growing plants and practically limitless satisfaction and happiness can be attained through them.

Slowing-Up Too Soon

Charles G. D. Roberts, Canadian naturalist and author, whose works are much read in the United States, said recently in a public address, "No one should allow himself to be perfectly contented before 95." Perfect contentment he considers fatal to further growth or achievement.

Possibly he was taking liberties with the dictionary meaning of "content" and "contentment," but his meaning is quite clear and reasonable. Dissatisfaction with life in general, continual fault-finding, is not what he advocates at all. But he would keep himself always "on the job," ready to recognize and accept a new task when an old one is finished, ready to see and take up new interests when old ones are exhausted, never smugly satisfied to stop most of his activities and continue only eating and sleeping.

Contentment as he means it in the advice quoted is stagnant and decay. If more people felt as he does about avoiding perfect contentment before 95, perhaps fewer persons would be shelved in their sixties.

A California scientist holds that the first man lived where Santa Barbara now stands. And when you consider the climate, it seems likely that the last man will live there.

Europe is so mad at America for trying to collect loans that it keeps right on borrowing American money.

There's no accounting for human nature. People who rejoiced to see the price of wheat go up are now kicking about the cost of bread.

THE NEW NEAR EAST CRISIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A new crisis has been precipitated in the Near East by the expulsion of the ecumenical patriarch of the Greek Orthodox church from Constantinople by the Turkish Nationalist government. News of this was broadcast just about the time it became evident that filibustering and pressure of business in the senate would probably defer until next session consideration by that body of the treaty between the United States and uTrkey.

Now it has become a matter of general interest with respect to its possible effect, also, upon the Lausanne treaty recently executed between T[illegible] and the allies, and numerous inquiries are being made as to just what the patriachate is, what it stands for in the minds of the Greek people, and what relationship it bears to the treaty of Lausanne.

The original patriarchs were the three fathers of the Hebrew race, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. The patriarchal form of government prevailed in a state of society in which the people were not yet organized into a nation, but consisted of independent tribes, clans or families under the government of the head of the family. Ten years ago the avenue strung its amber lighted way in signless austerity. There was a howl of protest when a small brass sign reading "Delmonico's" was placed inconspicuously in front of that now dead and gone cafe.

While the avenue hasn't as yet any blinking electric signs its windows and facades are plastered with gilt and brass heraids of commerce. Outside of Tiffany's and Altman's every house of trade bears a conspicuous sign.

Helen Gould's home at the corner of Forty-seventh street is the only fine old mansion left in the steady northward march of trade. Even the window boxes blooming with flowers seem today out of place in the roar and confusion.

One of the largest department stores in town now occupies a block where limousines with liveried footmen awaited grand dames on afternoon calls. Cheap-john stores are blooming in basements. And across from the cathedral is a walk up one flight and save ten dollars tailor.

There is much speculation as to just what is New York's most aristocratic street. Madison avenue lays claim to the old Murray Hill section where the Morgans and other big bankers have prevented its spoilation by business.

Park avenue with its well terraced mall offers the best possibilities, but shops are springing up there rapidly. Millionaire's Row is a name only. A dozen of the fine home that graced this strip are being torn down for ornate apartment houses.

Yet Fifth avenue continues to strut at the 5 o'clock parade hour. The anaemic young man with the chrysanthemum; the arty young lady with the swagger stick; the movie star with young ideas; the tweedy youths with monocles, and now and then the lady with the coach and four are still to be seen.

On Tenth avenue there is a row of houses occupied by clairvoyants and seers who thrive on the gullibility of those seeking a tip-off from the Beyond. It is called Fortune Telling Row. The brisk trade is after the theater at night, when chorus girls and others of the stage go there to learn of the future and what it holds. Most of them, it may be said, patronize the places more in a spirit of adventure.

Joseph Hergesheimer, James Branch Cabell, Theodore Dreiser and George Jean Nathan have all written exhaustive and critical appreciations of Lillian Gish, the movie star. Yet at a theater next door Ben Turpin was playing and the box office receipts were higher than those where Miss Gish was displaying her subtle and elusive charms.

Chaplin, if any one cares, is my favorite of all the film folk. Yet I find myself not so red hot of late in my enthusiasm. He seems to me to be doing all the old tricks over again. In fact, none of the arts so needs a new face or new gestures as the motion picture. The most enterprising and enthralling thing about the movie today is the news picture reel. A theater offering an hour of them and nothing else, I venture, could be filled at each performance.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By CHARLES LEAVELLE.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 25.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, "discoverer" of the North Pole and Arctic explorer, confined here under sentence of 14 years in the federal prison for oil stock frauds, may write a book—or, rather, another book.

The proposed volume would contain reminiscences of his past life, anecdotes of his travels and incidents of prison life—he has been in the Tarrant county jail a year for failure to make appeal bond—interspersed with dashes of his brand of philosophy.

Dr. Cook believes book writing will help occupy his mind. He now partially manages this detail by doing all manner of fancy work. Visit him at the jail, and he will show you a mass of doilies, centerpieces, and what not, completed during his period of residence there.

The "explorer" spends hours each day at his sewing, while other inmates of the jail cluster about his chair, either to be beguiled with stories of his adventures in the far north or to absorb his philosophy of life.

And Dr. Cook's fellow prisoners are his disciples, at least as far as the philosophy is concerned. They are always ready to hear more. The "explorer" never tells the same story twice, except on request, his jailers say. He is a good story teller, too, they say.

"The dramatic way he puts them over gets under your skin," the jailers declare.

Since being imprisoned Dr. Cook has lost his mustache and much of his expensive wardrobe, but none of his [illegible]ity. But, then, he is hardly a prisoner—in the [illegible]e sense of the word—he is more of a demi-god, for the other prisoners idolize him.

He is judge of the "kangaroo" court, presides at the head of the prison dining table and acts as a sort of counselor to the other inmates.

Dr. Cook was intensely interested in the race to Nome of dog-teams bearing antitoxin to stay the diphtheria epidemic there. He says he has traveled most of the trail taken by the mushers.

"But it was nothing more than is going on there every day," he says. "More dramatic, perhaps, but not very unusual. It is a land of heroism."

Dr. Cook's attorneys are preparing an appeal of his case to the United States supreme court. His prison sentence and fine of $12,000 were recently confirmed by the circuit of appeals at New Orleans.

Texas scientists have become excited in the belief that a mastodon lies buried near McQueeny, in Guadalupe county. Funds to finance excavations are being raised. Pieces of bone and bits of a giant tooth led to the discovery, after digging, of a 15-pound tooth.

This is the first trace of a mastodon found in Texas, although the southern portion of the state has yielded fossils and petrified remains of sea monsters and prehistoric specimens of both animal and vegetable life of the sea.

Ever since the violins of the Amatis, particularly those of Nicolas and Stradivarius, won universal applause it has been the ambition of violin makers to produce an instrument combining the tone qualities seemingly lost since the death of these two great masters. The violins of Nicolas were noted for their clear, sweet tones, and those of Stradivarius were famous for their power and breadth of tone.

W. H. Wets, aged violin maker, of this city, has produced an instrument which, experts declare, is the nearest approach they have seen to the violins of the two old makers. Wets conducted a long and careful study of Stradivarius and Nicolas violins several years ago, and he has a valuable collection of rare old instruments.

DINNER STORIES

When the Earl of Bradford was brought before the lord chancellor to be examined on the application for a statute of lunacy against him, the question was asked him from the woolsack:

"How many feet has a sheep?"

"Does your lordship," answered Lord Bradford, "mean a live sheep, or a dead sheep?"

"Is it not the same thing?" said the chancellor.

"No, my lord," returned Lord Bradford. "There is much difference; a live sheep may have four legs, a dead sheep has only two; the two forelegs are shoulders, but there are only two legs of mutton!"

The negro minister was trying to impress his hearers with the shame and remorse felt by the prodigal son, and with his desire to cast away his wicked doings:

"Dis young man got to thinking about his meanness and his misery, and he tuk off his coat and frowed it away. nd den he tuk off his vest and frowed dat away. nd den he tuk off his shirt and frowed dat away, too. And den he come to hisself."

A SHAM BATTLE

Between now and March 12 there is to be a great naval sham battle off the coast of Lower California, and it is well named "sham" battle, since no such battle will occur in future wars, just as none occurred in the late war.

Involved in the sham battle will be 30 of the battleships—not our best, we sank those—and in addition to the battleships there will be 120 other war vessels, with crews in all totaling 40,000 men. Nice target for foreign flyers!

AND "SHAM" IS THE WORD

The investment represented will amount to a billion of dollars at least.

Please note that airplanes, costing less than one-tenth of one per cent of that amount, could sink the whole fleet and call it an easy day's work.

Also, that if there were real war, the first step would be to hide our battleships, camouflaging them inside safe barbors to keep them from aerial bombers. "Sham battle" is the right name.

There will be flying machines in the sham battle, of course, if they don't fall down and drown the pilots. "Twenty squadrons of airplanes," you are told, will take part. What is a squadron? It has been testified that we have just 20 planes in all fit to fight. Is one plane a squadron?

And what orders will be issued to the pilots to carry out the army and navy theory that airplanes do not count in war. Will the men be told to miss the ships carefully when they start dropping imitation bombs on them?

Something must be done to protect the profits of those that build $45,000,000 battleships.

Theodore Roosevelt's letters, just published, show that Senator Lodge wrote to him from Washington on July 6, 1898, after a visit to the war department:

"I was perfectly appalled by the utter lack of efficiency, organization or plan there displayed by the head of the department."

In the same letter Lodge wrote: "How we get on as well as we do, I cannot imagine," and he says, with the self confidence that was not lacking in him, "I was a rank outsider and have no military education or experience, but I could have taken those questions up which they are muddling over and settled them in an hour."

Muddling stupidity, a war department owned by the packers of embalmed beef, was not so dangerous then. The oceans east and west then meant real defense. When war did come, it came from Spain, providentially. Any attacking power would have had to land troops here, and fight here. Now troops would stay at home. Fliers would come. Dropping bombs; then flying on to land in Canada, on neutral soil, to be interned, and more fliers would come.

The danger to this country is very great. There is danger also to the peace of mind of those responsible for leaving the nation unprotected. The bombing of any big American city would mean an unpleasant quarter of an hour for them, if it lasted as long as 15 minutes.

IN DEADLY DANGER

While the richest country in the world, envied and deeply hated by at least 90 per cent of Europe and Asia, remains unprotected, it is in deadly danger.

And while the danger lasts the task of eliminating it is the chief duty of every citizen.

Write to your congressman and to your two senators your opinion of our army and navy departments that apparently don't know the flying machine has been invented. Write to the president. He is glad to hear from any citizen.

IT INTERESTS YOU

Don't be made bashful by the thought, "I am upholding my opinion against experts." No experts are involved. The head of the army knows about the stock brokerage business, but he knows as little about aviation as any child, and hasn't even the imagination to help him realize what war in the air will mean.

As a secretary of war he is a first-class stock broker.

The secretary of the navy, taken from the bench lately, knows as little about flying as about playing the harp. Brigadier General Mitchell says, "Give me one of your old discarded battleships for a target and I'll sink it for you in from one to four minutes from an airplane."

They refuse his request because they are afraid that he could do it. General Mitchell is an expert, and they threaten to demote and humiliate him for telling the truth and annoying the Strasburg geese in charge of national defense.

Hear from another brigadier general, the Rt. Hon. Lord Thomson, who was chief of Britain's flying service, writing in the Survey:

"The World war started in the British Isles on August 4, 1914. If at that time aviation had attained its present development the first bombing attack on London could have been made during the evening of that first day of mobilization.

"Moreover, if the German air force had been as powerful as the French air force is at the present time, it would have been able to drop anything up to 70 tons of bombs daily on London or other important centers in the British Isles."

Lord Thomson, a real expert, goes on to say that another great war might be settled once and for all by "a great aerial battle."

Here in America, when an expert like General Mitchell tells unpleasant truths about our lack of defense, we try to gag him with threats.

When that does not stop him the congressional committee abandons its investigation, like the three little Japanese monkeys with hands on their eyes, ears and mouths that they might see, hear and speak no evil.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes which stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

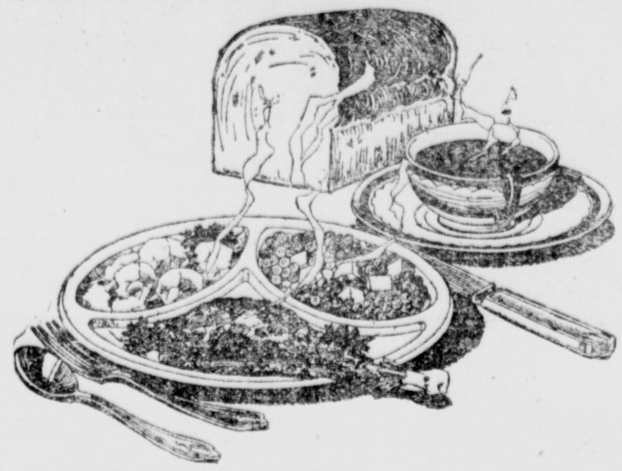

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Bread adds Carbohydrates

SCIENCE tells us that many foods are "light" in carbohydrates. Yet, in checking over the list of the foods mentioned, we find that it includes a great many foods eaten regularly and often.

We find many meats, eggs, fish and a large number of vegetables deficient in carbohydrates. When you serve these foods, serve more BETSY ROSS because a pound of this high-food-value loaf contains 38% of the carbohydrates, and 77% of the mineral salts needed by the body daily. It should be eaten in far greater quantities than is your custom.

Too, it adds to the flavor and appearance of many foods, and naturally their food-values. Breaded veal chops are an excellent example.

But, because "There's a difference in bread" be sure of the food-value when you purchase. Don't say bread say BETSY ROSS.

The Hot Water Bottle as an aid to health

The value of heat and cold in the treatment of many bodily ailments is inestimable. Heat, applied locally by means of the Hot Water Bottle, is the quickest, safest and surest pain reliever.

Cold, applied locally (cold water in a Hot Water Bottle), drives blood away from a congested part and assists in preventing formation of pus. It also serves as a powerful stimulant to circulation by the method of "shocking".

Most any physician will tell you that no home should be without a Hot Water Bottle.

There is absolutely nothing harmful in its use and it offers unquestionably an effective method of combating aches and pains of the most intense character.

The Fastest 1000 Miles Ever Made on Wheels!

Stock Chandler Does Distance in 689 minutes, Averaging 86.96 Miles per Hour—a New World's Record

ON February 4th, at Culver City, Cal., a stock Chandler sped 1,000 miles in the elapsed time of 689 minutes, 54 seconds.

According to all available records, this stands as the fastest thousand miles ever made by any automobile—including racing cars.

From start to finish, there were no tire changes nor mechanical adjustments—the only stops being for fuel and oil replenishments.

At the end of its heroic exhibition, the car was turned over to Harry Miller, the noted racing car builder. He has certified it as being a stock model in every respect except for its higher gear ratio.

This electrifying feat—unequalled in all automobile history—represents the culmination of Chandler's notable series of performance victories. Built to master a mountain, the Pikes Peak Motor has now shown itself a master in every phase of performance.

You may never subject your Chandler to the gruelling, searching, heart-breaking test of answering the wide open throttle from dawn to dusk at such a speed.

But any car that can survive such a terrific test must be a marvel of engineering and construction—must carry an assurance of long life and low maintenance costs along with its dominant performance!

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

MUSTEROLE WILL NOT BLISTER

Better than a mustard plaster

Bread adds Carbohydrates

SCIENCE tells us that many foods are "light" in carbohydrates. Yet, in checking over the list of the foods mentioned, we find that it includes a great many foods eaten regularly and often.

We find many meats, eggs, fish and a large number of vegetables deficient in carbohydrates. When you serve these foods, serve more BETSY ROSS because a pound of this high-food-value loaf contains 38% of the carbohydrates, and 77% of the mineral salts needed by the body daily. It should be eaten in far greater quantities than is your custom.

Too, it adds to the flavor and appearance of many foods, and naturally their food-values. Breaded veal chops are an excellent example.

But, because "There's a difference in bread" be sure of the food-value when you purchase. Don't say bread say BETSY ROSS.

The Hot Water Bottle as an aid to health

The value of heat and cold in the treatment of many bodily ailments is inestimable. Heat, applied locally by means of the Hot Water Bottle, is the quickest, safest and surest pain reliever.

Cold, applied locally (cold water in a Hot Water Bottle), drives blood away from a congested part and assists in preventing formation of pus. It also serves as a powerful stimulant to circulation by the method of "shocking".

Most any physician will tell you that no home should be without a Hot Water Bottle.

There is absolutely nothing harmful in its use and it offers unquestionably an effective method of combating aches and pains of the most intense character.

The Fastest 1000 Miles Ever Made on Wheels!

Stock Chandler Does Distance in 689 minutes, Averaging 86.96 Miles per Hour—a New World's Record

ON February 4th, at Culver City, Cal., a stock Chandler sped 1,000 miles in the elapsed time of 689 minutes, 54 seconds.

According to all available records, this stands as the fastest thousand miles ever made by any automobile—including racing cars.

From start to finish, there were no tire changes nor mechanical adjustments—the only stops being for fuel and oil replenishments.

At the end of its heroic exhibition, the car was turned over to Harry Miller, the noted racing car builder. He has certified it as being a stock model in every respect except for its higher gear ratio.

This electrifying feat—unequalled in all automobile history—represents the culmination of Chandler's notable series of performance victories. Built to master a mountain, the Pikes Peak Motor has now shown itself a master in every phase of performance.

You may never subject your Chandler to the gruelling, searching, heart-breaking test of answering the wide open throttle from dawn to dusk at such a speed.

But any car that can survive such a terrific test must be a marvel of engineering and construction—must carry an assurance of long life and low maintenance costs along with its dominant performance!

BILL LEGALIZES BOXING IN STATE

Boxing in West Virginia would be permitted under House bill No. 4, introduced by Delegate Harold Mathews, at the preliminary session of the legislature and referred to the committee on the judiciary.

The bill would create an athletic commission of three members, which would be apointed by the governor and with certain limitations, the commission would have the power to regulate boxing, sparring and wrestling matches in the state.

Under the bill, no more than two of the members of the commission may belong to the same political party. All of the expenses of the commission not to exceed $2,500 would be paid by it out of license fees collected.

The proposed law provides that the commission shall have sole direction of boxing, sparring and wrestling and may, at its pleasure issue and revoke licenses to conduct a match. Every applicant to the commission for a permit to hold a match must be a bona fide resident of the state.

Each applicant for license must pay a tax of $500 for the year or a proportionate amount for a lesser period if the license is not granted at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Within 24 hours after the determination of any contest, the bill provides that the club, corporation or association staging it, shall make a detailed report to the secretary of the commission, showing the number of tickets sold and the gross proceeds thereof. A tax of 5 per cent will be levied by the commission on the receipts. Furthermore each person staging a contest must in advance of it provide a bond of $5,000 as security for the tax to be imposed.

Common Household Medicines

Otherwise known as "simples" have for centuries been derived from medicinal roots and herbs. They are still used and recognized by many of our best physicians as unequalled for certain ailments. In many countries roots and herbs are cultivated purely for commercial purposes. It is said that the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., is the greatest user of crude herbs in this country. The success of their Vegetable Compound for ailments of women is now world-wide, and it will certainly pay any woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try it.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD SESSION

Grading of Highway in Elkrun Township Now Assured.

Grading of the Kimbel Church road in Elkrun township, which will begin within a few weeks, means that ultimately there will be an improved highway between Lisbon and Rogers by the way of Signal. This also means that an improved highway will then be routed from the eastern to the western part of the county, with Lisbon as the central point.

The resurfacing of the Lisbon-Elkton road this year is assured, and the grading of the Kimble church road between Elkton and Signal means that only a short link will remain to be surfaced.

At a meeting of the county commissioners Tuesday final arrangements were made to place the new Erie shovel on this Elkrun township job. It was also declared by the commissioners that the shovel now working in Middleton township would be retained by the county, and that it might be kept in constant grading on the East Palestine-East Liverpool road in St. Clair township.

The county own another shovel that has been "parked" in Hanover township all winter, and this will be sold sooner or later, as the machine is past use.

People residing along the Kimble church road will contribute of their means, time and with horses and wagons when the new shovel is put to work on that job. In fact, the grading of this stretch of road will closely follow the program as adopted in Middleton township on the East Palestine-East Liverpool road.

A delegation of road boosters went before the commissioners Tuesday and told the board what they might expect from Elkrun township. Within a little while an agreement was entered into. The new steam shovel which is now at Elkton will be unloaded from the car within a few days, and it will be sent on the grading job as soon thereafter as possible.

Plans have been worked out in the office of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the grading and surfacing of this road.

Knox township trustees are anxious to have the road between Valley and North Georgetown surfaced, and a conference between commissioners and the trustees was held Tuesday with this end in view. The board members will go to Homeworth Friday for the purpose of reviewing the road situation in that part of the county. The Knox trustees and the commissioners are anxious to have an improved highway from Homeworth northeast to Salem.

"We want our people to travel over our own soil and do all the business they can with our county merchants," the trustees told the commissioners.

"And that is just what we want also," came from Chairman Conrad Berg. "We don't want to build roads that will take business out of our county into a neighboring county. We want to keep our business at home."

An estimate has been furnished the commissioners by Suveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the improvement of the Salineville-Summitville road, this following a recent conference between the commissioners, trustees of Franklin township and a delegation from Washington township, which included the trustees and also road boosters from Salineville.

The cost of this job has been estimated at $109,000 or at the rate of $34,200 per mile, the surface to be concrete. A small part of this road extends through the northeastern corner of Fox township, Carroll county, and the cost of the road in that township has been estimated at $15,500.

Ninety per cent of the grading that is to be done on the East Palestine-Negley road will be on Crum's Hill, according to data just given the county commissioners. This road is to be concrete surafced, and the grade reduced from 11 to 7 per cent. With a limestone aggregate the job has been estimated at $49,365 and with a gravel aggregate the work will cost $48,600.

This contract is expected to be awarded at an early date, as the road is declared to be one of the roughest in the eastern part of the county.

Delinquency Case Offenders Handed Fine, Jail Terms

Young men who are brought into court hereafter on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors will be given severe sentences, it was indicated at a hearing held in juvenile court Tuesday afternoon, Judge Lodge Riddle presiding.

"The situation has become alarming. The end has been reached. Lieniency has been passed by. From now on young men who have no respect for themselves or their parents will have to pay the penalty," the court declared following a hearing given three Salem young men, all charged with contributing.

William Landenberger, aged 27, of Salem, who was fined $200 and costs by Mayor Frank E. Albrecht, of Lisbon, for transporting, and who was charged with contributing to the delinquency of two Lisbon girls of the age of 14 years, declared that the "wine would not make a baby drunk." He entered a plea of not guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors, and was held for a hearing Friday under $500 bail, which he failed to furnish.

Charles Koch, aged 19, of Salem, the youngest of the trio, entered a plea of guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was sent to the county jail for 60 days and fined and costs.

Rudolph Brookner, aged 21, also entered a plea of guilty, and a similar sentence was pronounced in his case.

It developed at the hearing that after the party drove from Salem to Lisbon, they drove west on the Lincoln highway and broke into the Lisbon grange hall.

SIGN CONTRACTS FOR SURFACING

Contracts have been signed and approved by the county commissioners and Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes for the surfacing of the East Rochester-North Georgetown road.

This job was awarded to the George S. Mellert and Weidener company, of Medona, who were low bidders. On one contract this firm had last year in another part of the state, four miles of concerete road were built in about a month.

West township will contribute $30,000 toward this improvement within the next few days, the surfacing to be done between the West township trustees and the county commissioners.

LODGE DISTRICT MEETING TONIGHT

A district meeting of Odd Fellows from all lodges in towns and cities extending from East Palestine on the east to Ravenna on the west will be held in Odd Fellows' hall at Damascus Wednesday night. This gathering is similar to those that have been held in the southern district of this county. Arrangements are being made to entertain between 300 and 500 Odd Fellows at this meeting.

Sentence Suspended.

William M. Means was given a hearing before Judge Riddle Tuesday on a charge of non-support and a six months' sentence to the Canton workhouse was suspended upon the ability of Means to give bond that he would contribute $13 per month for the support of his child.

Hoffe Handed Fine.

Homer Hoffe, residing on route 4 out of Lisbon, was charged in the court by Mayor F. E. Albrecht at Lisbon with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. It cost him $100 an costs. Hoffe was arrested by Marshal Roy Lewton.

This also means at an improved highway will then routed from the eastern to the estern part of the county, with Lisn as the central point.

The resurfacing of the Lisbon-Elkn road this year is assured, and the ading of the Kimble church road tween Elkton and Signal means at only a short link will remain to surfaced.

At a meeting of the county commisoners Tuesday final arrangements ere made to place the new Erie novel on this Elkrun township job. was also declared by the commisoners that the shovel now working Middleton township would be reined by the county, and that it ight be kept in constant grading on he East Palestine-East Liverpool oad in St. Clair township.

The county own another shovel that as been "parked" in Hanover township all winter, and this will be sold ooner or later, as the machine is past se.

People residing along the Kimble hurch road will contribute of their eans, time and with horses and wagons when the new shovel is put to work on that job. In fact, the grading of this stretch of road will closely follow the program as adopted in Middleton township on the East Palestine-East Liverpool road.

A delegation of road boosters went before the commissioners Tuesday and told the board what they might expect from Elkrun township. Within a little while an agreement was entered into. The new steam shovel which is now at Elkton will be unloaded from the car within a few days, and it will be sent on the grading job as soon thereafter as possible.

Plans have been worked out in the office of County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the grading and surfacing of this road.

Knox township trustees are anxious to have the road between Valley and North Georgetown surfaced, and a conference between commissioners and the trustees was held Tuesday with this end in view. The board members will go to Homeworth Friday for the purpose of reviewing the road situation in that part of the county. The Knox trustees and the commissioners are anxious to have an improved highway from Homeworth northeast to Salem.

"We want our people to travel over our own soil and do all the business they can with our county merchants," the trustees told the commissioners.

"And that is just what we want also," came from Chairman Conrad Berg. "We don't want to build roads that will take business out of our county into a neighboring county. We want to keep our business at home."

An estimate has been furnished the commissioners by Suveyor Lloyd C. Kirk for the improvement of the Salineville-Summitville road, this following a recent conference between the commissioners, trustees of Franklin township and a delegation from Washington township, which included the trustees and also road boosters from Salineville.

The cost of this job has been estimated at $109,099 or at the rate of $24,200 per mile, the surface to be concrete. A small part of this road extends through the northeastern corner of Fox township, Carroll county, and the cost of the road in that township has been estimated at $15,500.

Ninety per cent of the grading that is to be done on the East Palestine-Negley road will be on Crum's Hill, according to data just given the county commissioners. This road is to be concrete surafced, and the grade reduced from 11 to 7 per cent. With a limestone aggregate the job has been estimated at $49,365 and with a gravel aggregate the work will cost $48,600.

This contract is expected to be awarded at an early date, as the road is declared to be one of the roughest in the eastern part of the county.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY DR. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A Different Portrait of a Mother.

The standard of values in life is a curious thing. To some personal appearance means everything, while to others the soul is more interesting than its environment. The following letter tells the pathetic story of a mother who has been too busy or too lacking in wisdom to harmonize the values in life so that she can cliam the respect of her daughters.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Ours is not a heart problem in the usual sense of the word. It is about our mother. The world seems to take it for granted that all mothers are neat, lovable and deserving or worship. It is doubtful if any one has ever before had the courage to write in this way. It does seem disloyal, but it may be the very thing some mothers need to turn over a new leaf so that their children will not be ashamed of them. While our mother is good-hearted and would do anything she could for us, she seems to be utterly ablivious to the fact that her appearance makes us ashamed of her. Probably she and all mothers think that they deserve the love and respect of their children just because they are mothers, but they are absolutely wrong. We are aware of the fact that appearances are not everything, but they do count a great deal more than most people are willing to admit. Even if we happen to visit her (she does not live in the same town we do) she will be going around on wash day morning with her hair done in a little knot on top of her head with loose hair hanging down all around. Her hair is very fine and hard to keep up, but she makes not the least effort to keep it up—no net or anything. Then she'll have on an old faded blue percale dress and apron with probably two faded, colored petticoats showing below, and brown hose hanging down over partly laced old black shoes. How could any one love a sight like that? We have talked and talked to her about neatness but in a nice way. Do you think it might have some effect if we'd get cross and lecture her hard? We are afraid it will hurt her feelings if she realized how terribly we feel about it, but possibly that is what she needs. Of course when she is dressed up for the street she looks much better than on wash day, but her hair is always hanging down loose.

DISCOURAGED SISTERS.

Your letter excites the imagination. It is easy to picture your mother when she was young and you were babies, over-worked, unappreciated, and her pride in self never aroused by praise from your father. All these years she has slaved, sacrificed and neglected self. It would be far more commendable for you girls to send your mother money with which to have the laundry work done than to lecture her. The younger generation undoubtedly gives more thought to personal appearance than the older generation. It is time now for your mother to be relieved from washings and hard work so that she will have time to thing of her hair and clothes. Thank you for your letter because I believe it will be a help to many women who are letting themselves run down. Be proud of your mother for her virtues, however, and excuse her weaknesses.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a senior in high school and in love with a young man from another town who attends our school and lives with his grandmother. I have been wearing his school pin. Now I know for a fact he is engaged to a girl at home. Should I return the pin?

RUTH ANNE.

Yes, return the pin. The boy was not loyal to the girl he claims to love when he gave it to you.

"WAR NECESSARY TO DEVELOP NEW INVENTIONS," SAYS U. S. ADMIRAL.

War is necessary to maintain civilization and to develop new inventions, in the opinion of Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, who presented his views recently.

Rear Admiral B. A. Fiske

He described China, India and Korea as pacifist nations, "which demonstrate the effects of pacifism by the misery and squalor in whic they feebly exist," and said that it was that it was only in militaristic countries that radio, aircraft, electricity, steam engines and navigation were developed. In spite of the grumblings of taxpayers, he said, the expense of armies and navies was more beneficial than otherwise.

"Of all people Christians should be the last to condemn war totally," said Admiral Fiske. "It was by war that Christianity was saved, when Charles Martel stopped the invasion of Europe by the Mohammedians. It was the war of the crusaders that opened the eyes of Europe to the Hellenistic civilization that flourished in Western Asia.

"As to the expense of armies and navies, and especially navies, the taxpayers are grumbling greatly. I am one, and I grumble, too. But we ought to realize that the money spent on a navy goes as wages to American workmen in every industrial and mechanical art and manufacturing business in the country. The money of Taxpayer Smith goes to Workman Jones and helps support his family. The nation, as a nation, would not be any poorer if the navy were made ten times bigger than it is.

"I am not advocating the expansion of the navy. I am merely trying to clear up the armament question by stating facts. In a wealthy nation such as ours, it is not the amount of money spent within the nation that matters much, but the things on which the money is spent.

"This brings up the question, is it better to spend our surplus cash on defending what we have, and at the same time improving all the engineering arts and sciences, or on jewelry and furs and effeminizing pleasures? In all the world, is there anything more useless to spend money on than pearls and diamonds?

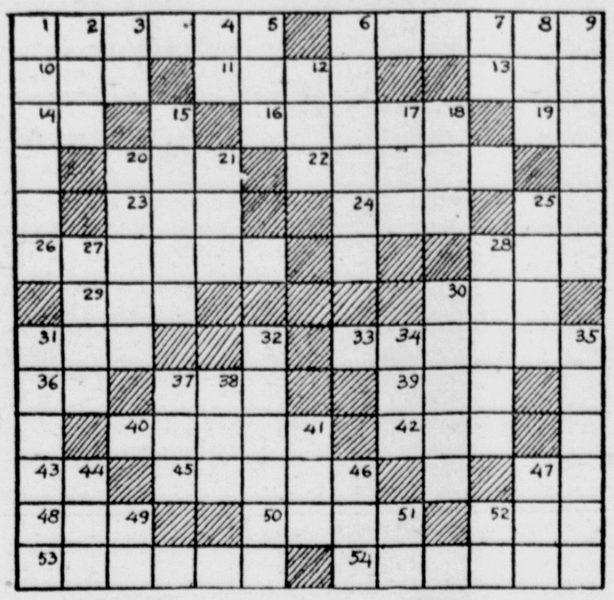

"Any one who studies war with a clean mind sees its benefits as its horrors, just as he sees the benefits of surgery, as well as its horrors. In this far from perfect world of men and women, we seem to have to pay for what we get, unless somebody else pays for us.

"This brings to mind the deplorable fact that the civilization which men and women now enjoy, with its warm houses and comfortable beds, has been paid for largely by the unutterable anguish of men left wounded and dying on the battlefelds of history. In a way strangely and sadly similar, the high usefulness which surgery exerts at the present day has been paid for by countless sufferers, and the redemption of the human race cost the sacrifice of Christ."

Joe Benjamin Wins Lightweight Title On Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Joe Benjamin, Los Angeles, today held the Pacific Coast lightweight championship and the right to represent the Far West in the National Lightweight Elimination tournament by virtue of his decisive win over Jack Silver, local aspirant.

Fighting before a holiday crowd of 20,000 in the first open air "comeback" of the boxing game in California, the pair waged a bitter battle throughout their ten-round go. Benjamin had a clear margin in most of the rounds and in the second round almost scored a knockout.

War's Cost Exceed's Money.

Although the cost of the World War in 1914-1918 has been reiterated in dollars and cents many times, it remained for some one to point out that it represented more than two and a half times more money than exists in all the world to make the total really comprehensible. The actual total was $186,000,000,000. The total of men killed was 7,450,200.

Joe Benjamin Wins Lightweight Title On Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Joe Benjamin, Los Angeles, today held the Pacific Coast lightweight championship and the right to represent the Far West in the National Lightweight Elimination tournament by virtue of his decisive win over Jack Silver, local aspirant.

Fighting before a holiday crowd of 20,000 in the first open air "comeback" of the boxing game in California, the pair waged a bitter battle throughout their ten-round go. Benjamin had a clear margin in most of the rounds and in the second round almost scored a knockout.

War's Cost Exceed's Money.

Although the cost of the World War in 1914-1918 has been reiterated in dollars and cents many times, it remained for some one to point out that it represented more than two and a half times more money than exists in all the world to make the total really comprehensible. The actual total was $186,000,000,000. The total of men killed was 7,450,200.

Pays Big Fine

"I always thought if the doctors couldn't help my stomach and liver trouble, nobody else could. It has cost me nine hundred dollars and I have paid my fine. It remained for Mayr's Wonderful Remedy to do the trick. I have been in the best of health since taking it more than a year ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

"So they loaded their hay with her on the ground wrapped in the tadpaulin. When they were ready, they fixed a place in the hay and drove on home, going through the village. There they heard of the alarm and that the sheriff was at the lake. She was still breathing, just unconscious. There's a big attic room to that farmhouse, Mrs. Kaime, and that's where they kept her. I saw it—it's comfortable—a stove for the winter and windows high up, light and air. She was unconscious for three days, and they doing the best they could for her. They didn't want murder on their heads; besides, there was the hope that Atwell would find a way to offer her for ransom, after all. When she came to, she didn't know what had happened to her, who she was, or anything. Her memory was gone, she was like a child. They——"

"But the body in the lake—that was found? Did they murder someone else and——" Karesia interrupted.

"Now, just you wait—I'll come to that," Colt interrupted in his turn. "Just let me finish with Mrs. Dascome first. They kept her in that attic for over a year, Mrs. Kaime—all the time in deadly fear. Atwell put them up to a final bit of deviltry, then he left them to their fate—he made tracks for Canada, for as far away as he could get. By that time the defense had a dozen detectives searching for him and I was hot on his trail."

"Atwell told them to hurt—her face?" Karesia asked in horror.

"No, not that, Mrs. Kaime. They say it was an accident, and I believe them. Shortly after she came to, she had one of those attacks. Mrs. Culp wasn't by and she fell against the stove. She was unconscious again after that, she was delirious for weeks. They did their best for her, but they couldn't have a doctor, so it left a bad scar. You see, Mrs. Kaime, there is a type of criminal that won't commit murder or deliberately inflict torture. They'll steal, but not murder. Culp is that type, his wife, too. Thail would strike down, if in anger, but he hasn't the nerve for cold-blooded murder. No, between them all, they had fixed the crime on another man and they were anxious enough to have the thing quiet down, have Mrs. Dascome get well enough for them to take her a distance and lose her. But for all that year while J. D. was being tried, Thail had to stay on at Crisomby as Abe Best, the hired man, and the Culps had to appear just the quiet respectable farmers their neighbors thought them. Under Atwell's advice, they had gotten themselves into a horrible fix, they were in deadly feal all that year, but it was nothing to what they felt when J. D. was acquitted—they knew he'd run them down if he could.

"Then they acted; they took Mrs. Dascome in their flivver as far up New York state as they could get in a night. They gave her some money and some food and left her in a sparsely settled section. Culp was a Canadina from near Montreal, he'd known Mary Bliss, and it was Mrs. Culp who wrote in the book and gave it to her. They told her to walk to the first farmhouse and ask for work. Then Thail footed it to Buffalo, and the Culps went back to their farm at Crisomby, to live in fear. They hadn't murdered Elaine Dascome, that was all they could say for themselves."

"But you said there had been a murder?" Karesia interposed.

"There was. But now let me tell you J. D.'s and my side of it: The moment I heard of Mrs. Dascome's disappearance on the sixth of April and of J. D.'s being suspected, I suspected Atwell. I was south of Proctorville looking for Atwell when I read about it in the papers. Then I went back to Proctorville and there I found out for sure that Atwell was in Proctorville on the sixth of April, so he couldn't have done the thing himself. J. D. had been certain that Atwell had done it—that Elaine had gone out on the lake to meet Atwell; it was a blow to the defense. J. D. still clung to the belief that Atwell had a hand in it, and the defense had a dozen detectives at work on it, but they couldn't find a thing to offer as evidence.

"Now, they gave me no orders; I was certain to be called as a witness; but I was so sure that Atwell was at the bottom of the crime that I started out on my own. I traced Atwell through Canada and down into California, and there I lost track of him. I've always thought that he went into Mexico. Then I was called back to give my testimony. Now, Mrs. Kaime, J. D. came out of those trials with the same conviction I had, that his wife had been murdered on that sixth of April and that it was her body which was found in the lake. We were agreed, too, that Atwell was responsible—find Atwell and the mystery would be solved.

"J. D. had others working for him, but he and I, we hunted together. We came to California and the first trace we got of Atwell was in San Francisco, in the Barbary Coast—a girl gave J. D. the hint that Atwell had gone to Alaska. We went to Alaska only to find that Atwell had flown. We traced him back to San Francisco. Atwell had gone to Russia.

"Then we separated. I stayed in this country and J. D. went to Russia. What he went through there would fill a book, and, Mrs. Kaime, he found that Atwell had ended his career there. He had been bayonteded to death in one of the raids the Reds made. He didn't die pleasantly—so much for him. J. D. got out of the country alive, which is a wonder. You'd have thought that J. D.d have had enough; but not J. D.! There was Meta Thail—we both thought that she knew something. We knew nothing about Thail, nothing about all this I have told you. J. D. had kept watch on her; for several years after the trials she had worked in a factory in New York. Then she had disappeared, and that looked queer. We searched this country for her—we were still searching when I caught a glimpse of that bent, scarred old woman scuttling into that garage on the street back of this. I kept watch for a day, a-purpose to scare her out. J. D. was on watch on the hillside—we wanted to see where she would go. She came to your house."

Karesia caught her breath. "You thought that she was Meta Thail!"

Gold Exports Go By Mail

Banks have worked out a method of using the United States mail for exporting gold that means a great saving to them. On a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, which is not unusual for some of the bigger banks, a saving of $2,000 is possible over the old way of sending it from country to country. This saving is 4 to 5 cents an ounce, but to do it the banks have to mail the gold in 50 ounce bars and register it. In the old way large bars were sent by freight in cumbersome kegs or boxes.

Many Products From Milk.

Casein, the commercial substance made from skim milk, is now employed in the manufacture of many articles of commerce including dominoes, chess pieces and checkers, paints, bottle seals, pastes and glues, porcelain cements, coated papers, cigar and cigarette holders, massage creams, piano keys and insultaing materials. Paints made from casein are said to defy age better than lithophone and similar pigment paints.

New Easy Way To End Nasal Catarrh

Quick and sure; safe and no trouble—the new way to get rid of loathsome Catarrh in nose and throat.

It may be acute or it may be chronic—of years standing—you may have tried salves and ointments and other treatments.

You're probably disgusted and think you haven't a chance in the world of overcoming it.

Try once more—try this. Get a six ounce bottle of Kojene for 60 cents at Carnahan's Drug Store, Jesse D. Holloway and Mathew's Cut Rate store or any progressive druggist. Spray the nostrils with it twice a day for three or four days or until every Catarrh germ is destroyed and the nose is clean and clear.

Try once more and get rid of this obnoxious disease. Kojene will do it. If by any mishap it fails your money will be gladly returned.

Kojene is the world's most powerful, non-poisonous antiseptic—seventy-five times as strong as highly flavored antiseptics—yet you can drink it with no ill effects.

If it won't conquer nasal catarrh and clean out every trace of mucous and soreness nothing will.

HOW TO GET THIN
Without Diets, Creams, Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than five weeks, and at the same time marvelously improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN-GRI-NA. To-day I look, act and feel far younger than my real age. From the results in my own case and those of my friends, I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, injurious, unwholesome fat, can take it off easily, quickly and safely with SAN-GRI-NA. Every day science discovers something new. SAN-GRI-NA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, tiresome exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive so-called reducing creams. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slender and graceful, and where the men detest a heavy waistline or double chin. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce, you must remember that SAN-GRI-NA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, does not contain any dangerous drugs, and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking two small tablets before each meal, I lost 50 pounds in two months, and I have not regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. Today go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept anything else, as it is the only thing I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

NOTE.—The above appeared in many papers about a year ago. Since then SAN-GRI-NA has been investigated by American Physicians, Nurses, Clinics, Beauty Specialists, etc., and is now endorsed and recommended to fat people by Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, as a most wonderful and harmless way to reduce. Every day letters from grateful users come to us from all over the country. Men and women in all steps of life have reduced 10, 20, 30, or even as high as 80 pounds, saying also that they were able to greatly improve their health and looks. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on the Veritables Tablettes SAN-GRI-NA.

Gold Exports Go By Mail

Banks have worked out a method of using the United States mail for exporting gold that means a great saving to them. On a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, which is not unusual for some of the bigger banks, a saving of $2,000 is possible over the old way of sending it from country to country. This saving is 4 to 5 cents an ounce, but to do it the banks have to mail the gold in 50 ounce bars and register it. In the old way large bars were sent by freight in cumbersome kegs or boxes.

Many Products From Milk.

Casein, the commercial substance made from skim milk, is now employed in the manufacture of many articles of commerce including dominoes, chess pieces and checkers, paints, bottle seals, pastes and glues, porcelain cements, coated papers, cigar and cigarette holders, massage creams, piano keys and insultaing materials. Paints made from casein are said to defy age better than lithophone and similar pigment paints.

New Easy Way To End Nasal Catarrh

Quick and sure; safe and no trouble—the new way to get rid of loathsome Catarrh in nose and throat.

It may be acute or it may be chronic—of years standing—you may have tried salves and ointments and other treatments.

You're probably disgusted and think you haven't a chance in the world of overcoming it.

Try once more—try this. Get a six ounce bottle of Kojene for 60 cents at Carnahan's Drug Store, Jesse D. Holloway and Mathew's Cut Rate store or any progressive druggist. Spray the nostrils with it twice a day for three or four days or until every Catarrh germ is destroyed and the nose is clean and clear.

Try once more and get rid of this obnoxious disease. Kojene will do it. If by any mishap it fails your money will be gladly returned.

Kojene is the world's most powerful, non-poisonous antiseptic—seventy-five times as strong as highly flavored antiseptics—yet you can drink it with no ill effects.

If it won't conquer nasal catarrh and clean out every trace of mucous and soreness nothing will.

HOW TO GET THIN
Without Diets, Creams, Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than five weeks, and at the same time marvelously improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN-GRI-NA. To-day I look, act and feel far younger than my real age. From the results in my own case and those of my friends, I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, injurious unwholesome fat, can take it off easily, quickly and safely with SAN-GRI-NA. Every day science discovers something new. SAN-GRI-NA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, tiresome exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive so-called reducing creams. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slender and graceful, and where the men detest a heavy waistline or double chin. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce, you must remember that SAN-GRI-NA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, does not contain any dangerous drugs, and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking two small tablets before each meal, I lost 50 pounds in two months, and I have not regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. To-day go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept anything else, as it is the only thing I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

NOTE.—The above appeared in many papers about a year ago. Since then SAN-GRI-NA has been investigated by American Physicians, Nurses, Clinics, Beauty Specialists, etc., and is now endorsed and recommended to fat people by Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, as a most wonderful and harmless way to reduce. Every day letters from grateful users come to us from all over the country. Men and women in all steps of life have reduced 10, 20, 30, or even as high as 80 pounds, saying also that they were able to greatly improve their health and looks. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on the Veritables Tablettes SAN-GRI-NA.

On Sale at Anderson's, Hodson's Bulger's or Mathews Medicine Store.

By Elizabeth Dejeans

"So they loaded their hay with her on the ground wrapped in the tadpaulin. When they were ready, they fixed a place in the hay and drove on home, going through the village. There they heard of the alarm and that the sheriff was at the lake. She was still breathing, just unconscious. There's a big attic room to that farmhouse, Mrs. Kaime, and that's where they kept her. I saw it—it's comfortable—a stove for the winter and windows high up, light and air. She was unconscious for three days, and they doing the best they could for her. They didn't want murder on their heads; besides, there was the hope that Atwell would find a way to offer her for ransom, after all. When she came to, she didn't know what had happened to her, who she was, or anything. Her memory was gone, she was like a child. They——"

"But the body in the lake—that was found? Did they murder someone else and——" Karesia interrupted.

"Now, just you wait—I'll come to that," Colt interrupted in his turn. "Just let me finish with Mrs. Dascome first. They kept her in that attic for over a year, Mrs. Kaime—all the time in deadly fear. Atwell put them up to a final bit of deviltry, then he left them to their fate—he made tracks for Canada, for as far away as he could get. By that time the defense had a dozen detectives searching for him and I was hot on his trail."

"Atwell told them to hurt—her face?" Karesia asked in horror.

"No, not that, Mrs. Kaime. They say it was an accident, and I believe them. Shortly after she came to, she had one of those attacks. Mrs. Culp wasn't by and she fell against the stove. She was unconscious again after that, she was delirious for weeks. They did their best for her, but they couldn't have a doctor, so it left a bad scar. You see, Mrs. Kaime, there is a type of criminal that won't commit murder or deliberately inflict torture. They'll steal, but not murder. Culp is that type, his wife, too. Thail would strike down, if in anger, but he hasn't the nerve for cold-blooded murder. No, between them all, they had fixed the crime on another man and they were anxious enough to have the thing quiet down, have Mrs. Dascome get well enough for them to take her a distance and lose her. But for all that year while J. D. was being tried, Thail had to stay on at Crisomby as Abe Best, the hired man, and the Culps had to appear just the quiet respectable farmers their neighbors thought them. Under Atwell's advice, they had gotten themselves into a horrible fix, they were in deadly feal all that year, but it was nothing to what they felt when J. D. was acquitted—they knew he'd run them down if he could.

"Then they acted; they took Mrs. Dascome in their flivver as far up New York state as they could get in a night. They gave her some money and some food and left her in a sparsely settled section. Culp was a Canadina from near Montreal, he'd known Mary Bliss, and it was Mrs. Culp who wrote in the book and gave it to her. They told her to walk to the first farmhouse and ask for work. Then Thail footed it to Buffalo, and the Culps went back to their farm at Crisomby, to live in fear. They hadn't murdered Elaine Dascome, that was all they could say for themselves."

"But you said there had been a murder?" Karesia interposed.

"There was. But now let me tell you J. D.'s and my side of it: The moment I heard of Mrs. Dascome's disappearance on the sixth of April and of J. D.'s being suspected, I suspected Atwell. I was south of Proctorville looking for Atwell when I read about it in the papers. Then I went back to Proctorville and there I found out for sure that Atwell was in Proctorville on the sixth of April, so he couldn't have done the thing himself. J. D. had been certain that Atwell had done it—that Elaine had gone out on the lake to meet Atwell; it was a blow to the defense. J. D. still clung to the belief that Atwell had a hand in it, and the defense had a dozen detectives at work on it, but they couldn't find a thing to offer as evidence.

"Now, they gave me no orders; I was certain to be called as a witness; but I was so sure that Atwell was at the bottom of the crime that I started out on my own. I traced Atwell through Canada and down into California, and there I lost track of him. I've always thought that he went into Mexico. Then I was called back to give my testimony. Now, Mrs. Kaime, J. D. came out of those trials with the same conviction I had, that his wife had been murdered on that sixth of April and that it was her body which was found in the lake. We were agreed, too, that Atwell was responsible—find Atwell and the mystery would be solved.

"J. D. had others working for him, but he and I, we hunted together. We came to California and the first trace we got of Atwell was in San Francisco, in the Barbary Coast—a girl gave J. D. the hint that Atwell had gone to Alaska. We went to Alaska only to find that Atwell had flown. We traced him back to San Francisco. Atwell had gone to Russia.

"Then we separated. I stayed in this country and J. D. went to Russia. What he went through there would fill a book, and, Mrs. Kaime, he found that Atwell had ended his career there. He had been bayonteded to death in one of the raids the Reds made. He didn't die pleasantly—so much for him. J. D. got out of the country alive, which is a wonder. You'd have thought that J. D.d have had enough; but not J. D.! There was Meta Thail—we both thought that she knew something. We knew nothing about Thail, nothing about all this I have told you. J. D. had kept watch on her; for several years after the trials she had worked in a factory in New York. Then she had disappeared, and that looked queer. We searched this country for her—we were still searching when I caught a glimpse of that bent, scarred old woman scuttling into that garage on the street back of this. I kept watch for a day, a-purpose to scare her out. J. D. was on watch on the hillside—we wanted to see where she would go. She came to your house."

Karesia caught her breath. "You thought that she was Meta Thail!"

Gold Exports Go By Mail

Banks have worked out a method of using the United States mail for exporting gold that means a great saving to them. On a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold, which is not unusual for some of the bigger banks, a saving of $2,000 is possible over the old way of sending it from country to country. This saving is 4 to 5 cents an ounce, but to do it the banks have to mail the gold in 50 ounce bars and register it. In the old way large bars were sent by freight in cumbersome kegs or boxes.

Many Products From Milk.

Casein, the commercial substance made from skim milk, is now employed in the manufacture of many articles of commerce including dominoes, chess pieces and checkers, paints, bottle seals, pastes and glues, porcelain cements, coated papers, cigar and cigarette holders, massage creams, piano keys and insultaing materials. Paints made from casein are said to defy age better than lithophone and similar pigment paints.

FRENCH WOMAN TELLS
HOW TO GET THIN
Without Diets, Creams, Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than five weeks, and at the same time marvelously improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN-GRI-NA. To-day I look, act and feel far younger than my real age. From the results in my own case and those of my friends, I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, injurious unwholesome fat, can take it off easily, quickly and safely with SAN-GRI-NA. Every day science discovers something new. SAN-GRI-NA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, tiresome exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive so-called reducing creams. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slender and graceful, and where the men detest a heavy waistline or double chin. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce, you must remember that SAN-GRI-NA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, does not contain any dangerous drugs, and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking two small tablets before each meal, I lost 50 pounds in two months, and I have not regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. To-day go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN-GRI-NA. Do not accept anything else, as it is the only thing I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

NOTE.—The above appeared in many papers about a year ago. Since then SAN-GRI-NA has been investigated by American Physicians, Nurses, Clinics, Beauty Specialists, etc., and is now endorsed and recommended to fat people by Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, as a most wonderful and harmless way to reduce. Every day letters from grateful users come to us from all over the country. Men and women in all steps of life have reduced 10, 20, 30, or even as high as 80 pounds, saying also that they were able to greatly improve their health and looks. Do not accept a substitute. Insist on the Veritables Tablettes SAN-GRI-NA.

On Sale at Anderson's, Hedsen's Bulger's or Mathews Medicine Store.

Runyon Says

Kid McCoy Talks
Tells of His Last Fight
He Can Still Punch
And Proves It In Jail
He Looks Very Well

By Damon Runyon
Copyright, 1925, International Feature Service, Inc.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The writer visited Kid McCoy in the county jail here the other day.

McCoy came down from an upper floor of the jail in an elevator and sat at a little desk, one of a long row of little desks in the jail office, at which other prisoners sat talking with visitors.

McCoy wore a loosely fitting suit of blue denim, like overalls. His shirt was open at the throat, showing his hairy chest. He must weigh two hundred pounds. He looked big and burly.

His face had a pasty color, the unhealthy looking fish-belly white that authors call "jail pallor." It comes of long walling up, away from the sunshine.

But McCoy's brown eyes were clear. He walked with firm, sure step. His handclasp as he greeted the writer was strong. In the brown eyes was a sombre, sad expression as McCoy faced the writer across the desk, and said, quietly:

"TOUGH BREAK, ISN'T IT?"

He meant his status.

McCoy is somewhat bald. What is left of his hair is gray.

He is now fifty-one years old.

Pugilistic history rates him as one of the greatest fighters that ever lived, a master-boxer, a great hitter.

He was in his fistic prime some twenty-five years ago. His personality, his appearance, his love affairs, his skill, made him one of the most talked of men before the public.

Now he is under prison sentence for the alleged murder of a woman in Los Angeles. McCoy insists he didn't kill the woman. The evidence was all against him.

McCoy talked very little about his case to the writer. He seemed mainly interested in old friends in New York.

In his day McCoy was a familiar and famous figure along Broadway. He was the beau boulevardier of his period, handsome, dashing, dapper.

He has a keen memory for names. He asked about sports writers, boxers, managers and Broadwayites one after the other. He was nervously knoting his strong white hands as he talked, and the writer noted a bit of adhesive tape over one knuckle of the right hand.

"I did that socking a fellow in here a few days ago," McCoy explained. "He was a big chap and he slaped an old man for no reason at all. I remonstrated with him, and he took a punch at me. So I let him have it—I knocked him cold."

He knocked many others "cold" in his time—Tommy Ryan, Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Billy Stift, Steve O'Donnell, Herr Macke among them.

Few men have lived who could hit like McCoy. It is not surprising to find that some trace of his old ability remains.

"You look in good physical condition," the writer remarked.

"Well, I exercise a good deal," replied McCoy. "I skip the rope, and go through calisthentics. Then I do a lot of boxing with the other prisoners nearly every day. I feel fine."

The bad "booze" that addled his reason at the time of the alleged murder is out of his system, no doubt of that, perhaps for the first time in years.

"What was your last real ring battle?" the writer asked. McCoy smiled. The sombre expression left his eyes, and they fairly danced on the stream of memory.

"It was with Petty Officer Curran," he said. "It took place just before the war in 1914, at Nice, on the Riviera. Curran was Nan English heavyweight of the period.

"The crowd that saw the fight was made up of nice people in evening clothes," McCoy went on. "I thought Curran was a big sap, and that I could take him in any time I wanted to, so I walked out of my corner very nonchalantly.

"I fiddled at him an instant, when he let go a right hand that nailed me flush on the mouth, knocking out some of my teeth and flattening me on the floor.

"I had to do a little thinking while I was down there," said

Wagner Gets Another Try In Ring Meet

Returned to Good Standing; Act is Slap at Officials.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—For the first time since the Walker law, making legal the manly art of assault and battery, became effective in this state six years ago the New York athletic commission has failed to stand behind its officials and reports were to the effect that a general housecleaning is in order.

A minute scrutiny of the records of the men who make and unmake champions with an airy gesture of their little white slips will be the first step taken, it is declared.

In brief, the showdown has come. On Monday night, a referee and two judges collaborated in declaring that Jimmy Goodrich-Kid Wagner bout a draw at the end of ten rounds and ordered two extra periods. Goodrich earned the verdict at the final bell. Seemingly, the officials were the only citizens present who saw the business in this light. Ninety-eight per cent of the crowd declared Wagner an easy winner at the end of ten rounds.

One of the dissenters was the strong, silent man, William Muldoon, and he thought so little of the verdict that, speaking for the commission yesterday, he announced that Wagner would be returned to good standing in the lightweight elimination tourney, from which the Goodrich verdict would have removed him. This was nothing less than an official slap at the judges, Charles Wood and Harold Barnes, and the chances are very good that they will do no more officiating in New York.

The referee, Jack O'Sullivan, voted for Wagner.

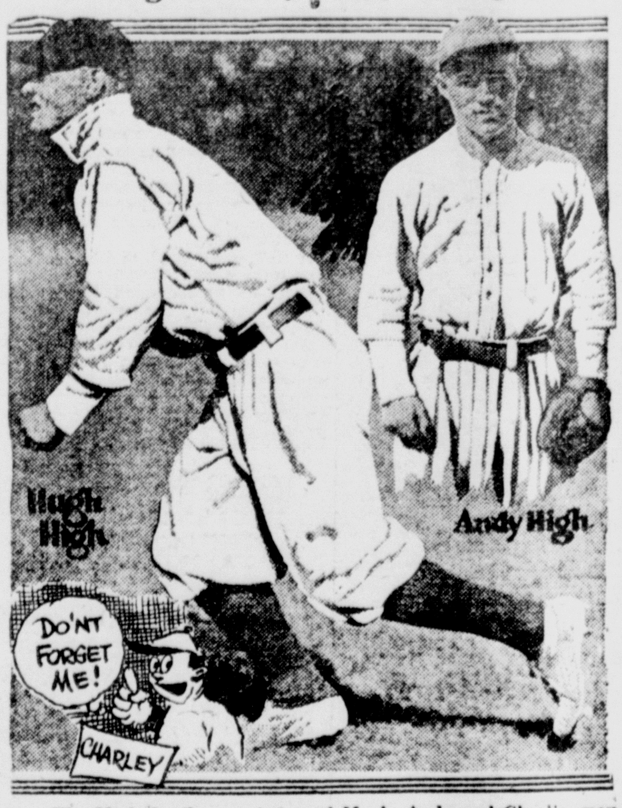

If the commission fine-combs the qualifications of some of its officials and eliminates those whose eyesight is open to doubt, more of the champions will be inclined to appear in New York rings.

Mickey Walker, for example, has steadfastly declined to box here, although Dave Shade's challenge has been on file with the board for many months. Walker stands suspended in this state but is managing to bear up bravely under the impost. He may have missed several big shots in the garden, but he still has his title.

Columbiana Quint Will be Contender In County Tourney

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 25.—Columbiana High school team will be one of the entrants at the Class B tournament to be held at the Salem High gym Friday and Saturday, February 27th and 28th. The other teams to be represented will be Lisbon, East Palestine, Fairfield and Salineville, and according to advance dope, Columbiana should be the winner, as they already hold wins over all these teams with the exception of Salineville which has not been played and which is not considered very strong. Lisbon and East Palestine will furnish the most opposition as they won from Columbiana by close scores on their own floors. The winner of the county tournament will have an opportunity to compete the following week at the district tournament which will probably be held at Akron again this year.

High Family Steppin' High

The High family, consisting of Hugh, Andy and Charlie, may not be the most famous one ever connected with the baseball pastime but right now it is enjoying considerable success. Andy starred with the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, Hughie batted well with Columbus in the A. A. and Charley hit .322 for Portland in the Pacific Coast league.

SISLER LOOKING FOR BETTER 1925 OUTFIT

Browns' Manager Also Expects to Improve His Own Work Quite a Little.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Conceding that his ball club hasn't been greatly improved between seasons, George Sisler nevertheless looks for the St. Louis Browns to step out to better things in 1925, if only for the fact that he himself plans to give his public something bigger and finer in the way of managerial finesse. George is quite frank about himself. He doesn't seem to think that he was a roaring success as a manager in 1924.

"I hopped on the job cold last season," he declared. "I was out of the game entirely in 1923, as everyone knows, and in a way I had to start all over again and learn things that ordinarily would have been second nature to me.

"And I had my own men to study. There is more to managing a ball club than merely wagging a couple of fingers."

First off Sisler plans to exercise more caution in the handling of Dave Danforth, the left-handed young man, although the situation was forced upon Sisler by the collapse of the rest of his staff. Danforth won fifteen of his first twenty-one games last year, but when the others flopped, Sisler had to waft the burden upon David. The latter, being human, finally cracked himself and dropped the last six games he pitched.

Danforth will be used only in his regular turn this season, and Sisler expects him to win at least twenty games.

He looks for almost as much from Joe Bush, culled from the Yankees in the Shocker deal, which was regarded as eminently satisfactory by every one in St. Louis. In addition to getting a pitcher whom Sisler believes is far from passe for a man who had outlived his welcome, Sisler swung Milt Gaston, Yank recruit, and Joe Joe Giard, left hander from Toledo, into the barter and both are believed to be youths of much promise.

Barring the unforseen, the Browns will be much the same ball club, except for the passing of Shocker and the coming of Bush. The infield will be the same, with Sisler on first, McManus at second, Robertson at third and Gerber at shortstop. Bob Lamotte, a shortstopper from Memphis, will join Harry Rice and Sylvester Simon as infield substitutes. Pat Burke, a St. Louis semi-pro, is another candidate.

In the outfield will be Ken Williams, Bill Jacobson and Johnny Tobin, with Herschel Bennett, built along the lines of the late Willie Keeler, pressing Jake and Tobin for a regular job. Joe Evans will be back to play occasionally against southpaw pitching. Elmore, from Bay City, and Mizeur, from Terre Haute, are two recruits to receive spring trials.

Considerable sound has been exploded about Leo Dixon, a young catcher acquired from St. Paul. Hank Severid is aging and there is an opening for a young man willing to start at the bottom and work up.

The pitching staff presents Danforth, Ernie Wingard, Hub Pruett, Elam Vangilder, George Grant and Dixie Davis from the 1924 outfit and Blaeholder, from Tulsa; Lasley, from Butte; Porter, from Alabama; Beck, St. Louis semi-pro; Springer, Detroit semi-pro, and Peterson, from Minnesota, in addition to Bush, Gaston and Giard.

The latest words from Sisler are: "Of course, we expect to be in the pennant race."

The game was one of the fastest church league clashes this season. In all around basketball, the Boulevards outclassed their opponents.

The Boulevards out-scored the Lutherans from the field but erratic foul goal shooting lost them the game. They made four points in 21 tries while the Lutherans tallied twelve points in 22 chances from the foul line.

The Boulevards had the edge on the Lutherans in first quarter, leading by the score of 8 to 3.

In the second quarter the Lutherans got going and they overcame their opponents' lead and during the rest of the period they piled up points that the Parks were unable to overcome.

The Lutherans led at the end of the first half by the score of 18 to 10. The playing in the third quarter was all in favor of the Boulevards and they cut down the Lutheran lead to three points. The score stood 21 to 18 in the Lutherans' favor when the third quarter was over.

The Lutherans maintained their lead all through the final quarter, the Boulevards throwing their chances for victory away with poor shooting from the free throw mark. Field goals by G. Woessner in the last few minutes of play made victory sure for the Lutherans.

G. Wessner, Anthony, Kibble and R. Woessner played well for the Lutherans while Guyton, Barnes and McKee performed in a classy manner for the Boulevards.

In the preliminary contest the Lutheran Juniors won over the First U. P. Juniors by the score of 26 to 17.

Genaro and O'Dowd Meet in 12-round Go at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 25—Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion of America, and Eddie O'Dowd, of Columbus, one of the leading bantams in the midwest, are down for a 12-round bout Thursday night at the Rayen-Wood auditorium.

Genaro is the only boxer who has won a referee's decision over Pancho Villa, the world's champion, before Villa got his scrap with Wilde, former champ.

In meeting O'Dowd, Genaro has picked nothing soft. Eddie has been taking on some of the best in the country and will provide the New Yorker with plenty of opposition.

George Meenehan, from Farrell, Pa., will take on George Harris, a socker from Niles, in the first bout.

The second will bring together Bad News Taylor from Donora, Pa., and Midget Mike O'Dowd, a hard puncher.

Bout three presents Patsy Flanagan, with either Johnny Moore, of East Youngstown, or Young Sweeney of Steubenville.

Prior to the man scrap, Maxie Holub will tackle Frankie Van, of Cleveland. The first bout will start at 8:15.

Bert Colima, Coast Star, is Kayoed by Walker in Seventh

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Any popular idea that Bert Colima, Los Angeles-Mexican boxer and middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is other than a medicore pugilist were knocked higher than the equally well known cocked hat today, as a result of his experience here last night at the hands of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion. The West's pride was knocked out in seven rounds.

Without so much as disturbing a single thread of purple silk which encased his long muscled legs, the New Jersey boxer wove a mesmeric speel around his opponent, socked him for a nine count in the first round, beat his blue veined body purple in the next five canters and sent him rolling to his own corner in the seventh.

Tremaine Is Winner Over Bantam King

Clevelander Given Decision Over Martin in 12 Rounds.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—Although Eddie Cannonball Martin, world's bantamweight champion, and his backers vigorously protested, Carl Tremaine, of Cleveland, was awarded the referee's decision at the end of twelve rounds of furious fighting at public hall here last night.

The battle was one of the best ever staged here, and in the opinion of a majority of the fans and sports writers the decision was a just one. Tremaine carried the fighting to Martin all the way, and had a large margin in a majority of rounds. Martin, however, scored the only knockdown of the fight, which came early in the second round. It was a right swing to the ear, and as Tremaine got back to his feet the champion worked hard for a knockout but the bell saved the Clevelander.

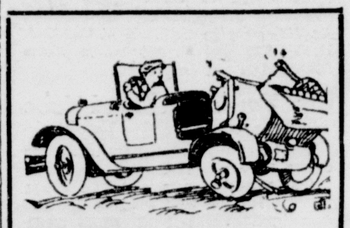

Martin also had the best of the last round, but in most of the others Tremaine had a wide margin. Martin's title was not at stake. Both weighed over the bantamweight limit.

Jackie Nicholls, of Detroit, led Chuck Feldman, of Cleveland, all the way in the eight round semi-final.

Joe Lohman of Toledo, was given the referee's decision over Tommy Burns, of Detroit, and Joe Hoffman, Cleveland flyweight, won from Young Irish Akron in the curtain raiser.

District Bowlers to Clash In Duckpin Tournament

Runyon Says

Kid McCoy Talks
Tells of His Last Fight
He Can Still Punch
And Proves It In Jail
He Looks Very Well

By Damon Runyon
Copyright, 1925, International Feature Service, Inc.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The writer visited Kid McCoy in the county jail here the other day.

McCoy came down from an upper floor of the jail in an elevator and sat at a little desk, one of a long row of little desks in the jail office, at which other prisoners sat talking with visitors.

McCoy wore a loosely fitting suit of blue denim, like overalls. His shirt was open at the throat, showing his hairy chest. He must weigh two hundred pounds. He looked big and burly.

His face had a pasty color, the unhealthy looking fish-belly white that authors call "jail pallor." It comes of long walling up, away from the sunshine.

But McCoy's brown eyes were clear. He walked with firm, sure step. His handclasp as he greeted the writer was strong. In the brown eyes was a sombre, sad expression as McCoy faced the writer across the desk, and said, quietly:

"TOUGH BREAK, ISN'T IT?"

He meant his status.

McCoy is somewhat bald. What is left of his hair is gray.

He is now fifty-one years old.

Pugilistic history rates him as one of the greatest fighters that ever lived, a master-boxer, a great hitter.

He was in his fistic prime some twenty-five years ago. His personality, his appearance, his love affairs, his skill, made him one of the most talked of men before the public.

Now he is under prison sentence for the alleged murder of a woman in Los Angeles. McCoy insists he didn't kill the woman. The evidence was all against him.

McCoy talked very little about his case to the writer. He seemed mainly interested in old friends in New York.

In his day McCoy was a familiar and famous figure along Broadway. He was the beau boulevardier of his period, handsome, dashing, dapper.

He has a keen memory for names. He asked about sports writers, boxers, managers and Broadwayites one after the other. He was nervously knoting his strong white hands as he talked, and the writer noted a bit of adhesive tape over one knuckle of the right hand.

"I did that socking a fellow in here a few days ago," McCoy explained. "He was a big chap and he slaped an old man for no reason at all. I remonstrated with him, and he took a punch at me. So I let him have it—I knocked him cold."

He knocked many others "cold" in his time—Tommy Ryan, Peter Maher, Joe Choynski, Billy Stift, Steve O'Donnell, Herr Macke among them.

Few men have lived who could hit like McCoy. It is not surprising to find that some trace of his old ability remains.

"You look in good physical condition," the writer remarked.

"Well, I exercise a good deal," replied McCoy. "I skip the rope, and go through calisthentics. Then I do a lot of boxing with the other prisoners nearly every day. I feel fine."

The bad "booze" that addled his reason at the time of the alleged murder is out of his system, no doubt of that, perhaps for the first time in years.

"What was your last real ring battle?" the writer asked. McCoy smiled. The sombre expression left his eyes, and they fairly danced on the stream of memory.

"It was with Petty Officer Curran," he said. "It took place just before the war in 1914, at Nice, on the Riviera. Curran was Nap English heavyweight of the period.

"The crowd that saw the fight was made up of nice people in evening clothes," McCoy went on. "I thought Curran was a big sap, and that I could take him in any time I wanted to, so I walked out of my corner very nonchalantly.

"I fiddled at him an instant, when he let go a right hand that nailed me flush on the mouth, knocking out some of my teeth and flattening me on the floor.

"I had to do a little thinking while I was down there," said

Wagner Gets Another Try In Ring Meet

Returned to Good Standing; Act is Slap at Officials.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—For the first time since the Walker law, making legal the manly art of assault and battery, became effective in this state six years ago the New York athletic commission has failed to stand behind its officials and reports were to the effect that a general housecleaning is in order.

A minute scrutiny of the records of the men who make and unmake champions with an airy gesture of their little white slips will be the first step taken, it is declared.

In brief, the showdown has come. On Monday Eight, a referee and two judges collaborated in declaring that Jimmy Goodrich-Kid Wagner bout a draw at the end of ten rounds and ordered two extra periods. Goodrich earned the verdict at the final bell. Seemingly, the officials were the only citizens present who saw the business in this light. Ninety-eight per cent of the crowd declared Wagner an easy winner at the end of ten rounds.

One of the dissenters was the strong, silent man, William Muldoon, and he thought so little of the verdict that, speaking for the commission yesterday, he announced that Wagner would be returned to good standing in the lightweight elimination tourney, from which the Goodrich verdict would have removed him. This was nothing less than an official slap at the judges, Charles Wood and Harold Barnes, and the chances are very good that they will do no more officiating in New York.

The referee, Jack O'Sullivan, voted for Wagner.

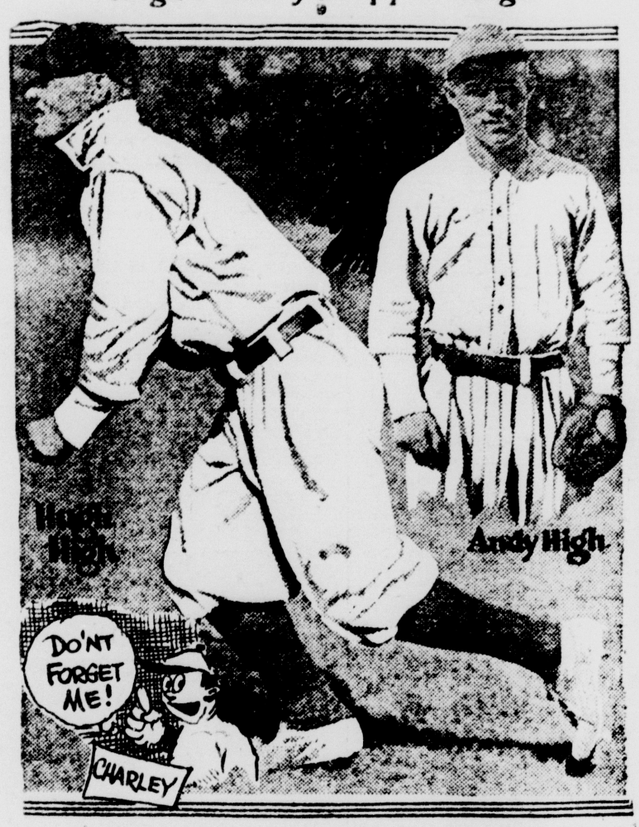

If the commission fine-combs the qualifications of some of its officials and eliminates those whose eyesight is open to doubt, more of the champions will be inclined to appear in New York rings.

Mickey Walker, for example, has steadfastly declined to box here, although Dave Shade's challenge has been on file with the board for many months. Walker stands suspended in this state but is managing to bear up bravely under the impost. He may have missed several big shots in the garden, but he still has his title.

Columbiana Quint Will be Contender In County Tourney

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 25.—Columbiana High school team will be one of the entrants at the Class B tournament to be held at the Salem High gym Friday and Saturday, February 27th and 28th. The other teams to be represented will be Lisbon, East Palestine, Fairfield and Salineville, and according to advance dope, Columbiana should be the winner, as they already hold wins over all these teams with the exception of Salineville which has not been played and which is not considered very strong. Lisbon and East Palestine will furnish the most opposition as they won from Columbiana by close scores on their own floors. The winner of the county tournament will have an opportunity to compete the following week at the district tournament which will probably be held at Akron again this year.

High Family Steppin' High

The High family, consisting of Hugh, Andy and Charlie, may not be the most famous one ever connected with the baseball pastime but right now it is enjoying considerable success. Andy starred with the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, Hughie batted well with Columbus in the A. A. and Charley hit .322 for Portland in the Pacific Coast league.

SISLER LOOKING FOR BETTER 1925 OUTFIT

Browns' Manager Also Expects to Improve His Own Work Quite a Little.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Conceding that his ball club hasn't been greatly improved between seasons, George Sisler nevertheless looks for the St. Louis Browns to step out to better things in 1925, if only for the fact that he himself plans to give his public something bigger and finer in the way of managerial finesse. George is quite frank about himself. He doesn't seem to think that he was a roaring success as a manager in 1924.

"I hopped on the job cold last season," he declared. "I was out of the game entirely in 1923, as everyone knows, and in a way I had to start all over again and learn things that ordinarily would have been second nature to me.

"And I had my own men to study. There is more to managing a ball club than merely wagging a couple of fingers."

Get out the fountain pen, sign on the dotted line, and become an official entry in the Inter-City Duckpin Tournament which will be held on March 9-12 on the Liberty alleys under the promotion of Manager Steele.

Sixteen prizes—all cash—will make up the award list, Steel announced today. All will be worth shooting for, he asserted.

Over 100 duckpin artists from the city and surrounding territory have filed entries for the tournament. Many more are expected before the lists close, prior to hostilities.

Lodges, clubs, and various organizations in the district have placed their favorite stars among the long list of contenders in an effort to cut into the prize list. Individual performers recognized ability cast covetous eyes on the awards.

There will be singles and doubles, the contender bowling three games each, total pins to count.

The bowlers will launch their assault on the pins on Monday evening, March 9, at 6 o'clock. Warfare will cease at 11. This schedule will be adhered to throughout the four days of the tournament.

The entry list so far includes many of the district's foremost exponents of the game. Unusual interest has attached itself to the event.

Genaro and O'Dowd Meet in 12-round Go at Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 25—Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion of America, and Eddie O'Dowd, of Columbus, one of the leading bantams in the midwest, are down for a 12-round bout Thursday night at the Rayen Wood auditorium.

Genaro is the only boxer who has won a referee's decision over Pancho Villa, the world's champion, before Villa got his scrap with Wilde, former champ.

In meeting O'Dowd, Genaro has picked nothing soft. Eddie has been taking on some of the best in the country and will provide the New Yorker with plenty of opposition.

George Meenehan, from Farrell, Pa., will take on George Harris, a socker from Niles, in the first bout.

The second will bring together Bad News Taylor from Donora, Pa., and Midget Mike O'Dowd, a hard puncher.

Bout three presents Patsy Flanagan, with either Johnny Moore, of East Youngstown, or Young Sweeney of Steubenville.

Prior to the man scrap, Maxie Holub will tackle Frankie Van, of Cleveland. The first bout will start at 8:15.

Bert Colima, Coast Star, is Kayoed by Walker in Seventh

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 25.—Any popular idea that Bert Colima, Los Angeles-Mexican boxer and middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is other than a medicore pugilist were knocked higher than the equally well known cocked hat today, as a result of his experience here last night at the hands of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion. The West's pride was knocked out in seven rounds.

Without so much as disturbing a single thread of purple silk which encased his long muscled legs, the New Jersey boxer wove a mesmeric speel around his opponent, socked him for a nine count in the first round, beat his blue veined body purple in the next five canters and sent him rolling to his own corner in the seventh.

Tremaine Is Winner Over Bantam King

Clevelander Given Decision Over Martin in 12 Rounds.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—Although Eddie Cannonball Martin, world's bantamweight champion, and his backers vigorously protested, Carl Tremaine, of Cleveland, was awarded the referee's decision at the end of twelve rounds of furious fighting at public hall here last night.

The battle was one of the best ever staged here, and in the opinion of a majority of the fans and sports writers the decision was a just one. Tremaine carried the fighting to Martin all the way, and had a large margin in a majority of rounds. Martin, however, scored the only knockdown of the fight, which came early in the second round. It was a right swing to the ear, and as Tremaine got back to his feet the champion worked hard for a knockout but the bell saved the Clevelander.

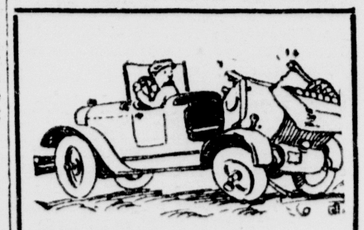

Martin also had the best of the last round, but in most of the others Tremaine had a wide margin. Martin's title was not at stake. Both weighed over the bantamweight limit.

Jackie Nicholls, of Detroit, led Chuck Feldman, of Cleveland, all the way in the eight round semi-final.

Joe Lohman of Toledo, was given the referee's decision over Tommy Burns, of Detroit, and Joe Hoffman, Cleveland flyweight, won from Young Irish Akron in the curtain raiser.

Hoppe and Cochran To Meet in Second Round of Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The International 18.2 billiard championship tournament entered its second round today bringing Willie Hoppe, champion, back into play against Welker Cochran, and Kamekichi Suzuki, Jap star, against Edouard Horemans of Belgium. All today's players, except Hoppe, were defeated in their first round matches.

Yesterday's matches brought championship prospects to Jake Schaeffer, who easily defeated Horemans, 400 to 161, in ten innings and counted the high run of the tournament to date, 130.

Erich Hagenlacher defeated Cochran in the afternoon 400 to 347 in 19 innings.

Runyon Says:

McCoy. "I got to one knee and took the count in that position, and all the time I was grinding my right glove in the resin.

"When I got up again my glove was well loaded with resin and I feinted Curran into an opening and then smashed him with my right. The punch cut his face open but didn't seem to phase him.

"I wasn't in very good condition and I had to do a lot of THINKING. A little later on in the bout I suddenly pointed to the floor and said, 'Well, look at that, will you!' Curran turned his head to look and I clipped him on the chin and knocked him flat.

"He was up in an instant and fell into a clinch and said 'Hi eye, Kid, wot'd you want to do a thing like that for?

"'Why,' I said, 'you didn't see what I meant—look there!'

"I pointed again, but old P. O. had had his lesson and he wouldn't turn his head again," said Kid McCoy.

The brown eyes seemed bright. He laughed a hearty laugh. McCoy's humor was always tinged with cruelty. Many other men mistake cruelty for FUN.

If you knew McCoy for what he was—great fighter, half-fellow-well-met, you have to feel sorry for him.

He is getting old. The gayest youth that Fistiana ever knew is far behind him. He must spend what should be the best years of a man's life in prison.

Booze did it, no doubt of that.

It is a heavy price to pay for booze.

U. S. Emphasizes Mail Sanctity

Due to the many requests of Marshals, sheriffs and other law enforcement officers, that mail carriers open first class mail addressed to crime suspects, in the hope of getting some clew, the Postoffice Department has issued a warning to all who handle the mails that htese requests if granted render a postal employe liable to prosecution. The sanctity of first class mail is held paramount to the search for criminals. The government provides for such co-operation with law officers as is possible in another way.

VERSE AND WORSE

By Larry Flint

Purpose.

I'd rather not have toiled at all than never toiled for this:
The waiting window, lighted bright,
and someone's waiting kiss.
I'd rather not have struggled long if only just to hold
The failing candlestick of fame or only tarnished gold.
It isn't how men fight the flight or
how they face the fray;
But what they battle for to claim at
ending of the day.

I'd rather not have borne the load if weight I had to bear
Was not to build for better things for those a-waiting there
When I come home. I'd rather left
the sabre on the shelf
Then to have wielded it for only
glory for myself.
It isn't how men tread the lane or how they do and die
Or how they sow that they might reap at harvest time—but way.

I'd rather never start the trail unless
it leads me to
A place where waiting arms reach up,
where hungry hearts are true.
I'd rather not have sought at all than just to somebody find
The things I wanted most were just
the things I'd left behind.
For toiling isn't worth it if you toil
on fruitless loam.
I'd rather never start the trail unless
it leads me—home.

Hoppe and Cochran To Meet in Second Round of Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The International 18.2 billiard championship tournament entered its second round today bringing Willie Hoppe, champion, back into play against Welker Cochran, and Kamekichi Suzuki, Jap star, against Edouard Horemans of Belgium. All today's players, except Hoppe, were defeated in their first round matches.

Yesterday's matches brought championship prospects to Jake Schaeffer, who easily defeated Horemans, 400 to 161, in ten innings and counted the high run of the tournament to date, 130.

Erich Hagenlacher defeated Cochran in the afternoon 400 to 347 in 19 innings.

Runyon Says:

McCoy. "I got to one knee and took the count in that position, and all the time I was grinding my right glove in the resin.

"When I got up again my glove was well loaded with resin and I feinted Curran into an opening and then smashed him with my right. The punch cut his face open but didn't seem to phase him.

"I wasn't in very good condition and I had to do a lot of THINKING. A little later on in the bout I suddenly pointed to the floor and said, 'Well, look at that, will you!' Curran turned his head to look and I clipped him on the chin and knocked him flat.

"He was up in an instant and fell into a clinch and said 'Hi sye, Kid, wot'd you want to do a thing like that for?

"Why,' I said, 'you didn't see what I meant—look there!'

"I pointed again, but old P. O. had had his lesson and he wouldn't turn his head again," said Kid McCoy.

The brown eyes seemed bright. He laughed a hearty laugh. McCoy's humor was always tinged with cruelty. Many other men mistake cruelty for FUN.

If you knew McCoy for what he was—great fighter, half-fellow-well-met, you have to feel sorry for him.

He is getting old. The gayest youth that Fistiana ever knew is far behind him. He must spend what should be the best years of a man's life in prison.

Booze did it, no doubt of that.

It is a heavy price to pay for booze.

Yesterday's Puzzle Answered.

U. S. Emphasizes Mail Sanctity

Due to the many requests of Marshals, sheriffs and other law enforcement officers, that mail carriers open first class mail addressed to crime suspects, in the hope of getting some clew, the Postoffice Department has issued a warning to all who handle the mails that htese requests if granted render a postal employe liable to prosecution. The sanctity of first class mail is held paramount to the search for criminals. The government provides for such co-operation with law officers as is possible in another way.

VERSE AND WORSE

By Larry Flint

Purpose.

I'd rather not have toiled at all than never toiled for this:
The waiting window, lighted bright,
and someone's waiting kiss.
I'd rather not have struggled long if only just to hold
The failing candlestick of fame or only tarnished gold.
It isn't how men fight the flight or
how they face the fray;
But what they battle for to claim at
ending of the day.

I'd rather not have borne the load if weight I had to bear
Was not to build for better things for those a-waiting there
When I come home. I'd rather left the sabre on the sheif
Then to have wielded it for only
glory for myself.
It isn't how men tread the lane or how they do and die
Or how they sow that they might reap at harvest time—but way.

I'd rather never start the trail unless
it leads me to
A place where waiting arms reach up,
where hungry hearts are true.
I'd rather not have sought at all than just to somebody find
The things I wanted most were just
the things I'd left behind.
For toiling isn't worth it if you toil
on fruitless loam.
I'd rather never start the trail unless
it leads me—home.

Gold and Silver About Equal.

Statisticians complete some enormous figures at times when they are seeking a total for something, as for instance the amount of gold and silver in circulation in the world, or if not in circulation, accounted for. They have set forth the value of gold is roughly speaking, $18,160,874,536, whereas the value of silver is about $16,256,913,158.

NERVOUS STOMACH SHOULD BE TONED TO RIGHT SPEED

Charleston, W. Va., Boarding House Mistress Who Found Right Key Through Ka-di-ok.

MRS. GEORGE GABBERT, Charleston, W. Va.

Mrs. George Gabbert, of 211 Goshorn street, Charleston, W. Va., has discovered a new note in the human musical scale, and a key which tones down the nervous speed of a disordered stomach.

For some time past she had suffered with stomach trouble and nervousness, until she heard of Ka-di-ok, the wonderful herbal tonic and system builder. After taking a treatment of Ka-di-ok, which, by the way, is now a household remedy in her medicine chest, she said to the Ka-di-ok representative:

"I am so glad we found Ka-di-ok. It induces good sound sleep, and as my appetite was off, I can now eat because my stomach is right. Ka-di-ok quiets a nervous stomach down to the right speed and makes your nerves right. The results are more than satisfactory." Mrs. Gabbart's husband also was benefitted by taking Ka-di-ok, and she says she feels grateful for his improvement.

Ka-di-ok is also recommended for kidney and liver trouble, rheumatism, bad blood, indigestion, gas on the stomach, heart pains, indigestion, auto-intoxication, bad blood, and other symptoms of a disordered and run-down stomach condition.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. Sixth Street.

COUNTY OFFICERS PROBING ROBBERY

Beaver county authorities are investigating the robbery of the Hays general store in Smith's Ferry which occurred early Sunday morning when goods valued at $75 were taken. The culprits did considerable damage to the stock they did not take. Officials are inclined to the belief that an auto was used by the thieves in making their escape. Entrance was gained by cutting the glass out of a door.

Panama Most Costly Canal.

Although the present generations cannot recall so readily the tremendous difficulties encountered in the early days when the French were tackling the construction of the Panama Canal, they do probably know that it was a most costly work. In round numbers the cost of it was $375,000,000, more than had ever been spent in any similar project in the world.

U. S. Without Rubber Trees.

With regards to its rubber consumption, the United States is in a peculiar position, in that it has no territory where the rubber trees grow on a commercial scale, although it has possessions where these trees could be grown extensively. England, on the other hand, some years ago planted rubber trees in some of its tropical and semi-trpoical possessions.
